THE PRESIDENT IS 60 — President Richard Nixon relaxes during an interview in his White House office on his 60th birthday. He said the way to beat advancing age is to avoid boredom, look at the future and — above all — to have young people around. (AP Wirephoto)

Jury hears Watergate evidence

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government prosecutor said today the seven Watergate defendants were operating under an assignment to sniff out plans for demonstrations against Republican speakers and uncover embarrassing facts about Democrats.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Earl J. Silbert, in his opening address to the jury, said the prosecution would try to prove that the operations were conducted under the direction of G. Gordon Liddy, a former White House and Treasury Department aide. He was general counsel for the Finance Committee to Re-elect the President at the time of the breakin at Democratic National Committee headquarters in Washington's Watergate complex last July 17.

Silbert told the jury that Liddy was given the espionage assignment by Jeb Stuart Magruder, formerly top lieutenant in the White House communications office and deputy director of President Nixon's reelection campaign, and Herbert Porter, scheduling director of the Committee for the Re-election of the President. Porter was also chief of the program of surrogate speakers who did much of Nixon's campaign in last year's presidential election.

The prosecution's opening statement to the jury was the first indication of what approach the government will take in trying to prove its case against the seven men. They are accused of conspiring to break into and bug the Democratic party headquarters and the campaign offices of Sen. George McGovern, who later became the Democrats' presidential nominee.

The trial began after selection of a jury described by a defense lawyer as "normal people."

Gas shortages hit Deep South

Arctic cold heightens weather problems

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Millions shivered today as an intense outbreak of arctic cold settled over much of the nation, sending temperatures below freezing deep into the South.

Sub zero cold enveloped the entire region from the Rockies to the Great Lakes.

Natural gas shortages in Louisiana and Mississippi caused cutbacks to industrial users, and inadequate pipeline facilities caused similar problems to Texas industry. Top priority throughout the Southeast went to homes and hospitals. Many schools were ordered closed.

About 148,000 Atlanta area residents spent a third straight night without heat or lights following Sunday's ice storm, and officials said many face two more days of similar discomfort.

Oklahoma's governor called a special meeting of rescue agencies to prepare for an onslaught of snow and bitter cold barreling across that state. Many Oklahomans were snowbound and livestock was stranded or killed by weather conditions in the past few days.

In the West, snow fell from the mountains of California through the Plateau region and from the central and southern Rockies to the central and southern Plains. Kansas was under a heavy-snow watch.

Gale warnings were posted for the Pacific Northwest coast and travel advisories were issued for the Sierra Nevada mountains, Utah, Colorado and central mountains of Arizona. Heavy-snow warnings were posted for the northern and central mountains of New Mexico.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from33 at Bozeman, Mont., to 69 at Key West, Fla.

Conserve gas, DP&L urges

The Dayton Power and Light Co. is urging its customers to conserve as much natural gas as they can.

Colder than normal temperatures this winter have made the shortage of natural gas even more serious. In November and December natural gas consumption was 7 per cent more than DP&L's gas allotment.

All natural gas customers are "strongly" encouraged to take these steps to conserve natural gas:

1. Reduce heating thermostats as low as possible.

2 Avoid frequent re-settings and always make gradual adjustments.

3. Clean or replace furnace filters several times during the heating season.

4. Draw draperies over large windows to prevent heat loss. Windows facing sun should be left uncovered to let in heat.

5. Avoid unnecessary opening of outside doors. Keep storm windows and doors tightly closed.

6. Close dampers on fireplaces when not in use.

7. Keep inner doors to unheated areas closed. Avoid blocking warm air registers or cold air returns.

8. Do not set water heater thermostat too high. Set at 135 degrees or less. However, water for dishwashers may need to be heated to 150 degrees or as recommended.

9. Plan gas oven use so that more than one item can be cooked or baked at the same time. Complete meals can often be prepared using the same oven temperature.

10. Plan laundering so that full loads are washed and dried whenever possible.

Industrial customers having alternate fuel facilities have already, at DP&L's request, been asked to switch away from natural gas to their alternate fuel.

All other industrial and commercial customers are being called and asked to voluntarily conserve natural gas as much as possible until further notice.

If further curtailment of natural gas should become necessary, residences and other consumers providing for human needs (such as hospitals) would continue to be served.

Weather

Partly cloudy tonight. Lows from 5 to 15., a chance of snow Thursday with highs from the lower to upper 20s.

Wage-price plan nearly completed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon is nearing a final decision on the shape of Phase 3 wage-price controls amid indications the new economic rules may be imposed before April 30, when the old ones expire.

In fact, some officials hinted that the President may decide to put Phase 3 into effect within a few weeks, around the time that a new budget and his new economic message go to Congress.

The White House said Nixon, after receiving recommendations from his economic advisers Tuesday morning, "very possibly" will make a final decision on the new wage-price-control system this week.

Presidential Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler ruled out any controls at the farm-produce level, but otherwise gave no details on how the new system would look.

In past weeks, administration economic policy-makers have hinted that rent controls might be dropped in Phase 3 because they are too burdensome, that the profit-margin restraint would be lightened on businesses, and that coverage of the program might be limited to the nation's largest businesses and labor unions.

But officials, after learning of Nixon's intentions to make an announcement on the new program soon, said the President may go in a different direction.

While Phase 3 controls probably will be no tighter as far as food prices are concerned, the administration is expected to launch a vigorous effort to step up food supplies, thus putting downward pressure on prices. Food prices are controlled now at the wholesale and retail level.

The administration has pledged that it will make a special effort to cut food prices this year. The enormity of the problem was demonstrated again Tuesday with the release of December's Wholesale Price Index.

The bureau of Labor Statistics reported that wholesale prices went up by a sharp 1.8 per cent last month, the biggest increase since January of 1951. Food prices were responsible for most of that increese.

As for the economic-stabilization law, the administration is reported leaning to a one-year extension, with no major changes in the law. It has reasoned that the control program must be thought of as temporary, and that a permanent system would make labor and business react differently to wages and prices and force up inflationary pressures.

Wage freeze protested in Britain

LONDON (AP) — Major British airports and government offices were brought to a standstill today by thousands of government employes who staged the first big union revolt against Prime Minister Edward Heath's wage freeze.

The nationwide protest hit close to home for Heath. Work at his Cabinet office at 10 Downing St. was slowed for several hours when 140 clerks walked out.

They later handed in a protest letter demanding Heath lift the freeze. But indications were the prime minister will extend it until April.

Heath imposed the freeze Nov. 6 in a bid to curb inflation. It meant all pay claims were shelved until the government lifted the restrictions.

The government employes' unions charge the freeze halted a Jan. 1 review of salaries. They are demanding a pay increase free of all restrictions. However, Heath has refused similar demands from other unions in the last few weeks.

The rebel civil servants are members of two unions that represent 400,000 government employes.

Thousands of airline passengers at British airports faced long delays as 2,000 air traffic controllers, customs and immigration officers and administrative staff, all civil servants, staged a three-hour stoppage. As many as 60 flights were delayed at London's Heathrow Airport and thousands of passengers jammed unmanned immigration checkpoints.

Prestwick Airport in Scotland and Manchester Airport, two key provincial centers, also were hit by the walkout.

New Orleans sniper conspiracy possible

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Police have identified the sniper they killed on a hotel rooftop as a young Kansas black whose minister says he "hated white folks."

Supt. Clarence Giarrusso told a news conference Tuesday that the sniper was Mark J. Essex, 23, of Emporia and added: "There's some evidence of a conspiracy by other people, but I cannot positively tell you yet."

Six persons were shot to death and 17 injured in the sniping incident.

Giarrusso also said:

— Ballistics prove a .44 magnum carbine found next to Essex' body was the same weapon that killed a young police cadet and wounded a policeman in New Orleans on New Year's Eve.

— Police "have evidence that would lead to both conclusions" — that Essex was the only sniper on the roof of the DownTown Howard Johnson's hotel, and that one or more fellow snipers were with him and escaped.

Asked whether his reference to conspiracy meant he had evidence Essex belonged to a militant organization, Giarrusso said:

"I'm not certain about that yet ... (but) conspiracy in the sense that it may have been two, three or four people; a small number — you know, it doesn't take many to form a conspiracy — who were intent to kill people. And that's the sum and essence of it."

He said the carbine was the same weapon that cut down cadet Alfred Harrell, 19, as he stepped in front of police headquarters 10 days ago and wounded Patrolman Edwin C. Hosli Sr., 18 minutes later a few blocks away.

At the time of the New Year's Eve shootings, Giarrusso said, "We had some information — reason to believe people were going to hurt someone when Harrell and Hosli were taken to Charity Hospital."

On the basis of that information, during the sniping he deployed extra officers at the hospital, where following a brief disturbance a man with a shotgun was arrested.

In Essex' hometown of Emporia, the Rev. W. A. Chambers, his family's minister, said young Essex had developed a militant dislike for whites when he came home from the Navy.

In Washington, the Navy said Essex was given a general discharge for unsuitability Feb. 10, 1970. A spokesman said this type of discharge involves "character and behavior disorders" but would not elaborate.

Meanwhile, police debated whether there was more than one sniper.

Giarrusso gave these reasons to think Essex wasn't alone:

— After his death, a helicopter which participated in a police seige on the hotel was fired upon. "You'd have to assume the police hit the plane (if Essex was alone). This is possible, but highly improbable."

— After Essex died, several policemen saw another person on the roof. "There were very, very many shots taken at this person while this person, or this ghost allegedly moved.... I can't believe that the policemen ... were all hallucinating."

— Policemen heard foul language and shouting and talking on the rooftop after Essex was killed.

Giarrusso cited these reasons for believing Essex acted alone.

$145 million judgment against Hughes firm voided

WASHINGTON (AP) — On a 6-2 vote the Supreme Court today threw out a $145-million judgment against the Hughes Tool Co.

Hughes Tool is owned wholly by Howard R. Hughes, the recluse industrialist.

The award, to Trans World Airlines, was more than 30 times larger than any other judgment in an American court.

It was gathering interest at the rate of 7½ per cent over the last few years.

Justice William O. Douglas, speaking for the court, said the default judgment recommended in 1968 by former U.S. Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell was invalid since the transactions that were the basis of TWA's suit had been approved by the Civil Aeronautics Board and conduct approved by the CAB is immune from antitrust liability.

The dissenters in a case now 12 years old were Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and Justice Harry A. Blackmun.

Brownell, acting as a special master in the case, had concluded Hughes Tool violated antitrust law because of its failure to purchase jet aircraft for TWA in the 1950s. Hughes Tool then owned more than 78 per cent of TWA stock.

Brownell's judgment was confirmed in 1969 by U.S. Dist. Judge Charles M. Metzner of New York and in 1971 by the U.S. Circuit Court in New York.

Douglas said the circuit court erred when it rejected Toolco's defense that the purchase of the aircraft and the financing were transactions under the control of the CAB and therefore immune from the antitrust laws.

Adm. Moorer had no part in bombing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff says the only reason given him for the heavy bombing of the Hanoi-Haiphong area last month was that it was a continuation of the administration's bomb-or-negotiate policy.

Adm. Thomas H. Moorer, asked by newsmen if the White House had given him a reason for ordering the bombing resumed Dec. 18, replied: "No, the situation was that the restrictions imposed in October were lifted."

Moorer, the Pentagon's top military strategist, talked with reporters Tuesday after briefing the House Appropriations and Armed Services committees on the 12 days of stepped-up bombing. His appearance marked the first administration response to congressional calls for a complete explanation of the bombing's effectiveness and the decision to resume it.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird testified Monday that President Nixon's May 8 policy to bomb North Vietnam's industrial heartland and mine its key ports was suspended amid reports in October that peace was at hand. Laird said the bombing above the 20th Parallel was resumed when a settlement did not materialize.

Peacetalks continue in secret

PARIS (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger and Le Duc Tho met today in the third meeting of their new secret peace session in suburban Gif sur Yvette. Tho was host in the villa owned by the French Communist party.

For the third time in succession, the two delegations avoided any face-to-face encounter in public view. The sessions opened Monday in an atmosphere of apparent icy confrontation.

Kissinger and Tho maintained a news blackout on their talks.

They conferred for a total of 10½ hours Monday and Tuesday. Although the atmosphere appeared to relax somewhat Tuesday, there was no indication that the obstacles to agreement were being cleared away.

Ohio Assembly starts work

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The 110th General Assembly will begin hearings on bills next week as House Speaker A. G. Lancione gears up to get first-year business out of the way by July 1.

Both houses are to reconvene Wednesday afternoon to conclude their second week. They go back to work next Tuesday.

A Senate bill introduced Tuesday would lower the legal age of majority from 21 to 18 except for the purchase of alcoholic beverages.

It was sponsored by Sen. Stanley Aronoff, R-8 Cincinnati, who sponsored the U.S. constitutional amendment ratification resolution lowering the voting age.

Ohio became the 38th and deciding state to approve the amendment, which gave 18-year-olds the vote.

Aronoff, in the last session, wanted to give 18-year-olds all rights of majority, but was thwarted because many legislators balked over drinking privileges being included.

"I think this is a good proposal, and I don't think the drinking aspect is that important," Aronoff said. He deleted it before trying again.

A Republican attempt to embarrass the new Democratic majority in the House was thwarted when the lower chamber adopted new rules, promising open committee meetings unless the membership unanimously agreed on closing them.

Rep. Norman Murdock, R-21 Cincinnati, wanted it written in the new rules that all meetings would be open to the press and public.

Democrats quickly countered that Republicans had kept the Rules committee closed until the last year. They said there was no need to put in writing something Republicans had never followed.

"I assure you there will be no secret meeting of the Rules Committee as long as I'm on it," said Majority Leader Barney Quilter, D-47 Toledo. "I know the speaker feels the same way."

A bipartisan resolution was adopted in the House requesting the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the federal Office of Management and Budget to immediately release emergency funds for relief of Ohio farmers, hampered by damp weather from getting their crops in.

Bills were offered in both the Senate and House to permit couples to file their state income tax by either joint or individual returns.

Ohio tax sharing outlays listed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John Gilligan's proposals for spending $92.3 million of Ohio's 1972-1973 share of federal revenue sharing funds includes a $34.3 million allocation for vocational education.

It also calls for $18.5 million for various recreational improvements by the Natural Resources Department, and $3.8 million for a new program to subsidize bus fares of elderly and handicapped citizens who rely on mass transit for transportation.

Following is a summary of what the administration bill provides:

Department of Education — $34.3 million for construction and equipping of buildings for vocational education in areas of greatest need to be determined by the department.

Natural Resources — $18.5 million to acquire land, develop existing parks and trails, and increase access to Lake Erie beaches and state fishing facilities. Park land would be acquired at Punderson State Park ($300,000), Alum Creek ($400,000), Caesar Creek ($400,000), Buck Creek ($400,000), Stonelick ($300,000), Portage Lakes ($200,000), and Beaver Creek ($400,000).

For Lake Erie beach development, the governor proposed spending $3.7 million on projects to include Toledo, $300,000; Sandusky, $600,000; Lorain-Elyria, $800,000, and Cleveland, $2 million.

Other park allocations would include: Kelley's Island, $1.2 million; Cuyahoga Valley Park, $4 million; Great Seal State Park at Mount Logan near Chillicothe, $450,000; and state trails, $500,000, including a proposed 110-mile northcentral bikeway from Mount Gilead to McConnellsville which would have top priority.

Additional development and acquisition of fishing facilities would include Stillwater River, $100,000; Lake St. Marys, $100,000; Indian Lake, $100,000; Maumee River, $200,000; and Tuscarawas River, $200,000.

Among other projects envisioned by the bill are roadside camping areas near interstate highway rest stops and scenic river development.

Department of Public Works — $1.5 million each for the fire and police training academies and $756,000 as the state's share of armory costs for Youngstown-Warren and Alliance. An allocation of $500,000 would be set aside for expansion of the central crime laboratory of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation and Identification at London.

Ohio Board of Regents — $2 million for equipment for two-year technical and community colleges and university branches.

Ohio Educational Television Network Commission — $1.2 million for network expansion to include new facilities at Ashtabula, Celina, Bryan, Mansfield, Sandusky, and in northern Shelby County.

Department of Rehabilitation and Corrections — $4 million to purchase and equip small minimum security institutions of a few hundred beds apiece to phase out the Ohio State Reformatory at Mansfield "over a number of years."

Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation — $7 million for construction of educational facilities for the mentally and physical handicapped.

Environmental Protection Agency — $2.5 million to develop a program of grants to local communities to insure safe water supplies throughout the state.

Ohio Expositions Commission — $4 million for improvements to the state fairgrounds, including renovation and maintenance of existing structures.

Department of Highway Safety — $669,669 to improve operations of State Highway Patrol Posts at Canfield, London, and Wooster.

Department of Transportation — $5 million, including $3.8 million to subsidize bus fares for the elderly and handicapped under rules to be established by the department, with $700,000 set aside for airport security and safety, and $500,000 for non-highway transportation planning.

Water and Sewer Rotary Commission — $5 million to assist counties in financing water and sewer projects.

State Controlling Board — $2.7 million to finance law enforcement improvements. Of the amount, $500,000 could be used to train police and courts with regard to Ohio's new criminal code.

Ohio Historical Society — $195,000 for improvements to the Great Lakes Historical Program, including a naval memorial in the Cleveland Harbor, and $115,000 for an Ohio River museum project.

Grand jury meets; 7 cases on agenda

The Fayette County grand jury convened at 9 a.m. Wednesday to consider felony charges against seven persons.

Prosecuting Attorney Otis R. Hess Jr. was expected to ask indictments against two persons charged with carrying concealed weapons, two charged with rape, two charged with shooting with intent to kill or wound, and one charge with intimidating a witness.

Robert Lee Thompson, 34, of 1121 Lakeview Ave., and Judy L. Stewart 29, of 720 Dayton Ave., are charged with carrying concealed weapons after a Nov. 3 incident at the Buckeye Bar.

Howard E. Johns, 20, of 819 E. Paint St., and Steven C. Robinson, 19, Bloomingburg, are charged with the rape of a 16-year-old girl Oct. 30. Bobby Joe Willis, 22, of 428 Forest St., was charged Nov. 22 with intimidating a witness in the rape case.

David E. Harter, 36, is charged with shooting with intent to kill or wound, stemming from an incident March 29, and Ronald Frazier, 18, Flakes Ford Rd., is held on a similar charge for allegedly firing a shotgun at a Sheriff's Department cruiser driven by Deputy John Emrick Nov. 26.

Police, sheriff activity

Missing Kentucky girl located here, returned

A 15-year-old Lexington, Ky., girl, missing from her home since Monday, was turned over to city police Wednesday morning after spending the night in a Columbus Avenue apartment.

Police said the girl had spent the night in the apartment of Judy Wolfe, 20, Meyer Court after she appeared at the apartment door Tuesday evening looking for a place to sleep. Miss Wolfe let the girl stay during the night and then notified police about 7:30 a.m. Wednesday.

The girl was brought to police headquarters and her parents were contacted.

Officers said the girl had left a Lexington school Monday after she was disciplined by a teacher for skipping a class.

ELIZABETH ABER, 64, of 604 Clinton Ave., was treated at Memorial Hospital for a fractured wrist, suffered in a fall at her home Tuesday night.

She told police she was sitting on a stool in her living room, when she fell off, fracturing her wrist. She was released after treatment.

Carl Medley, Good Hope, reported to sheriff's deputies that someone poured sugar into the gas tank of his 1967 model car Friday night. He said the car was parked in the garage at his home at the time. Cost of removing the sugar from the fuel system was set at $13.50.

Alice Burr, Jeffersonville, reported that someone apparently attempted to enter the trunk of her car sometime during the past week and scratched the paint.

Businessmen discuss downtown parking

An involved discussion of downtown parking problems dominated Wednesday morning's monthly meeting of the Downtown Business Association, held in the Chamber of Commerce office.

Eleven members and City Manager Dan Wolford were at the meeting.

Chairman James Ward appointed a committee consisting of himself, A.C. Heer and Ray Downing to study various parking plans submitted in the past.

The occupation of many parking places by downtown business employes was pointed to as a major problem. Members agreed that legal parking restrictions are hard to enforce, and that there is inadequate employe parking generally.

Wolford told the businessmen that he is trying to set up a regular schedule of operation for the streetsweeper they bought and turned over to the city. The problem is finding someone to run it each day, Wolford explained.

The businessmen discussed the possibility of making use of the Neighborhood Youth Corps and Mainstream programs in downtown beautification efforts.

Downing was appointed to work out details for the annual Washington's Birthday promotion. Other upcoming promotions were discussed, but no action was taken.

It was also decided to send a delegation to the next meeting of the Fayette County Ministerial Association, to discuss opening of stores on Sundays.

The next meeting of the Downtown Businessmen's Association is slated Feb. 7.

Teachers walk out in Chicago

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A strike by public school teachers cropped up in another major city today when a walkout in Chicago closed schools for more than half a million pupils. Despite a last-minute effort by Illinois newly installed Gov. Daniel Walker to arrange a settlement, some 21,000 teachers walked off the job in a dispute with the Chicago Board of Education over pay raises.

School Supt. James F. Redmond ordered 660 Chicago public schools closed shortly after he, members of the school board and officials of the Chicago Teachers Union emerged from a hastily called meeting with the governor.

In Philadelphia, Common Pleas Judge D. Donald Jamieson was expected to rule today on an injunction sought by the school board to end a three-day-old strike which has crippled operations in the city's 280 public schools.

Little likelihood was seen for a solution to the salary and work dispute involving 13,000 teachers and 5,000 other school employes.

Sniper probe

— "There has been but one person found."

— "Our men insist the area was adequately sealed off."

However, under close questioning, Giarrusso conceded that "there was a time span prior to our receipt of the plans of the building that an unobvious exit from the roof would have enabled other persons, if there were any, to leave the roof and go to another floor."

He said he didn't know the length of the "time span," but that it was at the very beginning of the siege. Under more questioning, Giarrusso identified the "unobvious exit" as the elevator shaft.

Newsmen inside the hotel said police didn't begin guarding the bottom of the elevator shafts until after sunrise Monday — or nearly 24 hours after the shooting started.

Robert Bemish, 43, a broadcasting engineer hit by sniper fire, said Essex "was not the same man who shot me."

Police said Essex was wearing military fatigue pants with baggy pockets to carry shells.

Bemish, a guest at the hotel, declared: "The man who shot me had on a light tan jacket and brown slacks."

Newsmen recalled a black policeman asking fellow officers during the siege whether they had seen a heavy-set black man walking with him through the hotel who had "just disappeared."

The man was described as wearing a short, light-colored coat. Shortly afterward, police checked the credentials of all newsmen in the area — raising the possibility a second sniper mixed with police and others inside the hotel and walked out undetected.

Tim Carew, 19, of Omaha, Neb., also a guest at the hotel, reported encountering just one sniper during the siege, however. Carew said the sniper told a black maid employed at the hotel: "Sister, the revolution is here."

Meanwhile, Policeman Paul Persigo, one of three officers killed in the sniper fire, was buried Tuesday after funeral services at St. Edward the Confessor Church. Mayor Moon Landrieu declared New Orleans to be in a "state of civic mourning ... to be extended through Sunday."

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Following is the Ohio weather summary from the National Weather Service:

Cold weather continues to dominate Ohio, along with much of the nation. Lows this morning were generally in the five-to-10-degree range under clear skies.

Highs this afternoon were expected to range from 20 to 25, compared with readings from 20 degrees at Youngstown to 28 at Cincinnati Tuesday. Traces of light snow were reported many places in the state Tuesday.

No break in the cold weather is expected through Thursday. Lows tonight will range from 10 to 15, and a chance of snow flurries is expected to continue in northeastern counties.

A low developing over the western Gulf of Mexico may bring light snow to western Ohio Thursday. Highs Thursday are forecast in the 20s.

Moderating temperatures Friday through Sunday with highs in the 20s Friday and 30s Sunday. Lows in the teens. A chance of snow flurries northeast Friday and Saturday.

ANIMAL CRACKERS . . .

Like every newspaper, we have good carrier boys and girls and some who occasionally give their customers fits . . . But some of the latter are pretty quick on the draw . . .

One lady buttonholed her bright-eyed young carrier this week and gently but firmly accused him of not delivering the paper the previous evening . . . "But I did", the boy said . . . "And where did you put it?", asked the customer . . . The quick-thinking youngster had a ready answer: "I threw it on the porch like I always do", and then added "but a cat grabbed it and run up that tree" . . . Assured that the 14-year-old family cat had long since given up tree-climbing, the boy whistled his way down the street with a final word over his shoulder: "Then it must have been a neighbor cat" . . .

Stock list turns mixed

NEW YORK (AP) — Prices were mixed in today's stock market in active trading after two sessions of minor declines.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was off .08 to 1,047.03, and declining issues on the New York Stock Exchange had a slight lead over gainers.

Brokers said investors were concerned about inflation, after the Labor Department report Tuesday that wholesale prices in December had soared 19.2 per cent on an annual basis, with food prices leading the boost.

AT&T was the Big Board's most-active issue, up ¼ to 53⅞. Most of the trading came in a block of 679,000 shares at 54.

Active issues on the American Stock Exchange included Houston Oil & Mineral, up ⅝ to 34⅝. The company announced a gas discovery on Monday.

10 Marines charged in brawl

WASHINGTON (AP) — A previously unreported racial brawl aboard a Navy ship in Southeast Asia has resulted in charges against 10 Marines, the Marine Corps has disclosed.

Three of six black Marines originally were charged with mutiny after the Sept. 7 incident aboard the amphibious landing ship Sumter, but the charges were dropped and now all stand accused of multiple counts of assault, the Marine Corps said Tuesday.

Four white Marines also were charged with offenses ranging from dereliction of duty to assault and disorderly conduct. Three of the whites were court martialed, but only one was found guilty, the Marines said.

Police drug storage thefts spark changes

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

The recently reported disappearance of several hundred pounds of illicit narcotics from police storage areas in New York City has caused officials in other areas to take a fresh look at their own methods of handling confiscated drugs.

An Associated Press survey of half a dozen major cities showed that authorities rely on sealed envelopes and complex reporting procedures to make sure that drugs seized by police do not vanish.

The situation in Newark, N.J. is typical.

A patrolman who makes a drug seizure brings the evidence to his precinct post and fills out a form — with four carbons — reporting the details. The form goes in a special mailbox at the precinct.

The next day, a representative of the police property department picks up the evidence and examines it in the presence of the desk lieutenant to make sure it conforms to the written report. The desk lieutenant gets a carbon of the patrolman's report.

Next the confiscated narcotics are analyzed by police chemists, put in a wax-sealed package and stored in the police property room adjacent to headquarters.

The drugs are held until requested by the court for use as evidence. The police property clerk personally takes the drugs to court and returns them to the storage room where they are held until a convicted defendant has served his sentence or until a superior court judge decides they are no longer needed.

About twice a year drugs are burned in a special incinerator under the supervision of representatives of the police property department, the prosecutor's office and the judge.

"It's as fine a set-up as you can find," said Capt. John Gavarny, who is in charge of the property room. He estimated that drugs with a street value of $2.5 million were seized last year. There were no reports of any thefts from the storage places.

Police in Detroit are investigating reports of possible drug trafficking by officers. One patrolman was suspended when a small amount of marijuana was found in his possession when police raided the inventory property room at the city's 10th precinct on Dec. 8.

Narcotics contraband is stored at six locations in New York City. Police are still investigating the disappearance of 131 pounds of cocaine and 168 pounds of heroin — including 80 pounds seized in the 1962 "French Connection" case.

The New York reports prompted a thorough review of storage procedures in Los Angeles, a spokesman there said. He said there was no evidence that any narcotics had disappeared and described the city's system for keeping contraband drugs as "almost foolproof."

San Francisco police store drugs in a walk-in vault with an alarm in the Hall of Justice. Access is limited to the head criminologist and police chemists.

A feeble youth vote

Remember the big whoopdedo about what an impact the newly enfranchised young were going to have on the 1972 presidential election? Despite reminders by political scientists that young people traditionally do not flock to the polls, it was widely predicted that new voters ranging in age from 18 to the former minimum voting age of 21 would cut a wide swathe. They didn't.

They didn't because more than half of those aged 18, 19 and 20, eligible for the first time to take part in the choice of a president, chose instead to stay away from the polls. Only 48.3 per cent of those newly eligible exercised the privilege, the Census Bureau reports.

This bears out the general conclusion, based on prior research, that eligible voters in the lowest age group tend to have the poorest record of going to the polls. Up to a certain limit, the older the voters the better their performance in this regard.

Voter participation in the recent election was highest, for example, among those aged 45 to 64: of the more than 42 million people in this category, 71 per cent voted. That compares with only 63 per cent for the total electorate - and, as previously noted, with 48.3 per cent of those in the 18-20 group eligible to vote nationally for the first time. In a slightly older group, 21 to 24 years, 51 per cent of the eligibles turned out.

There is room for a lot of speculation as to what the figures signify. One likely conclusion to be drawn from them is that people become more inclinded to participate in elections as their community ties and responsibilities increase. Meanwhile it can fairly be noted that, whatever the reasons for low participation may be, the youth vote was far less of a factor than many had expected.

THESE DAYS . . . by John Chamberlain

Controls don't solve it

President Nixon, who once campaigned against "Communism, Corruption and Controls," wants wage and price controls to continue after the April 30 expiration of the current Phase II period. The idea is that controls enable the government of combat inflation, which is, of course, pretty much of an illusion.

As William Pardridge, the "disagreeable economist" of Washington C.C., and Stanardsville, Va., puts its, price and wage controls attack the result of inflation, not its causes in the increase in the money supply and in mass credit.

To be sure, the government can make a case that controls have kept price inflation within bounds in 1972, but, as the end-of-the-year Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. survey shrewdly observes, a "substantial slack in both plant and work force provided a favorable environment in which controls could operate."

One can translate this to mean that controls have worked precisely to the extent that they made no difference — market conditions were such that neither businessmen nor labor leaders could have remained competitive if they had tried to get more than the controls would permit for their product.

The Morgan Guaranty Survey predicts a "spectacular rise" of $65 to $75 billion in personal after-tax income for 1973, which could result in a "colossal buying binge." As a curbstone economist, I would contend that any spending splurge under conditions of selective price controls must result in the strangest distortions. On the one hand, there must be a quick depletion of the stocks of superior goods in the controlled sector as the public, with money burning holes in its pockets, takes advantage of the enforced bargain prices.

On the other hand, food prices, which are uncontrolled, would hardly dip in a splurging market.

These are the prices that have mocked the inflation fighters all through Phase I and Phase II of controls; the housewife at the supermarket, paying 82 cents for a jar of mayonnaise that used to cost 77 cents, has never known what controls meant.

ONE BIG TROUBLE with "controlling" an economy is that nobody can trust government figures. The official Consumer Price Index, for example, indicates that a person with "take-home pay" of $100 a week spends $22 on food. Assuming he has to feed a family of four, this means that he must subsist on fish, stew meat and canned vegetables. The market for delicacies and steaks, however, would seem to indicate that the CPI estimate of $22 is highly misleading. Rent, in the Consumer Price Index, comes to 5.05 per cent of "100 for all items."

Well, University of Chicago Prof. Arnold Weber, who once served as director of the Nixon Cost of Living Council, has been quoted as saying "to the guy who's renting a house, it's a hell of a lot more" than any mere 5.05 per cent.

IN GENERAL, one suspects there has been a qualitative decline in a whole broad spectrum of goods. More than two years ago the "disagreeable" Bill Pardridge predicted that a wage-price freeze would "aggravate" inflationary wage demands by "causing a severe reduction in the quality of both goods and needed services." Since Pardridge's analyses of the relationship of dept (including mass credit) to production have yielded accurate estimates of inflation, it is good to know that he is putting together a non-profit corporation, Economic Equities, Inc., to complete the book he has undertaken with fifty co-authors, many from prestigious universities, in an effort to enlist the best brains in a revitalization of economic science.

Pardridge's projected board includes Richard Selden, David Davies and Dudley Dillard, who are, respectively, the chairmen of the economics departments of the University of Virginia, Duke University and the University of Maryland, along with Anna Schwartz of the National Bureau of Economic Research and Paul Van Riper, a former secretary of Beta Theta Pi who is head of the political science department of Texas A. and M.

A stated objective of this group would be to hold national conference on the inter-relationships of inflation, debt and production, with the hope of providing the formula that would combine zero inflation with full employment. Since nobody in the government Establishment yet has come up with such a formula, it will be good to get the non-government dissidents thinking about this. We couldn't do worse than we have done, and we might do a lot better.

Unwanted smoke aloft

The air traveler who lights up the moment the no smoking sign blinks out endangers his own health by indulging a habit which the medical profession brands as hazardous. This is deplorable, but pretty much the traveler's own business.

The smoker may also be creating a considerable nuisance for fellow travelers who do not relish having smoke wafted into their faces. Additionally he may be imposing at least a minor health hazard upon others in nearby seats; the U.S. surgeon general's office warns that tabacco smoke in confined areas may be harmful to non-smokers as well as smokers. This sort of imposition is not entirely the smoker's own business.

On many air lines flights a section of the plane is nominally set aside for non-smokers. This restriction is not rigorously enforced, and some travelers ignore it. Unless an affronted passenger is willing to complain, and push his complaint until he gets results, chances are he'll have to live with offensive cigarette smoke throughout the flight.

The Civil Aeronautics Board proposes a remedy. For the present voluntary system it would substitute a requirement that airlines separate smokers from other passengers on all flights. Such a regulation would be desirable as a means of implementing a sound view, namely, that non-smokers should not be forced to suffer the irritation and health hazard in being subjected to clouds of unwanted smoke.

From The Files

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

In a talk before the Rotary Club, Dark County farmer Dale Williams stressed the necessity for higher farm expense if there is to be proper conservation of farm soil for the sake of the nation's future.

From "Ten Years Ago": The dates for the Fayette County Basketball Tournament had been set, according to F. W. Howe, tournament manager.

The marriage of Miss Mildred Coil to Mr. Earl Knisley was announced.

The Blue Lions defeated Wilmington, 41-30, in a game that coach Steve Lewis described as "the worst game they have played yet."

The General Platoff Don Cossack Chorus, under the direction of Nicholas Kastrukoff, was scheduled to present a concert at the high school auditorium. The chorus was composed of 27 Russians from the region of the river Don in southern Russia.

Norman E. Meranda, city engineer, and John V. Snyder, draftsman, attended a two-day convention of the Ohio Engineers Association in Columbus.

Fayette County's goal for the 1948 March of Dimes was $5,000.

Albert G. Cobb was due to become Associate County Agricultural Agent in Fayette County.

Allison H. Hidy, 81, retired farmer who was born and raised in Fayette County, died.

The value of farm property in Fayette county was estimated at $26,466,000 in a report released by the Tile Council of America.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

The volunteers from your community who serve here under the auspices of the Fayette County Chapter, American Red Cross, have told us of the help you have given them again this Christmas Season in securing articles for our patients' Christmas Store. They were pleased, as we were, with the fine response shown by the citizens of your area.

Our hospitalized veterans were able to remember their loved ones at home with Christmas gifts because of the generosity and kindness of many people of Washington C.H. and Fayette County.

It was good of you to donate space in your newspaper to advertise the need for articles for our Christmas Store. We feel your help was instrumental in making the Store a success and in making it a Merry Christmas for the veterans and their families. Please accept our thanks for your assistance.

Hal Boyle . . . Here's mental quiz for 1973

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — The start of the new year is always rough. Common sense tells you that each year is getting more demanding than the one before. That is the way the world is going.

Therefore, now is the best of all times to check up on yourself to see that you are fit for the ordeal.

You need a mental as well as a physical exam.

A glance into the mirror will tell you what needs to be done to tone your body up. But how about your mind — that whetstone of decision, that buzzsaw of performance? Is it ready to face the ordeal and challenges of 1973?

We've prepared a simple, easy-to-do home test that will help you solve that problem. Simply answer the following questions:

If someone suddenly played "Jingle Bells" in your ear right now, would you either scream silently or start denouncing Santa Claus?

Do you think modern school children get too many vacations and ought to spend more time studying and less time frittering the year away?

Have you decided that this is probably the year you'll finally go bankrupt before April?

Are you tempted now and then to sell your house and become a hermit on a desert isle?

Do you tell yourself that you and your whole family would probably be better off if you just threw in the sponge and went on relief?

Aren't taxes about twice what you think you should pay?

Isn't it true you feel you wouldn't need Social Security when you retire — if Uncle Sam would just quit digging in your pocketbook so much you don't have enough to do any real saving yourself?

Don't you just wish the government would let you have a raise to pay commensurate with the way you feel prices have gone up?

For some reason inflation has hit your family harder than it has any other family in the block, hasn't it?

You did get a little tired of the football season toward the end, didn't you?

Nothing seems to last very long anymore, and they simply don't make things as well nowadays as they used to — isn't that so?

Those are the questions. Now to your score.

If you answered no to more than three of them, you are out of your mind and living in a fool's paradise.

But if you answered yes to all the questions, you're in the pink of condition. You simply have a normal case of "winter blues." You should weather 1973 in great shape. The more desperate you are in January, the more likely you are to be healthy in June.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, Jan. 10, the 10th day of 1973. There are 355 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1946, the first general assembly of the United Nations convened in London.

On this date:

In 1776, the American revolutionist, Thomas Paine, published his pamphlet "Common Sense."

In 1861, Florida seceded from the Union.

In 1889, France established a protectorate over the Ivory Coast in Africa.

In 1928, one of the chief architects of the Soviet Union, Leon Trotsky, was ordered into exile.

In 1920, the League of Nations was established as the Treaty of Versailles went into effect.

In 1942, the Japanese invaded the Dutch East Indies in World War II.

Ten years ago: Ceylon's prime minister arrived in Peking on a mission of conciliation in a border dispute between India and China.

One year ago: A crowd of 500,000 turned out in Dacca to welcome the Bengali leader, Sheik Mujib Rahman, after his release in Pakistan and return to Bangladesh.

Today's birthdays: Opera baritone Sherrill Milnes is 38. Actor and dancer Ray Bolger is 69.

Thought for today: Animals are such agreeable friends — they ask no questions, they pass no criticisms — George Eliot, pseudonym for Mary Ann Evans, English novelist, 1819-1880.

Clipped comment

Congress seems to be serious about halting the war by cutting off funds. One suspects, however, that the Pentagon has a few bucks tucked away somewhere.

Western Union gets government permission to install new communications satellites. We can hardly wait for the first singing telegram from outer space.

Many Italian factory workers must wear anti-pollutiion masks. It'll be fun to see what Italy's famed fashion designers do with this wave-of-the-future look.

Dear Abby:

Forced at four A.M.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband falls into bed dead tired without even kissing me goodnight. Then about 4 o'clock in the morning he wakes me up and forces himself on me without saying a word. After he has satisfied himself he turns over and goes to sleep. All the while I am lying there like a statue.

Would you call this statutory rape?

CURIOUS IN FRISCO

DEAR CURIOUS: No. It's more like STATIONARY rape.

DEAR ABBY: In one of your columns you told a girl it was all right for her to smile and wave at truck drivers. Thanks a lot! My husband is a truck driver and all he needs is good looking girls waving and smiling at him all day. He's a good-looking guy, and it doesn't take much to turn him on, and I'd just as soon he didn't take any new friends on his job. Not all truck drivers are alike, but I know my husband better than you do, so watch it, will you, Abby?

THELMA IN PASSAIC

DEAR THELMA: I'll watch it, Thelma.

DEAR ABBY: Never thought I'd be writing to Dear Abby, but after reading the letter from that young girl who asked if it was okay to smile and wave at truck drivers, I had to put in my 2 cents worth.

I've been married to a truck driver for 19 years. There's not a better husband and father. It's an honorable position and I'm proud of him. Maybe most people aren't aware of this, but 70 per cent of the food they eat and the clothes they were are delivered by trucks.

If a lady is stranded on the highway, a truck driver will be the first to stop and help her. And speaking of being a lady, my husband stopped to help a couple of so-called "ladies," and they robbed him of all his money.

So tell that gal to keep smiling. I hope she smiles at my truck driver someday, for it's a lonely job and he can use a smile along the way.

KANSAS WIFE

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow, 67, living along in a one-bedroom apartment. The only living relative I have is a sister. Gertrude is 73, married and very well-to-do. She has been fighting with her husband, Sam who is 75, for as long as I can remember.

For the past year, Gertrude has been coming here in a taxi at all hours of the night asking if she can sleep in the other twin bed because she and Sam had another fight. Naturally, I let her stay. Sometimes she spent two nights with me until she's sure Sam has cooled off.

Now Sam calls accusing me of "breaking up his home." He says if I didn't let his wife come here to sleep she would stay home where she belongs. The old fool should know that if I didn't let her sleep here she could go to a hotel. She has plenty of money.

Sam says if I let Gertrude sleep here one more night he will cut me out of his will, and his wife's will, too. Can he do that? Please advaise me.

LAUDERDALE LADY

DEAR LADY: Tell Sam that when your sister shows up at your door to spend the night with you, you will not refuse to let her in. He can cut you out of his will if he wants to, but he can't cut you out of his wife's.

Woman deputy port warden owes job to women's lib

By DAN PITTMAN
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — With a pistol on her hip, Joellen Natow walks gangplanks and climbs ship ladders in Los Angeles harbor, getting big smiles from craggy-faced longshoremen.

"It's really nice to see something pretty around here instead of the same old cops," observed a veteran welder as Mrs. Natow passed by.

Harbor officials here say Mrs. Natow is the first female deputy port warden to serve at any major port in the United States.

"Along the wharfs and aboard the ships the longshoremen grin and wave at me," said Mrs. Natow, 29. "Some even shake my hand."

As deputy port warden, Mrs. Natow boards foreign and American vessels in the 3,000-acre harbor to inspect flammable cargos for proper handling and to check fueling operations as a guard against pollution.

Mrs. Natow also handles theft complaints from women working at a harbor cannery and teaches classes in female self-defense.

Since the Harbor Patrol works with the Coast Guard and other government agencies against illegal transportation of aliens and the smuggling of dangerous drugs, she is armed with a .38-caliber revolver.

A city policewoman for four years prior to joining the Harbor Patrol, Mrs. Natow is married to a motorcycle policeman and is the mother of two sons, Scott, 8, and Todd, 10.

Along with the 41 male deputies on duty in Los Angeles harbor, Mrs. Natow patrols by boat, car, helicopter, and motorcycle.

Pat Grutsch, chief deputy port warden, says Mrs. Natow owes her job to the woman's liberation movement.

"The people downtown said I'd have to take a woman on the force, and I thought it would be great," he said.

Sex wasn't the only obstacle Mrs. Natow had to overcome. She also had to learn the language of the port, such as, "There's a camel loose in the channel. Get a seagull to pick it up."

And Mrs. Natow now says confidently that that translates to, "A wharf pile is afloat, and we need a refuse boat to pick it up."

Jagger denied visa for Japanese show

TOKYO (AP) — Rock musician Mick Jagger has been denied a visa by the Justice Ministry to lead his Rolling Stones in a series of five concerts scheduled to start here Jan. 28.

The ministry said today its denial was based on a past conviction of the British musician on a drug charge. It said it had no objections to a Japanese visit by the other 19 persons in Jagger's group.

Community Mission reports heard

"Community Mission" was the theme of the meeting of the Staunton United Methodist Women at Anderson's Restaurant Tuesday afternoon. Hostesses were Mrs. Walter Parrett and Mrs. Addie Barger. Mrs. Lois Harper read Scripture from the Book of Matthew, and the group sang the hymn, "Kingdom of God."

Mission reports were made by Mrs. Henry Simmons, Methodist; Mrs. William Cook, Baptist; Mrs. Gene Carman, Catholic; Mrs. Kenneth Bryan, Jamestown Church of Christ; Mrs. Martin O'Cull and Mrs. Edgar Richardson of McNair Presbyterian Church. Each had a prepared report of the various missions of the denomination on the local, state and national level.

The purpose of the meeting was to describe the mission priorities of the church in the various areas, to encourage broadening views of the Christian responsibilities to human needs and to help women find their place in the extension of the church. Their reports also took in the mission in housing among the aged and for minority groups.

Mrs. Clarabel Reynolds, of Lancaster, sister of Mrs. Walter Parrett, who is employed by the state, Division of the Aged, Senior Citizen's Department, spoke on "Community and State Resources on Aged."

Members and guests were seated at tables centered with winter arrangements. Favors were at each place setting along with a new program booklet for the year, made by the hostesses.

Mrs. Alice Bush conducted a brief business session at which reports were made by Mrs. Donald Pemberton and Mrs. J.O. Wilson. Mrs. Pemberton and Mrs. Parrett were appointed to the visitation committee from now until Feb. 13.

Mrs. Elza Smith will entertain the group in her home Feb. 13. Members present were Mrs. Harry Bell, Mrs. Pemberton, Mrs. Harper, Mrs. Harper, Mrs. Lelan Allen, Mrs. Florence Bethards, Mrs. Maude Shubert, Mrs. Simmons, Mrs. Wanita Wikle, Mrs. Bush, Miss Oma Waddle, Mrs. J.O. Wilson, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Parrett and Mrs. Barger.

Guests were Mrs. Margaret Emrick, Mrs. William Cook, Mrs. Carman, Mrs. Bryan, Mrs. Reynolds, Mrs. Willard Parrett, Mrs. Ethel Neiswonder, Mrs. Nona Stevens, Mrs. Martin O'Cull, Mrs. Hilbert Meyer and Mrs. Edgar Richardson.

Mrs. Pennington entertains

Mrs. Paul Pennington welcomed 19 members of the associate chapter of Phi Beta Psi to her home Monday evening.

Assisting hostesses for the dessert course which preceded the brief business meeting were Mrs. Robert Wilson, Mrs. Helen VanZant, Mrs. Alice Campbell and Mrs. Robert Sanderson Jr.

Mrs. Edmond Woodmansee, a member of the active Phi Beta Psi chapter, announced the annual Founder's Day Dance and buffet will be Feb. 17 in the Country Club and extended an invitation to members of the associate chapter.

Bridge was played during the remainder of the evening, with winners being Mrs. Robert Jefferson, Mrs. Ira Barchet and Mrs. Robert Craig.

Anniversary is observed

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mongold, Robinson Rd., were honored on their 64th wedding anniversary in the home of Mrs. Alice Brown. Mr. and Mrs. Mongold were married at Fruitdale Jan. 9, 1909.

Silver and gold prevailed in the decorations for the occasion, and a wedding cake trimmed in pink centered the table.

Family and friends present for the celebration were Harold Mongold, Bloomingburg; Mr. and Mrs. James Mongold and family, Jeffersonville; Mrs. Isabel Evans, Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Williamson and family, Washington C.H.; Mr. and Mrs. Lunday Travis and family, of South Charleston; Mrs. Dean Merritt and son, Allen, of Middletown; Mr. and Mrs. Everett Park, Columbus; Miss Cora Scott, Don Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. John Blouse and family, Harle McKeever Jr., Mary, David, Floyd and Randy Brown, all of Washington C.H., and Elmer Leach, of Dayton.

Music was enjoyed and pictures were taken during the remainder of the day.

Mrs. Wheat circle hostess

Circle 3 of First Presbyterian Church met in the home of Mrs. Gerald Wheat, when Miss Kathleen Stookey, the new leader, opened the meeting with devotions centered on the blessings and opportunities of the New Year. She also read from the Mission Yearbook of Prayer concerning the work of the church in remote areas of Alaska. Mrs. Luke Musser presented the Mission Interpretation article on the work of the Rev. and Mrs. David Kidd in Cawood, Ky.

Mrs. Homer Bireley read minutes of the previous meeting and coming events were announced.

Mrs. Stanley Scott, Bible Study leader, led the first section of the new study, "Wonder and be Astounded." She led the group in a comparison of the world situation as seen by the prophet Habakkuk and the situation at the present time.

Following the meeting, a dessert course was served by the hostess to Mrs. Bireley, Mrs. Fred Cluff, Mrs. Yohann Dallmayer, Mrs. Ed Ford, Mrs. Musser, Mrs. Scott and Miss Stookey.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Myers and daughter, Heather Missy, have returned to their home in Boca Raton, Fla., after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ellis, 436 E. Market St.

War claims 2 more aircraft

SAIGON (AP) — The U. S. Command announced today the loss of another fighter-bomber over North Vietnam and a helicopter in South Vietnam just below the demilitarized zone. It said all eight Americans aboard the two aircraft were missing.

This raised to 35 the number of U.S. aircraft the Command has reported lost in Indochina since Dec. 18, when the two week aerial blitz on Hanoi and Haiphong was launched. The U.S. Command in daily communiques has reported a total of 107 Americans killed, captured or missing in these crashes, the costliest air losses of the war.

While the bombing halt above the 20th parallel continued, the U.S. Command reported continuing heavy B52 and fighterbomber strikes in the four provinces of the North Vietnamese panhandle.

A total of 45 B52 strikes that dropped about 1,200 tons of bombs and 140 fighter-bomber strikes were reported flown against North Vietnam during the 24 hours ending at 8 a.m. today.

An A6 fighter-bomber was shot down early today about 35 miles northwest of Vinh and the two crewmen are missing, the Command reported.

The second aircraft loss was an Army UH1 helicopter that disappeared Monday evening over enemy territory in eastern Quang Tri province just below the DMZ. Four crewmen and two U.S. advisers to the South Vietnamese paratrooper division were aboard.

The South Vietnamese military command reported another round of Communist terrorist attacks had raised civilian casualties to more than 100 in South Vietnam in the past four days.

The Saigon command said a provincial capital and three district towns in the Mekong Delta and a village northwest of Saigon were shelled during the night, with a total of nine civilians killed and 35 wounded. And in Saigon, an explosive device ripped through a coffee shop near the Tan Son Nhut air base just before dawn, wounding three civilians, spokesmen said.

This brought civilians casualties from shelling and land mines reported since Sunday to 23 killed and 86 wounded.

Hanoi, meanwhile, broadcast new charges of "extermination bombing" by U.S. B52s in the southern third of North Vietnam below the 20th parallel. Radio Hanoi said B52 raids Monday on several residential areas "caused heavy losses to civilian life and property."

Hanoi also claimed that two B52s were shot down before dawn today in Nghe An province but made no mention of the crews.

The U.S. Command said it had no B52 losses to report.

Another Hanoi broadcast asserted that pro-Communist Cambodian forces have "liberated" nearly 85 per cent of Cambodia, including the most densely populated region west of Phnom Penh.

There was no comment from the government in Phnom Penh.

Blame ice for fatal bus crash

GREENSBURG, Pa. (AP) — State police say ice apparently caused a bus accident which claimed the life of one person and injured 10 others near this western Pennsylvania town.

Sixteen persons, including the driver, were on the Greyhound bus Tuesday night when it skidded off an icy, snow-covered bridge and plunged over a 35-foot embankment.

The accident occurred at the intersection of U.S. 22 and Pennsylvania 119, about 10 miles north of here.

"We swerved then spun around about three times before we went over the hill," said William Goshorn, 75, of Akron, Ohio, one of the uninjured passengers.

Goshorn, who was traveling to Altoona to visit relatives, said he crawled out the back window of the bus.

The dead man, whose identity remained unknown today, was pinned underneath the vehicle when it flipped over at the bottom of the embankment. He was dead on arrival at Westmoreland Hospital here.

The bus driver — Patrick Holzer, 45, of Pittsburgh — was taken to Westmoreland Hospital, where he was reported in fair condition. Six other persons were treated for minor injuries and released.

Four other passengers, all women, were taken to Latrobe Hospital, where their conditions were reported as serious. They were identified as Anne Meritt, 62, of Revloc; Clementine Glashaufer, 70, of Altoona; Betty Billett, 48, of State College; and Marion Claycomb, 73, also of Altoona.

Lift restriction on electrical use

FAIRMONT, W.Va. (AP) — Monongahela Power Co. officials say they have purchased enough power from other firms to enable them to cope with a temporary shortage without asking customers to cut back electrical power use.

The company Tuesday canceled a 36-hour request of one million users in a five-state area to use only necessary electrical appliances and lights.

A spokesman said the shortage was caused by continued sub-freezing temperatures and a boiler leak at a 500,000-kilowatt unit at Fort Martin near Morgantown.

To flambe means to sprinkle with brandy or a liqueur and ignite.

State Patrol awards dinner Thursday

COLUMBUS — The Ohio State Highway Patrol's first annual "Blue Max" awards dinner, honoring patrolmen earning "Ace" certificates in the Patrol's massive stolen auto recovery and theft apprehension campaign will be held at the Neil House, Thursday.

Col. Robert M. Chairamonte said the program, established early last year, has resulted in the recovery of 1,584 stolen vehicles worth $2,984,985. Patrolman also made 1,138 arrests stemming from the recovery of the stolen vehicles, an increased of 83.5 per cent over 1971.

Col. Chiaramonte said the program was established in an attempt to halt the auto theft problem which is costing Ohioans more than 90 million dollars per year in stolen property and increased insurance rates.

Under the program, each time an officer recovers a stolen auto and makes an arrest, a red lightning bolt is attached to the door of his cruiser. After earning five lightning bolts the officer is awarded an "Ace" certificate and a special license plate for his cruiser.

At the awards dinner the officer earning the most lightning bolts will receive the special "Blue Max" award, consisting of a medal, a certificate and a ribbon to be worn on his uniform.

The only officer at the Wilmington Post to win an "Ace" Certificate was Patrolman Gary Brackney. Brackney made five apprehensions during the past year.

Lottery is held for 103 apartments

TOKYO (AP) — The Tokyo government offered 103 apartments for sale Monday and got 38,298 applications. It decided the buyers by a lottery.

The prices of the apartments in a 14-story building ranged from $23,940 to $26,457, about 30 per cent cheaper than comparable apartments sold by private companies. Most consisted of three rooms and a kitchen.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

THURSDAY, JAN. 11

ARIES
(March 21 to April 20)

Mars favorable. Allocate energies as necessary. A diversionary tactic could be practical. In new ventures, try a "dry run" or you may waste time and energy.

TAURUS
(April 21 to May 21)

Poise and perseverance are two requirements now. Choose the most appropriate goal and plan for its achievement carefully. Romance continues favorable.

GEMINI
(May 22 to June 21)

Practical issues will demand your complete attention now. There's a temptation to skip details, but this could be costly. Heed the voice of experience.

CANCER
(June 22 to July 23)

A day for playing the waiting game. Don't let anyone pin you down to a commitment until all factors are clear in your own mind. Some rosy reports could be premature.

LEO
(July 24 to Aug. 23)

A financial matter can now be satisfactorily settled, but don't let optimism lead you into extravagance. Rather, consolidate gains, with a view to the future.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

Competition is on the move. Gear yourself to the demands which are appropriate. Cooperate where you should, but express your own opinions, too. Maintain high principles.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Mixed planetary influences. Not all you undertake will turn out as your hope, but the diligent, consistent try will eventually produce results.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

Muster your best efforts for the "trying" moments — even though they may be few — and you can breeze through most of the day. Put your weight back of solid undertakings.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

You will have much to do, but rewards will gratify if you handle obligations astutely — and yourself with discipline.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Continuing good influences govern new projects as well as everyday routine. Cooperate with those who have both know-how and integrity.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

A new light thrown upon certain situations should prime you for fine advantages in the offing. Rouse yourself to work for the attainment which requires more than the usual vigor.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 to March 20)

If you want to give a first-rate performance now, you will have to be even more dexterous than usual. Good planetary influences, but your cooperation needed.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with outstanding perception and diplomacy. You are inclined to be scholarly and never cease in your quest for knowledge — knowledge which you can impart to others with surprising facility. This, of course, makes you an excellent candidate for the profession of teaching. You are practical and methodical, too; have a liking for figures and statistics, an asset in many lines. Other fields in which you could carve a successful career; Science, statesmanship, literature and — since you are more outgoing than most Capricornians — the theater. Traits to curb: Too much introspection, moodiness and occasional streaks of jealousy.

Pork chops found in baptismal font

HUDDERSFIELD, England (AP) — The Rev. Peter Spivey dipped his fingers into the font to baptize little Graeme Charles Heppenstall and exclaimed, "Good Lord! Three pork chops."

When the 52-year-old vicar of Meltham village held up the three chops, the congregation roared. He said he assumed the meat had been dropped in the font by a drunk he found passed out in front of it on Saturday night.

Songfest Saturday at Samantha church

SAMANTHA — A special songfest will be held at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in the Free Will Baptist Church at the junction of U.S. 62 and Ohio 72.

Participating will be the Bridges Quartet, of Cincinnati, the Dixieland Gospel Singers, of Hillsboro, and members of the congregation, according to the pastor, the Rev. Wiley B. Perkins.

City pay boosts held by auditor

FAIRFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Mayor William Harbin says he plans legal action to force auditor George Schiering to pay salary increases to city employes ordered by city council.

Schiering balked saying some of the raises were higher than the 5.5 per cent permitted by federal wage-price regulations. Harbin said the total amount for all employes' was within guidelines.

Schiering said he wanted Internal Revenue Service approval first.

Purebred puppy match scheduled here Jan. 28

The Paint Valley Kennel Club is proceeding with preparations for its next purebred puppy match, scheduled to begin at noon Sunday, Jan. 28, at the Fayette County Fairground.

At the club's last meeting, flyers regarding the match were addressed t out-of-town exhibitors. A special meeting will be held Jan. 25 to assign club personnel to their posts for the match.

The upcoming match, expected to draw about 500 dogs, will make use of more facilities at the Fairground than in the past. There will be three rings in the show arena, with additional rings in the Fine Arts and Mahan buildings.

Puppies as young as two months old may be entered, and there will be separate competition for dogs more than a year old.

The club will award more trophies at this match than at any other it has held in the past, including trophies for the best puppy in each breed, and four ribbons in each class.

Purebred puppies may be entered the day of the show, beginning at about 10 a.m. The entry fee is $2. Entry fee for dogs entered prior to the day of the show is $1.50.

The puppy match is open to the public, and food will be served there.

Eternal flame is extinguished

BELLEFONTAINE, Ohio (AP)—An eternal flame that has burned in front of the veterans' memorial on the courthouse lawn here since Memorial Day of 1971 may have brightened its last night.

Dayton Power and Light Company district manager Firman Knipp told Logan County commissioners that the company will have to extinguish the flame because of a natural gas shortage.

Knipp said he did not know how long it would be before the flame could be relit. The flame was to be extinguished today.

4 youths held in bomb threat

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Four juveniles were in their parents custody pending juvenile court action today after they were charged with telephoning a false bomb threat to their school here Monday.

Police said the youths were apprehended within half an hour after the incident, thanks to an anonymous tipster.

Stamps In The News

AP Newsfeatures

By SYD KRONISH

Tucked away in the South Pacific is the beautiful island of Western Samoa where tropical fish and animals abound aplenty.

In the latest set of stamps from Western Samoa, collectors have an opportunity to see some of the wildlife of the area.

Depicted are the following: In the fish field — skipjack (or oceanic bonito), butterfly fish; the mollusk or shell section — bull conch, triton shell; the crustacean family — spiny lobster, painted crab; beetles — rhinoceros beetle, jewel beetle; butterfly beauties — Samoan monarch and the hawk moth.

There are 11 values in this set of new definitives and each stamp bears the kava bowl watermark. The items are available at your local stamp dealer.

PAKISTAN'S first atomic power station is hailed on a new stamp issued by that country. The station is located on the Buleji Coast about 15 miles west of Karachi.

The stamp features a view of the nuclear power plant. Blue patches on either side of the plant represent "heavy water" used in its operation. The red and orange sky indicate the tremendous heat evolved in splitting the atom.

At the left side of the stamp is the name "Pakistan" in both Urdu and Bangla. The value, 20 paisa, is also at the lower left.

INTERESTED in collecting United Nations stamps the easy way?

Well, the United Nations Postal Administration is now offering a direct method of purchasing its stamps and postal items at FACE VALUE through its Customer Deposit Service.

Subscribers to this service get priority delivery of their orders during the week following the date of issue.

You automatically receive your stamps whenever there is a new issue, without having to write for them. Deliveries are guaranteed even if stocks run out earlier than expected.

All you have to do to open a Customer Deposit Account is to send your despsit of $20 to the United Nations Postal Administration, P.O. Box 5900, Grand Central Station, New York, N. Y. 10017.

The Postal Administration says it will send the forms for your own standing order and instructions to keep the account in good order. If you do not wish to send the money but would like to know more about it, you can write them for specifics.

A NEW White Ace Album for U. S. Postal Service Souvenir Pages is now available. The jumbo album provides collectors with a distinctive home for the first-day cancelled pages that the U. S. Postal Service prepares and sells.

Each of the pages includes an oversize photo of the new stamp plus background information. The pages sell for $3 a package and the jumbo binder for $6.95.

They can be obtained directly from the printers, Washington Press, Maplewood, N. H. 07040.

The itching of a mosquito bite is caused by an injected blood solvent. It will be worse if the insect is driven off or killed before it has time to suck back the irritating liquid.

Ohio ASCS appointments still pending

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A federal agricultural official said Tuesday the selection of three Ohioans to oversee state operations of the U.S. Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service is still pending.

E. J. Person, deputy administrator of the service in Washington, said an announcement naming Ohio's three committee members and members for the other states will be made soon.

Dwight Harris, Ohio executive director of the service, said the appointments are normally made in December for the upcoming year. He said he has received no reason for the delay.

But he added, "I think it is just part of the current review that has started from President Nixon down to the various departments. And they have gotten to this level."

The job of the three committee members is to oversee operation of agricultural service programs involving crop production, price supports and conservation.

Harris said the committee vacancies have not caused any major problems in the operation of the office.

Rhodesia 'Liberation Army' in action with Red arms

By ARTHUR L. GAVSHON
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — Under a moonless sky on the night of Dec. 21 ragged-trousered raiders opened fire with rockets and bullets on Marc De Borchgrave's lonely farm house in the Zambezi Valley of Rhodesia.

Two nights later the black guerrillas struck again, against neighbor Archie Dagleish's place, where the De Borchgraves had taken refuge.

Within a few hours, a Jeepload of four Rhodesian soldiers taking part in a big sweep ran over a land mine.

The world's newest "liberation army" was in action. It even has its own Ho Chi Minh Trail, meandering from base camps in neighboring Mozambique to the sunbaked bushlands of northeast Rhodesia, 120 miles north of Salisbury, the capital.

Equipped also, the Rhodesians say, with a modern armory of weapons from the Soviet Union or China.

The Zimbabwe African National Liberation Army, or Zanla, has vowed to wrest Rhodesia — which it calls Zimbabwe — from the grip of Premier Ian Smith's white minority government.

Since they still hope to play a role in Rhodesia, the British are following with great interest these developments in the African territory that declared its independence in 1965.

British experts think the black guerrillas have a long way to go and a lot to learn before they can pose any real threat to Smith's forces. In eight years of sporadic campaigning, they have achieved little.

Yet authorities here acknowledge the danger to the white regime is certain to increase as Zanla improves its techniques and its links with rebel movements in neighboring countries. The nearest and strongest of these is the Front for the Liberation of Mozambique, or Frelimo. By ambushes, night raids, mining of roads and railroads, Frelimo for years has pinned down thousands of Portuguese troops.

New fighting in northeast Rhodesia also creates yet another front for Smith's limited forces. Already he has 1,000 miles of frontier to defend eastward against incursions from Frelimo units in Mozambique, to the northwest against Zanla raids from Zambia, and on the southwest where Rhodesia meets Botswana. He is being helped by South African police units, and he is pressing for ever fiercer action by Portuguese forces.

This week Smith called up army, police and air force reservists to meet the developing emergency.

The British are hoping that time and experience will yet convince Smith's regime that its ultimate salvation lies in a constitutional settlement with Britain.

Duchess of Windsor suffers broken bone

PARIS (AP) — The Duchess of Windsor is "coming along fine" after an operation for a broken hip bone, her secretary reported today.

The secretary, John Utter, said the 76-year-old duchess had fallen several times and complained last week that she had difficulty in walking. X-rays showed a break in the bone at the top of the thigh.

An operation was performed last Thursday.

Barbara Beal wins speech contest

Junior Barbara Beal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Beal of U.S. 22-E, was the MTHS winner in the Voice of Democracy 26th annual broadcast scriptwriting scholarship program.

The program is sponsored by The Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States and the Ladies Auxiliary of the

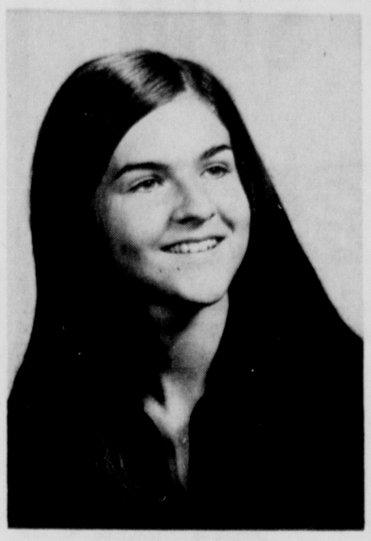
BARBARA BEAL

VFW, with the cooperation of the National Association of Broadcasters State Associations of Broadcasters.

Barbara had to write a 3-5 minute recorded speech on the topic: "My Responsibility to Freedom." Her taped speech will now go to district competition.

She will be sponsored by the Burnett-Ducey Post No. 4964 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, who will present her a $25 U.S. Savings Bond for winning the Miami Trace competition.

Seniors of week



NANCY ROARK

Nancy Lynn Roark's favorite senior subject is art, which goes right along with her hobby of drawing.

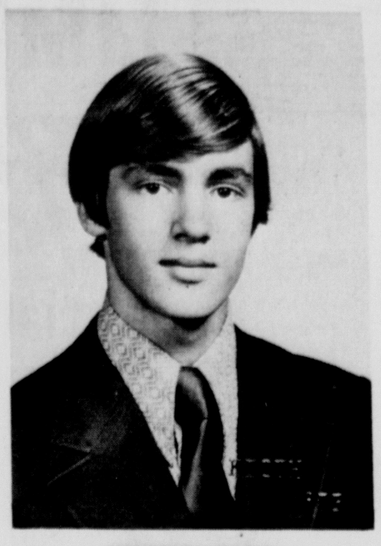
Nancy also likes to sew, play tennis, and listen to music. She is a member of the Future Teachers Club and Y-Teens.

Majoring either in education or in some field of art is in Nancy's future plans, but she is not yet sure which college she will attend.

Her advice to underclassmen is, "In order to make the most of your high school years, study hard and take advantages of the opportunities that are offered."

NANCY IS the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roark of Rt. 2, Knollwood Circle, Washington C.H.

Keith Earley's favorite subjects are physics and sociology. His senior year is also filled with many activities.



KEITH EARLEY

He is a member of the National Honor Society. He is president of the Miami Trace Pep Club, a member of the senior choir, and president of the Folksingers. He plays bass guitar in a rock-blues band with Kathy Woodfork, Scott Crissinger, and Bob Ford. He is also vice president of manufacturing in a Junior Achievement company and a member of the varsity wrestling team.

Repairing TVs and radios is the hobby that leads Keith to a career in electronics engineering. He plans to attend Ohio University at Athens.

When asked how it felt to be a senior, Keith replied, "It feels great. I've had a great time in the last four years. I only wish I could have four more years just as good."

Keith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Earley of Rt. 3, Washington C.H.

Teacher feature

By DAWN SCHLICHTER

One of the student teachers who chose Miami Trace in which to gain her teaching experience is Miss Gail Buchy.

A native of Greenville, Ohio, Miss Buchy is a student at Ohio State University, where she is majoring in Home Economics Education. While at Miami Trace she is teaching a freshman class and a senior food class and is helping with the Future Homemakers of America.

MISS GAIL BUCHY

At the university Miss Buchy is active in the Saddle and Sirloin Club and the Campus Girl Scouts. She has served on committees in her college and is also active in her home church. Her outside interests include OSU football, crafts, collecting coins from foreign countries, and collecting and trying new recipes.

Miss Buchy chose Miami Trace at which to do her student teaching because she likes the rural area and comes from a community similar to this one. When asked her impression of Miami Trace, she said, "I really like it." She also commented that she feels accepted here and likes the students and teachers.

Urge bottled water rules

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration is recommending that bottled drinking water be covered by the same quality standards that apply to public drinking water supplies.

The agency noted that bottled water is increasingly being used as a source of drinking water, partly because of consumer affluence and partly because of concern over reports of pollution of some public water supplies.

It said, however, that a 1971 survey of 85 bottled water samples disclosed that eight contained coliform bacteria from human waste.

If the FDA recommendations are finally adopted, the criteria that covers bacteriological, physical, chemical and radioactive limits of public water supplies will also apply to bottled water.

Bottled water has not previously been subject to federal quality standards.

Most tax rates for '73 show slight increases

The complete list of property tax rates for 1973 has been released by Fayette County Auditor Mrs. Mary Morris. Most rates reflect slight increases over those of last year.

The highest overall rate of taxation in the county is 39.90 mills, in Washington C.H.

Rates include millage for townships and corporations, as well as school district taxes. School taxes make up most of the various districts' total rates.

The county expects to realize $435,815.96 from property taxes in 1973, according to the county's official certificate of estimated resources.

THE LIST of rates for 1973, including school districts within the various townships (with 1972 rates in parentheses):

Concord Township, Miami Trace — 28.00 (27.80); Green Township, Miami Trace — 28.80 (27.60); Jasper Township, Miami Trace — 27.60 (27.40); Jefferson Township, Miami Trace — 29.50 (29.30); Jefferson Township, Greeneview — 33.45 (34.45); Madison Township, Miami Trace — 27.90 (27.70); Madison Township, Madison-Plains — 31.05 (29.55);

Marion Township, Miami Trace — 29.30 (29.90); Paint Township, Miami Trace — 27.60 (27.40); Paint Township, Madison-Plains — 30.75 (29.25); Perry Township, Miami Trace — 28.10 (27.90); Perry Township, Greenfield Exempted — 36.35 (30.95); Union Township, Miami Trace — 28.70 (28.50); Union Township, Washington City — 36.00 (35.80); Wayne Township, Miami Trace — 28.40 (28.20).

Corporations: Milledgeville — 28.80 (28.60); Octa (Jasper Township) — 28.80 (28.60); Octa (Jefferson Township) — 29.60 (29.40); Jeffersonville — 32.40 (32.20); New Holland — 32.30 (32.90); Bloomingburg — 32.00 (31.80); Washington C.H. — 39.90 (39.70).

Youth program explained to Kiwanis Club

The "Youth in Government" program, which has become one of the major interests of the Washington Senior High School Hi-Y Club, was explained at the Kiwanis Club meeting Tuesday night by four of the members, Mike Domenico, Mark Allen, John Tatman and Steve Hill.

Domenico pointed out that the "Youth in Government" program was initiated by C. William O'Neill, now chief justice of the Ohio Supreme Court, more than 20 years ago. The purpose, he said, was and still is, to give high school students an opportunity to participate in the procedures of the judicial branch of government by conducting mock trials before juries. Local attorneys serve as advisers, and Judge Evelyn W. Coffman, of the Common Pleas Court, presided at one trial. One case was appealed to the Supreme Court and heard by that court in its chambers.

Hill reported on participation in the legislative branch by the Hi-Y students. He explained that four committee members made a study to determine what legislation is needed and then prepared a bill suitable for submission to the legislature. This years, the bill deals with the use of vending machines by youth under 18 years old.

The Hi-Y representatives at the meeting said the "Youth in Government" program needs public support and said it will cost approximately $600 to send 12 members of the WSHS club to Columbus to participate in the program at the state level this year. Austin Crusie is the club adviser.

The program was presented following dinner in the Lafayette Inn. The short business session was conducted by the president, the Rev. Gerald Wheat.

Larry Lloyd, Avoset Co. plant engineer here, was the guest of Gerald Begin.

Hughes heads Bloomingburg affairs board

BLOOMINGBURG — The Board of Public Affairs, which administers the village's water system, has elected Robert F. Hughes chairman to succeed Gilbert E. Biddle, who has served for the past three years, and has approved an appropriation of $20,000 for the water system.

Of the appropriation, $8,000 is applied annually for retirement of bonds issued for construction of the $120,000 water system in 1951. The remaining $12,000 is for overall operations, including salaries, maintenance and electric power (approximately $1,600 a year) to operate the pumps.

The board also authorized the superintendent to make a thorough survey of the water lines to and in Hunt's Trailer Court.

The word "monk" first meant a solitary, or one who lives alone. In the course of time, monk came to mean a member of a religious community.

Savings Bank reviews 1972 growth

When the annual stockholders' meeting of the Washington Savings Bank was held Tuesday, directors re-elected to the board were: A. H. Finley, chairman; R. E. Whiteside, president; Herbert C. Hoppes, farm owner, Ralph K. Child, farm owner; Ralph Theobald, farm owner; Ronald K. Cornwell, president, Jackson Glove Co. and farm owner; Howard G. Wright, president, Pennington Bread Inc.; Paul F. Rodenfels, publisher, Record-Herald; and Rollo M. Marchant, attorney-at-law and farm owner.

In his report summarizing the bank's progress, Whiteside pointed out that total assets had increased over $3½ million. Total loans stood at more than $12 million. The bank believes that the money should be working in the community, so as deposits increase, more money is made available to the farmers, businesses and individuals.

The record year was made possible by the dedication of the employes to always make serving the customers of the bank their primary objective, Whiteside said.

Some "fresh" and "different" ideas were presented to the area during 1972 in the bank's efforts to bring to the people things they need or want, the president observed. Among these were the purchase of license plates for all new car loans; the Pass-a-Payment loan plan to help borrowers over a time when they are short on funds; the "Time for New Wheels" theme used in the early part of the year and the immediate processing of all loan applications.

Bringing Zsa Zsa Gabor to the Savings Bank in June ranked as a highlight for the entire community, Whiteside said.

"International Services were introduced, and again the people of our area have taken advantage of a service which had only been available through the city banks," he continued.

"Trust counseling has continued and proves to be a useful service to many of our friends.

"The affiliation with Huntington Bancshares Inc. helps provide services which a small bank, such as ours, would be unable to furnish. We feel our people deserve this kind of service and are happy to be in a position to provide it."

Looking at the economy, Whiteside pointed out deposits in the three banks of Fayette County have increased approximately $8 million. This indicates the economy was favorable in the area in 1972, he said. "Agricultural income certainly was the big factor in this increase. Although the crop harvest was late in most cases, it had little effect on the 1972 economy. Only time will tell us how it will effect the economy of 1973.

"We are concerned with the 'plight of the farmer.' However, we have seen them overcome so many obstacles in the past. We are confident it will be done this time, also. Our pledge is to work closely with the farmer, as we always have, and do everything possible to ease his financial burden."

At the reorganization meeting following the stockholders' meeting, Finley was elected chairman; Whiteside, president; V. Leroy Barton and Kenneth A. Payton, vice presidents, and Bruce Ream and Ronald Warner, assistant vice presidents.

New Holland home damaged by blaze

NEW HOLLAND — Fire of undertermined origin caused heavy damage to a New Holland home Tuesday evening.

New Holland firemen reported that a room at the rear of the Ora C. Burdge residence, 151 Allen Ave., suffered extensive damage from the blaze which apparently started in a rear inside porch area. Firemen also reported heavy smoke damage.

The cause of the blaze is still under investigation.

Courts

ACTIONS DISMISSED

Two divorce actions have been dismissed from Common Pleas Court on the motions by the plaintiffs.

A petition filed by Charles H. Curtin, Rt. 4, against Betty Lou Curtin, Rt. 4, has been dismissed along with a cross-petition filed by the defendant.

Also dismissed was a petition filed by James Larry Cook, 311 S. Main St., against Rosa Martella Cook, Jeffersonville.

Appliance theft case bound over to grand jury

Two felony cases were heard by Acting Judge John Bryan in Municipal Court Tuesday. One defendant was bound over to the grand jury and the other charge was reduced to a misdemeanor and heard by the court.

Bound over to the grand jury under $5,000 bond was William J. Suiter, 31, Staunton, charged with grand larceny in connection with a massive theft of appliances, carpeting and building materials from Redman Industries, 2000 Kenskill Ave., during the past several years.

Suiter was arrested by police Nov. 18, after they uncovered a hoard of stolen goods in his Hillsboro apartment house.

Suiter, who earlier had pleaded not guilty to the charge, waived preliminary hearing.

BOBBY HAITHCOCK, 36, Bloomingburg, was fined $150 and costs and given a suspended 60-day jail term after he pleaded guilty to a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

The charge was filed by Ted Baker, Bloomingburg Elementary School gymnasium Jan. 2.

The charge was reduced from a felony to a misdemeanor at the request of County Prosecutor Otis Hess.

In the only other case before the court Tuesday morning, Clemen E. Edwards, 50, of 1221 E. Temple St., forfeited $25 bond when he failed to appear on a charge of failure to yield right of way. Clemens was cited by police Friday following a car-truck collision at the intersection of Washington Avenue and Old Chillicothe Road.

Property damage crashes reported

Only two minor traffic accidents were reported in the Fayette County area by city police and sheriff's departments Tuesday. There were no injuries or citations in the mishaps.

A car driven by Joycelyn D. Welsh, 35, Bloomingburg, collided with the rear of another automobile driven by Joan B. Walker, 38, Greenfield, on CCC Highway, two miles northeast of Washington C.H. Tuesday evening.

Sheriff's deputies said the Walker car had stopped for a school bus discharging passengers and was struck in the rear by the Welsh vehicle. Damage was moderate.

Police investigated a minor accident on the J & J Restaurant lot involving a car driven by Sue R. Smith, 69, Rt. 3, Sabina, and a parked car owned by Jack W. Matthews, of 1335 N. North St. Only minor damage was listed in the 4:42 p.m. mishap.

Rotarians briefed on area study

Paul Baldridge, of Columbus, consultant for the Mid-Ohio Regional Planning Commission, explained to Rotarians Tuesday that the purpose of a feasibility study being made in this eight-county area is to determine how these counties could establish cooperatively a workable strategy and mechanism for solving areawide problems and take advantage of areawide opportunities.

Counties in the area are Delaware, Franklin, Fayette, Fairfield, Licking, Madison, Pickaway and Union.

The study, he said, is being conducted in cooperation with local units of government and citizens of the region and the Ohio Department of Economic Development.

THE REGION is characterized by a large, rapidly growing metropolitan center and many changes, he said. He pointed out that many problems and opportunities in the region do not respect local government boundaries and that federal, state and local resources are limited. There has been little coordination of planning, program administration and delivery of services, he emphasized. The federal government recently has undertaken a study of this problem.

Local governments and citizens of Central Ohio should have an opportunity to determine that best future for the region and how best to achieve it, he declared.

THE FEASIBILITY study will include (1) the kind of problem-solving and planning activities that can be most effectively undertaken on an areawide basis; (2) relationship of these proposed activities to those of the federal, state and local governments in the region: (3) services that are needed and could be provided most effectively on an areawide basis; (4) most effective mechanism for review of federal grant applications on an areawide basis; (5) type of organization that would best serve the needs of the region and accomplish areawide functions; and (6) alternatives for structure, membership, powers, staff, financing, legislation, etc. for the type of areawide agency recommended.

A final report of the feasibility study will be prepared for distribution in June, Baldridge said, and added all work will be completed by July 1.

The Rotary Club program, arranged by Clarence Cooper, was presented Tuesday following luncheon in the Country Club.

President Fred Domenico conducted the business session at which Jack Brennan, manager of Pennington Bread, Inc., here and City Manger Dan Wolford were welcomed into membership in the club. Brennan was sponsored by Jack Alkire and Wolford by Domenico.

J. Herbert Perrill was the guest of Cooper and Vic Luneborg was the guest of Bill Pool.

Student guests were Gary Huff, of WSHS, and Jeff Spear, of MTHS.

Visiting Rotarians were Len Palmer, of Fairborn, Mike Myers, of Hillsboro, Art Dick, of Mount Sterling, Darrell French, of Wilmington, and Merrill Kaufman, of Delaware. Richard Edwards, who came with Meyers, also was a guest.

TA WA KI CAMP FIRE

The Ta Wa Ki Camp Fire Girls met at the CF office Saturday to tie papers and load them for their paper drive. A meeting followed, and new officers were elected. Becky Annon called the roll and Nancy Binzel led the Pledge of Allegiance. The Camp Fire Law was led by Miss Sandy Fackler, the leader. Amy Boyer led the Trail Seeker's Desire.

Officers elected were Teresa Hopsob, president; Amy Boyer, vice president; Maurica Milstead, news reporter; Crystal Bell, secretary; Gladys McClendon, sergeant-at-arms; Nancy Binzel, treasurer; Becky Annon, roll caller; and Jana Hanawalt, Pledge of Allegiance leader; and Trail Seeker's Desire leader, Kristi Upthegrove.

Refreshments were cupcakes and punch brought by Crystal Bell and Nancy Binzel. We talked about the ceremonial jackets, on which we are putting our awards and beads we have earned.

Those present were Maurica Milstead, Amy Boyer, Kristi Upthegrove, Jana Hanawalt, Becky Annon, Gladys McClendon, Nancy Binzel, Crystal Bell, Teresa Hopson and Miss Fackler.

Shocknessy nixes turnpike honor

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — James W. Shocknessy, chairman of the Ohio Turnpike Commission, says he's "honored" by a proposal that would name the Ohio Turnpike after him but that he feels the road already "is aptly-named.

"The Ohio Turnpike ... embodies in its name all the history and glory of our beloved state," said Shocknessy, "and gives recognition" to the "people of Ohio, whose reputation for integrity undergirded its financing ... and have sustained and supported it."

Shocknessy was responding to a bill introduced by the Ohio House of Representatives.

Sides taken in national market concept

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — As Paul Kolton spoke, you would never guess that the media was discussing what it termed a basic disagreement between him, president of the American Stock Exchange, and James Needham, New York Stock Exchange chairman.

"I really admire him," he said. Areas of agreement with Needham are far more numerous than conflicts, he said. He cited instances of "significant progress" in joint efforts to resolve mutual challenges.

In a new year message dated Jan. 3, Kolton had reiterated his position that the now-evolving central marketplace should be governed by an authority to be called a national board of exchanges.

Such a mechanism, he said, "should be a self-regulatory organization with authority to resolve quickly and equitably those problems that are not within the power of any one industry authority."

It would represent the various exchanges, member firms and the public, "an organization that can get its arms around all aspects of the industry."

It would mean, he said, that each of the exchanges—NYSE, Amex, Midwest, Pacific Coast and others—would have to "yield a portion of its authority to the governing body for the general good."

Needham immediately dismissed the suggestion as "an exercise in futility." It had been discussed before and dismissed, he said. He indicated that his preference remained for a corporate-type merger of the exchanges.

Some securities people thought Needham's dismissal of an important suggestion by the head of the second largest exchange to be unusually abrupt and authoritarian.

The diplomatic Kolton, didn't think so. "I saw him on television and I didn't think so. I've discussed it with him before and since." No disagreement, was the suggestion. An interpretation: You don't challenge the biggest head on.

In fact, he continued, "until the press viewed it as a disagreement I didn't see it as a disagreement but as a different approach in governing a national system." The emphasis, he said, should be that Needham and Kolton agree that a system of government must be devised for a new national market.

Taft named assistant whip in Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert Taft Jr. of Ohio is one of six Republican senators named Tuesday to serve as assistant whips in the 93rd Congress.

Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott and Assistant GOP Leader Robert Griffin said the six will assist them as part of what they called "our shared leadership approach."

The other assistant whips are Sens. J. Glenn Beall Jr. of Maryland, James L. Buckley of New York, Robert T. Stafford of Vermont, Ted Stevens of Alaska, and Lowell P. Weicker of Connecticut.

U.S. to resume bombing 'if necessary'

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — U.S. Sen. William Saxbe says a member of the Nixon Administration told him resumption of full-scale bombing over North Vietnam was one of the alternatives if the Paris peace talks failed.

William M. Hoiles, an aide to the Republican senator from Ohio, said Tuesday that Saxbe obtained the information at a Monday luncheon with Gen. Alexander Haig, a former aide to Vietnam negotiator Henry Kissinger.

Hoiles, reached by telephone in Washington, quoted Saxbe as saying that renewed bombing "was one of the alternatives mentioned."

Saxbe could not be reached for comment, but Hoiles said the senator had told him an earlier, published report on his conversation with Gen.

Haig was accurate except that the bombing resumption was only one of several alternatives mentioned.

Saxbe quoted Haig as saying the 12 days of saturation bombing between Dec. 18 and Dec. 30 would help shorten the war by damaging Hanoi's will and ability to fight.

But Saxbe, who was critical of the December bombing raids, said he did not agree with Haig's assessment of the effectiveness of the raids. Saxbe charged that the Administration's position was wrong because "there are no real strategic targets left in North Vietnam, and intensive bombing could not possibly serve any other purpose than to punish the North."

Saxbe was quoted as saying such "punitive bombing will go down as a blot in history-like Rotterdam and Dresden," two cities without military value which were firebombing targets during World War II.

FAYETTE CENTER OFFICE BUILDING — Completion of a 5,000-square-foot office complex in Fayette Center, between Elm Street and Columbus Avenue is tentively scheduled for completion and occupancy in April, according to Donald P. Woods, Fayette County Bank president and part owner of the property. The building is designed to accommodate three to seven offices. Woods said a lease had been signed for one office suite and leases for two others are being negotiated. The one-story building is being constructed on property owned by Woods, Dr. Ned Abbott, Frank Sollars, and Dr. Joseph Herbert, who also own the Stop and Go Food store and The Farm Restaurant buildings nearby.

Redman reports gains

DALLAS, Tex. — Redman Industries continued to make significant gains in market penetration in all its businesses last month. December revenues were $26.4 million, compared with $15.9 million in the prior year, an increase of 66 per cent.

Redman Mobile Homes' sales were $13.4 million for the month, compared with $8.4 million in December of last year, a 60 per cent gain. The other major subsidiaries showed significant revenue gains. Redman Properties' revenues increased 72 per cent, up to $10.1 million. Redman Building Products was up 71 per cent, with sales of $2.8 million.

The company also announced that it had agreed to acquire a mobile home manufacturing facility in Meridian, Miss., as part of an overall plan to capitalize on the need for low cost housing in the South. Lee Posey, president of Redman, said, "This year 66 per cent of all mobile homes sold were retailed south of the Mason-Dixon line, compared fo 64 per cent last year. The southern half of the United States continues to be the fastest growing market for low-cost housing."

Redman expects the sectional home, or double-wide mobile home, to represent almost 20 per cent of the mobile home market in the key Southern states in 1973 and is gearing marketing plans to catpure a major portion of this market.

Redman will complete calendar 1972 with mobile home shipments of approximately 38,000 homes. "This represents a significant gain in market penetration. Redman now has approximately 6.7 per cent of the total mobile home market, compared to under 5 per cent for calendar '71," Posey said. He indicated that he expects earnings for the quarter ended in December to be up approximately $.19 per share for the quarter.

Posey projected industry sales for calendar 1973 would be near 625-630,000 homes, compared to about 570,000 in calendar 1972, with sectional homes and 14'-wide gaining about 36 per cent of total 1973 market.

Panel discussion at TOPS meeting

Mrs. Joyce Cox was named "best loser of the week" at a meeting of the OH TOPS chapter 669 at Eastside School Monday evening. Mrs. Beryl Smith conducted the meeting, and a panel of 10 members discussed "Problems of dieting and how to solve them."

Participating in the program were Mrs. Dale Dunn, Mrs. Marjorie Looker, Mrs. Barbara Palmer, Mrs. Clarissa Black, Mrs. Russell Smith, Mrs. Robert Alkire, Mrs. Allen O. McClung, Mrs. Cox, Mrs. Forest Williams, and Mrs. Smith.

It was announced that two members, Mrs. Emmett Campbell and Mrs. Russell Miller, were patients in Memorial Hospital.

Miss Kay Riley was winner of the Christmas tree award for having lost the most weight and Mrs. Dunn, for the best decorated tree. Both won cash awards.

Winners for the month of December were Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Dunn, Mrs. Bernard Huffman and Mrs. Looker.

Johns unopposed in USW election

WASHINGTON (AP) — John S. Johns, director of United Steelworkers District 27 in Canton, Ohio, will be unopposed in the Union's elections next month to succeed retiring international vice president Joseph Malony.

The union's executive board said Tuesday two other nominees had withdrawn and a third, Samuel Stokes of Columbus, Ohio, had been declared ineligible because he was behind in dues.

TV Viewing

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Jack Paar, the shy, retiring lord of the late hour, beat his old NBC "Tonight" show in the ratings here, but lost in Los Angeles during his debut on the ABC Television network.

The Angelenos apparently preferred Johnny Carson by a wide margin Monday night, despite the big publicity buildup ABC gave Paar's new one-week-a-month "Tonite" show.

However, the statistical tale of the two cities, compiled by the A.C. Nielsen ratings people, aren't the last word. They don't necessarily indicate the way things will go from here on in.

The real corporate sweats will begin when NBC and ABC executives sift throught he national ratings and share-of-audience samples for all this week to see how the Paar-Carson battle is shaping up.

But here is how the New York and Los Angeles ratings, supplied by NBC sources, looked after Paar's return to the tube Monday night:

—In New York, Paar and his cohost, Peggy Cass, logged an over-all rating of 9.8, which meant their efforts were seen in an estimated 600,000 homes; Carson got a 6.4 rating, which meant he was seen in an estimated 390,000 homes.

—In less-densely populated Los Angeles, Carson logged a 10.3 rating — 350,000 homes — and Paar a 5.2 rating, which put him in an estimated 175,000 homes.

Paar was visibly nervous when he walked on the stage of ABC's 58th Street studio here to pick up where he left off after departing NBC's "Tonight" show in 1962.

"Well, you're very kind," he told the audience as it applauded his opening gags enthusiastically. "I'm so scared. But I'll get over that quick. But here we all are on the great ship Titanic."

He noted that "there's a lot of talk in the industry about competition with NBC, which is pretty foolish. You'd think that in a country of 210 million people, surely there's room for two of us — me and Ed McMahon."

For younger viewers who may know him only vaguely, he explained: "I'm the guy who used to entertain your fathers and mothers and keep them up at night — obviously, not too well, or you wouldn't be here."

But he wasn't the Paar of old. His timing was off and his fans undoubtedly bled for the guy as his opening monologue fell down and died. Carson fans tuning in out of curiousity may have cheered.

It wasn't an auspicious start. But it takes time to get used to new surroundings and the rhythm of a new regular show. It'll get better. It has to.

Midwife service operates despite California law

SANTA CRUZ, Calif. (AP) — Despite a California law barring the practice, seven local women operate a midwife service for expectant mothers who want to give birth at home "no matter what."

"We want to help people who want to have babies at home like me," Dor Gruver said in an interview Monday. "It used to be that people were scared to do it because there was no one to help them. Now they realize they can have what they want."

Mrs. Gruver, 22, said she "doesn't feel like a criminal" although she knows midwifery is illegal in California.

"The authorities have left us alone and the doctors hate us but leave us alone," she said. "We're not hiring anyone. It's a satisfying experience for me and for the people I'm doing it for."

Santa Cruz County Dist. Atty. Peter Chang said officials are concerned about the practice but it is hard to prove a case since most people who use midwives will not take them to court.

The midwives educate the woman and her husband about pregnancy and give training in natural childbirth, Mrs. Gruver said.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

TREAD WEAR EXPECTANCY
Because of variable driving habits and road conditions under which tires are used, it is impractical for Montgomery Ward, and conceivably misleading to our customers, to guarantee any specific number of months or miles of tread wear. We can, however, indicate the wear potential we have built into our tires in terms of service in normal family use. If a Riverside tire wears down to the tread wear indicators during the Tread Wear Expectancy, Montgomery Ward will upon presentation of the tire and evidence of date of purchase replace the tire for the then current price less the following dollar allowance:

Tread Wear Expectancy	Tread Wearout Allowance Prorated on
40,000 miles	Miles Driven
45 month	$13.00
40 month	10.00
39 month	8.00
36 month	6.00
33 month	5.00
30 month	4.00
24 month	3.00
18 month	2.00

Tread Wear Expectancy offer does not apply to tires used commercially.

Tobacco Ads Reappearing

Have you noticed that, in a subtle way, tobacco advertisements and commercials are beginning to reappear on the television screen?

How do these differ from the old commercials for cigarettes that were banned because they represented a health hazard?

I teach at a college and am impressed by the fact that many students are passing around small cigars as well as cigarettes. They seem to think these little cigars are not dangerous. Is that true?

Mr. H. F., Conn

Dear Mr. F.:

The slow but persistent invasion on the television screen by tobacco manufacturers is clearly apparent.

Once again, through the selling of these little cigars, smoking is glamorized, romanticized, and given the aura of love, masculinity, femininity and limitless happiness.

I assume that it won't be long now before FCC rulings exert pressure on manufacturers to cease and desist from a practice that clearly attempts to curcumnavigate the existing laws about cigarette advertising.

Pressure is being made by the American Cancer Society and by legislators to close the loophole that permits manufacturers to continue to sidestep their responsibility to the nation's health.

Scientific tests show that smoking little cigars and inhaling them as if they are cigarettes is distinctly injurious to health. The concentration of tars may be even higher than in some cigarettes.

Pressure by responsible citizen groups can be a persuasive influence in again clearing the television screens of this threat to good health.

Every few weeks I get a painful lump in my armpit. Sometimes they are so painful that I can't get dressed. Could sharing or using a deodorant be responsible?

Mrs. C. D., Ga

Dear Mrs. D.:

It is not uncommon, with people who shave too closely under the arms for germs to be introduced into the abrasions of the skin.

Some deodorants and antiperspirants can also be irritating, especially if one has a particular sensitivity to them.

Small abscesses can form and when these open, they may infect adjacent areas. Then scar tissue forms and resistance to infection may thus be diminished.

It might be wise to avoid shaving too closely, perhaps discontinuing all antiperspirants for a while.

Your doctor will probably culture the material that is expressed from these small abscesses.

Sometimes, a vaccine made from one's own germs can be effective.

Local use of antibiotic ointment, and rigid hygienic care may prevent the recurrences of these infections.

You should use nonallergic products for this area of your body.

Can toy turtles be dangerous to children who play with them?

Mrs. J. R., Ohio

Dear Mrs. R.:

Many Public Health bulletins have warned that turtles infected with the salmonella bacteria can transmit the germs to children who handle them. Pet turtles should NOT be brought into the home.

The bidding:

Opening lead - king of diamonds.

Dear Mr. Becker: I have read your column for many, many years and must say I have learned a great deal from it. I'm not saying I always play well, but once in a while I manage to do something exceptionally good.

Take this hand, where I was South. You probably won't agree with my bidding, but I am by nature an optimist and could not resist the temptation to try to make four hearts despite West's notrump bid.

West doubled, of course, and teed off with the K-A and another diamond, at the same time setting back comfortably in his chair, confident of beating the contract with his two trump tricks.

I pitched a spade from dummy — this was a very important play — and successfully finessed the ten of spades. After cashing the ace of clubs and A-K of spades, on which I discarded my club loser, I ruffed a club.

Next I trumped the queen of diamonds with dummy's eight and ruffed the last club. By this time ten tricks had been played and I had only the A-J-10 of trumps left, while West had the K-Q-7.

I'm sure you can see what happened next. I led the jack of trumps and West took it with the queen. I can't say exactly what now took place, because just at that moment my wife woke me up and said it was time to get out of bed and go to work.

This was extremely frustrating, because I never did complete the endplay, but all the same I'm proud of having discarded a spade from dummy at trick three, even though I did it only in my sleep. Cordially yours, Constant Reader.

Family short 5 bedrooms, but Dad glad it's quints

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — James Baer says his house is "short five bedrooms" but he still calls the birth of quintuplets to his wife a "miracle and a blessi. g."

"I don't know what one baby costs, let alone five," Baer told newsmen Monday at Evanston Hospital, where the five-day-old quints were rushed shortly after their birth Friday in Highland Park Hospital.

The three girls and two boys born to his wife, Lynn, 26, were the Baers' first children. The 30-year-old Northbrook stockbroker confirmed reports that his wife had taken fertility drugs and added, "If we had it to do over again, we would have repeated everything we've done. My wife and I wanted a family more than anything in the world and God knows we finally succeeded...."

The infants, ranging in weight from 1 pound, 11 ounces to 2 pounds, 14 ounces, are "beyond the most difficult period" said Dr. Thomas Gardner, the neonatology specialist caring for them.

Gardner guessed the infants would spend two months in Evanston Hospital, a referral center for premature and high risk babies.

He said all five children were receiving milk via nasal and gastric tubes and their color was good.

"Their chances for survival are quite good," he said.

Mrs. Baer was reported in excellent condition in Highland Park Hospital.

Baer said he has had one "commercial offer" involving the infants and that he has not had the time to think about the added financial responsibilities.

Planned cut in Amtrak funds ripped

WASHINGTON (AP) — A fight is expected in Congress over administration proposals to sharply curtail federal funding for Amtrak, the national passenger train service.

Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., said proposed cuts, if approved by Congress, "would dismantle passenger service." Hartke is chairman of the Senate surface transit subcommittee.

"The American People," Hartke said, "are determined to have rail service, and not more cars. We need more — not fewer — dollars" for passenger train service.

Sources in the government said the Nixon administration is freezing $9.1 million in current appropriations for Amtrak and will propose sharp cuts in national intercity passenger-train service.

Vol. 115 — No. 24 | 20 Pages | Washington Court House, Ohio | 15 Cents | Wednesday, Jan. 10, 1973

THE PRESIDENT IS 60 — President Richard Nixon relaxes during an interview in his White House office on his 60th birthday. He said the way to beat advancing age is to avoid boredom, look at the future and — above all — to have young people around. (AP Wirephoto)

Jury hears Watergate evidence

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government prosecutor said today the seven Watergate defendants were operating under an assignment to sniff out plans for demonstrations against Republican speakers and uncover embarrassing facts about Democrats.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Earl J. Silbert, in his opening address to the jury, said the prosecution would try to prove that the operations were conducted under the direction of G. Gordon Liddy, a former White House and Treasury Department aide. He was general counsel for the Finance Committee to Re-elect the President at the time of the breakin at Democratic National Committee headquarters in Washington's Watergate complex last July 17.

Silbert told the jury that Liddy was given the espionage assignment by Jeb Stuart Magruder, formerly top lieutenant in the White House communications office and deputy director of President Nixon's reelection campaign, and Herbert Porter, scheduling director of the Committee for the Re-election of the President. Porter was also chief of the program of surrogate speakers who did much of Nixon's campaign in last year's presidential election.

The prosecution's opening statement to the jury was the first indication of what approach the government will take in trying to prove its case against the seven men. They are accused of conspiring to break into and bug the Democratic party headquarters and the campaign offices of Sen. George McGovern, who later became the Democrats' presidential nominee.

The trial began after selection of a jury described by a defense lawyer as "normal people."

Gas shortages hit Deep South

Arctic cold heightens weather problems

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Millions shivered today as an intense outbreak of arctic cold settled over much of the nation, sending temperatures below freezing deep into the South.

Sub zero cold enveloped the entire region from the Rockies to the Great Lakes.

Natural gas shortages in Louisiana and Mississippi caused cutbacks to industrial users, and inadequate pipeline facilities caused similar problems to Texas industry. Top priority throughout the Southeast went to homes and hospitals. Many schools were ordered closed.

About 148,000 Atlanta area residents spent a third straight night without heat or lights following Sunday's ice storm, and officials said many face two more days of similar discomfort.

Oklahoma's governor called a special meeting of rescue agencies to prepare for an onslaught of snow and bitter cold barreling across that state. Many Oklahomans were snowbound and livestock was stranded or killed by weather conditions in the past few days.

In the West, snow fell from the mountains of California through the Plateau region and from the central and southern Rockies to the central and southern Plains. Kansas was under a heavy-snow watch.

Gale warnings were posted for the Pacific Northwest coast and travel advisories were issued for the Sierra Nevada mountains, Utah, Colorado and central mountains of Arizona. Heavy-snow warnings were posted for the northern and central mountains of New Mexico.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from33 at Bozeman, Mont., to 69 at Key West, Fla.

Conserve gas, DP&L urges

The Dayton Power and Light Co. is urging its customers to conserve as much natural gas as they can.

Colder than normal temperatures this winter have made the shortage of natural gas even more serious. In November and December natural gas consumption was 7 per cent more than DP&L's gas allotment.

All natural gas customers are "strongly" encouraged to take these steps to conserve natural gas:

1. Reduce heating thermostats as low as possible.

2 Avoid frequent re-settings and always make gradual adjustments.

3. Clean or replace furnace filters several times during the heating season.

4. Draw draperies over large windows to prevent heat loss. Windows facing sun should be left uncovered to let in heat.

5. Avoid unnecessary opening of outside doors. Keep storm windows and doors tightly closed.

6. Close dampers on fireplaces when not in use.

7. Keep inner doors to unheated areas closed. Avoid blocking warm air registers or cold air returns.

8. Do not set water heater thermostat too high. Set at 135 degrees or less. However, water for dishwashers may need to be heated to 150 degrees or as recommended.

9. Plan gas oven use so that more than one item can be cooked or baked at the same time. Complete meals can often be prepared using the same oven temperature.

10. Plan laundering so that full loads are washed and dried whenever possible.

Industrial customers having alternate fuel facilities have already, at DP&L's request, been asked to switch away from natural gas to their alternate fuel.

All other industrial and commercial customers are being called and asked to voluntarily conserve natural gas as much as possible until further notice.

If further curtailment of natural gas should become necessary, residences and other consumers providing for human needs (such as hospitals) would continue to be served.

Weather

Partly cloudy tonight. Lows from 5 to 15., a chance of snow Thursday with highs from the lower to upper 20s.

Wage-price plan nearly completed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon is nearing a final decision on the shape of Phase 3 wage-price controls amid indications the new economic rules may be imposed before April 30, when the old ones expire.

In fact, some officials hinted that the President may decide to put Phase 3 into effect within a few weeks, around the time that a new budget and his new economic message go to Congress.

The White House said Nixon, after receiving recommendations from his economic advisers Tuesday morning, "very possibly" will make a final decision on the new wage-price-control system this week.

Presidential Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler ruled out any controls at the farm-produce level, but otherwise gave no details on how the new system would look.

In past weeks, administration economic policy-makers have hinted that rent controls might be dropped in Phase 3 because they are too burdensome, that the profit-margin restraint would be lightened on businesses, and that coverage of the program might be limited to the nation's largest businesses and labor unions.

But officials, after learning of Nixon's intentions to make an announcement on the new program soon, said the President may go in a different direction.

While Phase 3 controls probably will be no tighter as far as food prices are concerned, the administration is expected to launch a vigorous effort to step up food supplies, thus putting downward pressure on prices. Food prices are controlled now at the wholesale and retail level.

The administration has pledged that it will make a special effort to cut food prices this year. The enormity of the problem was demonstrated again Tuesday with the release of December's Wholesale Price Index.

The bureau of Labor Statistics reported that wholesale prices went up by a sharp 1.8 per cent last month, the biggest increase since January of 1951. Food prices were responsible for most of that increese.

As for the economic-stabilization law, the administration is reported leaning to a one-year extension, with no major changes in the law. It has reasoned that the control program must be thought of as temporary, and that a permanent system would make labor and business react differently to wages and prices and force up inflationary pressures.

Wage freeze protested in Britain

LONDON (AP) — Major British airports and government offices were brought to a standstill today by thousands of government employes who staged the first big union revolt against Prime Minister Edward Heath's wage freeze.

The nationwide protest hit close to home for Heath. Work at his Cabinet office at 10 Downing St. was slowed for several hours when 140 clerks walked out.

They later handed in a protest letter demanding Heath lift the freeze. But indications were the prime minister will extend it until April.

Heath imposed the freeze Nov. 6 in a bid to curb inflation. It meant all pay claims were shelved until the government lifted the restrictions.

The government employes' unions charge the freeze halted a Jan. 1 review of salaries. They are demanding a pay increase free of all restrictions. However, Heath has refused similar demands from other unions in the last few weeks.

The rebel civil servants are members of two unions that represent 400,000 government employes.

Thousands of airline passengers at British airports faced long delays as 2,000 air traffic controllers, customs and immigration officers and administrative staff, all civil servants, staged a three-hour stoppage. As many as 60 flights were delayed at London's Heathrow Airport and thousands of passengers jammed unmanned immigration checkpoints.

Prestwick Airport in Scotland and Manchester Airport, two key provincial centers, also were hit by the walkout.

New Orleans sniper conspiracy possible

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Police have identified the sniper they killed on a hotel rooftop as a young Kansas black whose minister says he "hated white folks."

Supt. Clarence Giarrusso told a news conference Tuesday that the sniper was Mark J. Essex, 23, of Emporia and added: "There's some evidence of a conspiracy by other people, but I cannot positively tell you yet."

Six persons were shot to death and 17 injured in the sniping incident.

Giarrusso also said:

— Ballistics prove a .44 magnum carbine found next to Essex' body was the same weapon that killed a young police cadet and wounded a policeman in New Orleans on New Year's Eve.

— Police "have evidence that would lead to both conclusions" — that Essex was the only sniper on the roof of the DownTown Howard Johnson's hotel, and that one or more fellow snipers were with him and escaped.

Asked whether his reference to conspiracy meant he had evidence Essex belonged to a militant organization, Giarrusso said:

"I'm not certain about that yet ... (but) conspiracy in the sense that it may have been two, three or four people; a small number — you know, it doesn't take many to form a conspiracy — who were intent to kill people. And that's the sum and essence of it."

He said the carbine was the same weapon that cut down cadet Alfred Harrell, 19, as he stepped in front of police headquarters 10 days ago and wounded Patrolman Edwin C. Hosli Sr., 18 minutes later a few blocks away.

At the time of the New Year's Eve shootings, Giarrusso said, "We had some information — reason to believe people were going to hurt someone when Harrell and Hosli were taken to Charity Hospital."

On the basis of that information, during the sniping he deployed extra officers at the hospital, where following a brief disturbance a man with a shotgun was arrested.

In Essex' hometown of Emporia, the Rev. W. A. Chambers, his family's minister, said young Essex had developed a militant dislike for whites when he came home from the Navy.

In Washington, the Navy said Essex was given a general discharge for unsuitability Feb. 10, 1970. A spokesman said this type of discharge involves "character and behavior disorders" but would not elaborate.

Meanwhile, police debated whether there was more than one sniper.

Giarrusso gave these reasons to think Essex wasn't alone:

— After his death, a helicopter which participated in a police seige on the hotel was fired upon. "You'd have to assume the police hit the plane (if Essex was alone). This is possible, but highly improbable."

— After Essex died, several policemen saw another person on the roof. "There were very, very many shots taken at this person while this person, or this ghost allegedly moved.... I can't believe that the policemen ... were all hallucinating."

— Policemen heard foul language and shouting and talking on the rooftop after Essex was killed.

Giarrusso cited these reasons for believing Essex acted alone.

$145 million judgment against Hughes firm voided

WASHINGTON (AP) — On a 6-2 vote the Supreme Court today threw out a $145-million judgment against the Hughes Tool Co.

Hughes Tool is owned wholly by Howard R. Hughes, the recluse industrialist.

The award, to Trans World Airlines, was more than 30 times larger than any other judgment in an American court.

It was gathering interest at the rate of 7½ per cent over the last few years.

Justice William O. Douglas, speaking for the court, said the default judgment recommended in 1968 by former U.S. Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell was invalid since the transactions that were the basis of TWA's suit had been approved by the Civil Aeronautics Board and conduct approved by the CAB is immune from antitrust liability.

The dissenters in a case now 12 years old were Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and Justice Harry A. Blackmun.

Brownell, acting as a special master in the case, had concluded Hughes Tool violated antitrust law because of its failure to purchase jet aircraft for TWA in the 1950s. Hughes Tool then owned more than 78 per cent of TWA stock.

Brownell's judgment was confirmed in 1969 by U.S. Dist. Judge Charles M. Metzner of New York and in 1971 by the U.S. Circuit Court in New York.

Douglas said the circuit court erred when it rejected Toolco's defense that the purchase of the aircraft and the financing were transactions under the control of the CAB and therefore immune from the antitrust laws.

Adm. Moorer had no part in bombing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff says the only reason given him for the heavy bombing of the Hanoi-Haiphong area last month was that it was a continuation of the administration's bomb-or-negotiate policy.

Adm. Thomas H. Moorer, asked by newsmen if the White House had given him a reason for ordering the bombing resumed Dec. 18, replied: "No, the situation was that the restrictions imposed in October were lifted."

Moorer, the Pentagon's top military strategist, talked with reporters Tuesday after briefing the House Appropriations and Armed Services committees on the 12 days of stepped-up bombing. His appearance marked the first administration response to congressional calls for a complete explanation of the bombing's effectiveness and the decision to resume it.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird testified Monday that President Nixon's May 8 policy to bomb North Vietnam's industrial heartland and mine its key ports was suspended amid reports in October that peace was at hand. Laird said the bombing above the 20th Parallel was resumed when a settlement did not materialize.

Peacetalks continue in secret

PARIS (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger and Le Duc Tho met today in the third meeting of their new secret peace session in suburban Gif sur Yvette. Tho was host in the villa owned by the French Communist party.

For the third time in succession, the two delegations avoided any face-to-face encounter in public view. The sessions opened Monday in an atmosphere of apparent icy confrontation.

Kissinger and Tho maintained a news blackout on their talks.

They conferred for a total of 10½ hours Monday and Tuesday. Although the atmosphere appeared to relax somewhat Tuesday, there was no indication that the obstacles to agreement were being cleared away.

Ohio Assembly starts work

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The 110th General Assembly will begin hearings on bills next week as House Speaker A. G. Lancione gears up to get first-year business out of the way by July 1.

Both houses are to reconvene Wednesday afternoon to conclude their second week. They go back to work next Tuesday.

A Senate bill introduced Tuesday would lower the legal age of majority from 21 to 18 except for the purchase of alcoholic beverages.

It was sponsored by Sen. Stanley Aronoff, R-8 Cincinnati, who sponsored the U.S. constitutional amendment ratification resolution lowering the voting age.

Ohio became the 38th and deciding state to approve the amendment, which gave 18-year-olds the vote.

Aronoff, in the last session, wanted to give 18-year-olds all rights of majority, but was thwarted because many legislators balked over drinking privileges being included.

"I think this is a good proposal, and I don't think the drinking aspect is that important," Aronoff said. He deleted it before trying again.

A Republican attempt to embarrass the new Democratic majority in the House was thwarted when the lower chamber adopted new rules, promising open committee meetings unless the membership unanimously agreed on closing them.

Rep. Norman Murdock, R-21 Cincinnati, wanted it written in the new rules that all meetings would be open to the press and public.

Democrats quickly countered that Republicans had kept the Rules committee closed until the last year. They said there was no need to put in writing something Republicans had never followed.

"I assure you there will be no secret meeting of the Rules Committee as long as I'm on it," said Majority Leader Barney Quilter, D-47 Toledo. "I know the speaker feels the same way."

A bipartisan resolution was adopted in the House requesting the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the federal Office of Management and Budget to immediately release emergency funds for relief of Ohio farmers, hampered by damp weather from getting their crops in.

Bills were offered in both the Senate and House to permit couples to file their state income tax by either joint or individual returns.

Ohio tax sharing outlays listed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John Gilligan's proposals for spending $92.3 million of Ohio's 1972-1973 share of federal revenue sharing funds includes a $34.3 million allocation for vocational education.

It also calls for $18.5 million for various recreational improvements by the Natural Resources Department, and $3.8 million for a new program to subsidize bus fares of elderly and handicapped citizens who rely on mass transit for transportation.

Following is a summary of what the administration bill provides:

Department of Education — $34.3 million for construction and equipping of buildings for vocational education in areas of greatest need to be determined by the department.

Natural Resources — $18.5 million to acquire land, develop existing parks and trails, and increase access to Lake Erie beaches and state fishing facilities. Park land would be acquired at Punderson State Park ($300,000), Alum Creek ($400,000), Caesar Creek ($400,000), Buck Creek ($400,000), Stonelick ($300,000), Portage Lakes ($200,000), and Beaver Creek ($400,000).

For Lake Erie beach development, the governor proposed spending $3.7 million on projects to include Toledo, $300,000; Sandusky, $600,000; Lorain-Elyria, $800,000, and Cleveland, $2 million.

Other park allocations would include: Kelley's Island, $1.2 million; Cuyahoga Valley Park, $4 million; Great Seal State Park at Mount Logan near Chillicothe, $450,000; and state trails, $500,000, including a proposed 110-mile northcentral bikeway from Mount Gilead to McConnellsville which would have top priority.

Additional development and acquisition of fishing facilities would include Stillwater River, $100,000; Lake St. Marys, $100,000; Indian Lake, $100,000; Maumee River, $200,000; and Tuscarawas River, $200,000.

Among other projects envisioned by the bill are roadside camping areas near interstate highway rest stops and scenic river development.

Department of Public Works — $1.5 million each for the fire and police training academies and $756,000 as the state's share of armory costs for Youngstown-Warren and Alliance. An allocation of $500,000 would be set aside for expansion of the central crime laboratory of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation and Identification at London.

Ohio Board of Regents — $2 million for equipment for two-year technical and community colleges and university branches.

Ohio Educational Television Network Commission — $1.2 million for network expansion to include new facilities at Ashtabula, Celina, Bryan, Mansfield, Sandusky, and in northern Shelby County.

Department of Rehabilitation and Corrections — $4 million to purchase and equip small minimum security institutions of a few hundred beds apiece to phase out the Ohio State Reformatory at Mansfield "over a number of years."

Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation — $7 million for construction of educational facilities for the mentally and physical handicapped.

Environmental Protection Agency — $2.5 million to develop a program of grants to local communities to insure safe water supplies throughout the state.

Ohio Expositions Commission — $4 million for improvements to the state fairgrounds, including renovation and maintenance of existing structures.

Department of Highway Safety — $669,669 to improve operations of State Highway Patrol Posts at Canfield, London, and Wooster.

Department of Transportation — $5 million, including $3.8 million to subsidize bus fares for the elderly and handicapped under rules to be established by the department, with $700,000 set aside for airport security and safety, and $500,000 for non-highway transportation planning.

Water and Sewer Rotary Commission — $5 million to assist counties in financing water and sewer projects.

State Controlling Board — $2.7 million to finance law enforcement improvements. Of the amount, $500,000 could be used to train police and courts with regard to Ohio's new criminal code.

Ohio Historical Society — $195,000 for improvements to the Great Lakes Historical Program, including a naval memorial in the Cleveland Harbor, and $115,000 for an Ohio River museum project.

Grand jury meets; 7 cases on agenda

The Fayette County grand jury convened at 9 a.m. Wednesday to consider felony charges against seven persons.

Prosecuting Attorney Otis R. Hess Jr. was expected to ask indictments against two persons charged with carrying concealed weapons, two charged with rape, two charged with shooting with intent to kill or wound, and one charge with intimidating a witness.

Robert Lee Thompson, 34, of 1121 Lakeview Ave., and Judy L. Stewart 29, of 720 Dayton Ave., are charged with carrying concealed weapons after a Nov. 3 incident at the Buckeye Bar.

Howard E. Johns, 20, of 819 E. Paint St., and Steven C. Robinson, 19, Bloomingburg, are charged with the rape of a 16-year-old girl Oct. 30. Bobby Joe Willis, 22, of 428 Forest St., was charged Nov. 22 with intimidating a witness in the rape case.

David E. Harter, 36, is charged with shooting with intent to kill or wound, stemming from an incident March 29, and Ronald Frazier, 18, Flakes Ford Rd., is held on a similar charge for allegedly firing a shotgun at a Sheriff's Department cruiser driven by Deputy John Emrick Nov. 26.

Police, sheriff activity

Missing Kentucky girl located here, returned

A 15-year-old Lexington, Ky., girl, missing from her home since Monday, was turned over to city police Wednesday morning after spending the night in a Columbus Avenue apartment.

Police said the girl had spent the night in the apartment of Judy Wolfe, 20, Meyer Court after she appeared at the apartment door Tuesday evening looking for a place to sleep. Miss Wolfe let the girl stay during the night and then notified police about 7:30 a.m. Wednesday.

The girl was brought to police headquarters and her parents were contacted.

Officers said the girl had left a Lexington school Monday after she was disciplined by a teacher for skipping a class.

ELIZABETH ABER, 64, of 604 Clinton Ave., was treated at Memorial Hospital for a fractured wrist, suffered in a fall at her home Tuesday night.

She told police she was sitting on a stool in her living room, when she fell off, fracturing her wrist. She was released after treatment.

Carl Medley, Good Hope, reported to sheriff's deputies that someone poured sugar into the gas tank of his 1967 model car Friday night. He said the car was parked in the garage at his home at the time. Cost of removing the sugar from the fuel system was set at $13.50.

Alice Burr, Jeffersonville, reported that someone apparently attempted to enter the trunk of her car sometime during the past week and scratched the paint.

Businessmen discuss downtown parking

An involved discussion of downtown parking problems dominated Wednesday morning's monthly meeting of the Downtown Business Association, held in the Chamber of Commerce office.

Eleven members and City Manager Dan Wolford were at the meeting.

Chairman James Ward appointed a committee consisting of himself, A.C. Heer and Ray Downing to study various parking plans submitted in the past.

The occupation of many parking places by downtown business employes was pointed to as a major problem. Members agreed that legal parking restrictions are hard to enforce, and that there is inadequate employe parking generally.

Wolford told the businessmen that he is trying to set up a regular schedule of operation for the streetsweeper they bought and turned over to the city. The problem is finding someone to run it each day, Wolford explained.

The businessmen discussed the possibility of making use of the Neighborhood Youth Corps and Mainstream programs in downtown beautification efforts.

Downing was appointed to work out details for the annual Washington's Birthday promotion. Other upcoming promotions were discussed, but no action was taken.

It was also decided to send a delegation to the next meeting of the Fayette County Ministerial Association, to discuss opening of stores on Sundays.

The next meeting of the Downtown Businessmen's Association is slated Feb. 7.

Teachers walk out in Chicago

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A strike by public school teachers cropped up in another major city today when a walkout in Chicago closed schools for more than half a million pupils. Despite a last-minute effort by Illinois newly installed Gov. Daniel Walker to arrange a settlement, some 21,000 teachers walked off the job in a dispute with the Chicago Board of Education over pay raises.

School Supt. James F. Redmond ordered 660 Chicago public schools closed shortly after he, members of the school board and officials of the Chicago Teachers Union emerged from a hastily called meeting with the governor.

In Philadelphia, Common Pleas Judge D. Donald Jamieson was expected to rule today on an injunction sought by the school board to end a three-day-old strike which has crippled operations in the city's 280 public schools.

Little likelihood was seen for a solution to the salary and work dispute involving 13,000 teachers and 5,000 other school employes.

— "There has been but one person found."

— "Our men insist the area was adequately sealed off."

However, under close questioning, Giarrusso conceded that "there was a time span prior to our receipt of the plans of the building that an unobvious exit from the roof would have enabled other persons, if there were any, to leave the roof and go to another floor."

He said he didn't know the length of the "time span," but that it was at the very beginning of the siege. Under more questioning, Giarrusso identified the "unobvious exit" as the elevator shaft.

Newsmen inside the hotel said police didn't begin guarding the bottom of the elevator shafts until after sunrise Monday — or nearly 24 hours after the shooting started.

Robert Bemish, 43, a broadcasting engineer hit by sniper fire, said Essex "was not the same man who shot me."

Police said Essex was wearing military fatigue pants with baggy pockets to carry shells.

Bemish, a guest at the hotel, declared: "The man who shot me had on a light tan jacket and brown slacks."

Newsmen recalled a black policeman asking fellow officers during the siege whether they had seen a heavy-set black man walking with him through the hotel who had "just disappeared."

The man was described as wearing a short, light-colored coat. Shortly afterward, police checked the credentials of all newsmen in the area — raising the possibility a second sniper mixed with police and others inside the hotel and walked out undetected.

Tim Carew, 19, of Omaha, Neb., also a guest at the hotel, reported encountering just one sniper during the siege, however. Carew said the sniper told a black maid employed at the hotel: "Sister, the revolution is here."

Meanwhile, Policeman Paul Persigo, one of three officers killed in the sniper fire, was buried Tuesday after funeral services at St. Edward the Confessor Church. Mayor Moon Landrieu declared New Orleans to be in a "state of civic mourning ... to be extended through Sunday."

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Following is the Ohio weather summary from the National Weather Service:

Cold weather continues to dominate Ohio, along with much of the nation. Lows this morning were generally in the five-to-10-degree range under clear skies.

Highs this afternoon were expected to range from 20 to 25, compared with readings from 20 degrees at Youngstown to 28 at Cincinnati Tuesday. Traces of light snow were reported many places in the state Tuesday.

No break in the cold weather is expected through Thursday. Lows tonight will range from 10 to 15, and a chance of snow flurries is expected to continue in northeastern counties.

A low developing over the western Gulf of Mexico may bring light snow to western Ohio Thursday. Highs Thursday are forecast in the 20s.

Moderating temperatures Friday through Sunday with highs in the 20s Friday and 30s Sunday. Lows in the teens. A chance of snow flurries northeast Friday and Saturday.

Like every newspaper, we have good carrier boys and girls and some who occasionally give their customers fits . . . But some of the latter are pretty quick on the draw . . .

One lady buttonholed her bright-eyed young carrier this week and gently but firmly accused him of not delivering the paper the previous evening . . . "But I did", the boy said . . . "And where did you put it?", asked the customer . . . The quick-thinking youngster had a ready answer: "I threw it on the porch like I always do", and then added "but a cat grabbed it and run up that tree" . . . Assured that the 14-year-old family cat had long since given up tree-climbing, the boy whistled his way down the street with a final word over his shoulder: "Then it must have been a neighbor cat" . . .

Stock list turns mixed

NEW YORK (AP) — Prices were mixed in today's stock market in active trading after two sessions of minor declines.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was off .08 to 1,047.03, and declining issues on the New York Stock Exchange had a slight lead over gainers.

Brokers said investors were concerned about inflation, after the Labor Department report Tuesday that wholesale prices in December had soared 19.2 per cent on an annual basis, with food prices leading the boost.

AT&T was the Big Board's most-active issue, up ¼ to 53⅞. Most of the trading came in a block of 679,000 shares at 54.

Active issues on the American Stock Exchange included Houston Oil & Mineral, up ⅝ to 34⅝. The company announced a gas discovery on Monday.

10 Marines charged in brawl

WASHINGTON (AP) — A previously unreported racial brawl aboard a Navy ship in Southeast Asia has resulted in charges against 10 Marines, the Marine Corps has disclosed.

Three of six black Marines originally were charged with mutiny after the Sept. 7 incident aboard the amphibious landing ship Sumter, but the charges were dropped and now all stand accused of multiple counts of assault, the Marine Corps said Tuesday.

Four white Marines also were charged with offenses ranging from dereliction of duty to assault and disorderly conduct. Three of the whites were court martialed, but only one was found guilty, the Marines said.

Police drug storage thefts spark changes

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

The recently reported disappearance of several hundred pounds of illicit narcotics from police storage areas in New York City has caused officials in other areas to take a fresh look at their own methods of handling confiscated drugs.

An Associated Press survey of half a dozen major cities showed that authorities rely on sealed envelopes and complex reporting procedures to make sure that drugs seized by police do not vanish.

The situation in Newark, N.J. is typical.

A patrolman who makes a drug seizure brings the evidence to his precinct post and fills out a form — with four carbons — reporting the details. The form goes in a special mailbox at the precinct.

The next day, a representative of the police property department picks up the evidence and examines it in the presence of the desk lieutenant to make sure it conforms to the written report. The desk lieutenant gets a carbon of the patrolman's report.

Next the confiscated narcotics are analyzed by police chemists, put in a wax-sealed package and stored in the police property room adjacent to headquarters.

The drugs are held until requested by the court for use as evidence. The police property clerk personally takes the drugs to court and returns them to the storage room where they are held until a convicted defendant has served his sentence or until a superior court judge decides they are no longer needed.

About twice a year drugs are burned in a special incinerator under the supervision of representatives of the police property department, the prosecutor's office and the judge.

"It's as fine a set-up as you can find," said Capt. John Gavarny, who is in charge of the property room. He estimated that drugs with a street value of $2.5 million were seized last year. There were no reports of any thefts from the storage places.

Police in Detroit are investigating reports of possible drug trafficking by officers. One patrolman was suspended when a small amount of marijuana was found in his possession when police raided the inventory property room at the city's 10th precinct on Dec. 8.

Narcotics contraband is stored at six locations in New York City. Police are still investigating the disappearance of 131 pounds of cocaine and 168 pounds of heroin — including 80 pounds seized in the 1962 "French Connection" case.

The New York reports prompted a thorough review of storage procedures in Los Angeles, a spokesman there said. He said there was no evidence that any narcotics had disappeared and described the city's system for keeping contraband drugs as "almost foolproof."

San Francisco police store drugs in a walk-in vault with an alarm in the Hall of Justice. Access is limited to the head criminologist and police chemists.

A feeble youth vote

Remember the big whoopdedo about what an impact the newly enfranchised young were going to have on the 1972 presidential election? Despite reminders by political scientists that young people traditionally do not flock to the polls, it was widely predicted that new voters ranging in age from 18 to the former minimum voting age of 21 would cut a wide swathe. They didn't.

They didn't because more than half of those aged 18, 19 and 20, eligible for the first time to take part in the choice of a president, chose instead to stay away from the polls. Only 48.3 per cent of those newly eligible exercised the privilege, the Census Bureau reports.

This bears out the general conclusion, based on prior research, that eligible voters in the lowest age group tend to have the poorest record of going to the polls. Up to a certain limit, the older the voters the better their performance in this regard.

Voter participation in the recent election was highest, for example, among those aged 45 to 64: of the more than 42 million people in this category, 71 per cent voted. That compares with only 63 per cent for the total electorate - and, as previously noted, with 48.3 per cent of those in the 18-20 group eligible to vote nationally for the first time. In a slightly older group, 21 to 24 years, 51 per cent of the eligibles turned out.

There is room for a lot of speculation as to what the figures signify. One likely conclusion to be drawn from them is that people become more inclinded to participate in elections as their community ties and responsibilities increase. Meanwhile it can fairly be noted that, whatever the reasons for low participation may be, the youth vote was far less of a factor than many had expected.

THESE DAYS . . . by John Chamberlain

Controls don't solve it

President Nixon, who once campaigned against "Communism, Corruption and Controls," wants wage and price controls to continue after the April 30 expiration of the current Phase II period. The idea is that controls enable the government of combat inflation, which is, of course, pretty much of an illusion.

As William Pardridge, the "disagreeable economist" of Washington C.C., and Stanardsville, Va., puts its, price and wage controls attack the result of inflation, not its causes in the increase in the money supply and in mass credit.

To be sure, the government can make a case that controls have kept price inflation within bounds in 1972, but, as the end-of-the-year Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. survey shrewdly observes, a "substantial slack in both plant and work force provided a favorable environment in which controls could operate."

One can translate this to mean that controls have worked precisely to the extent that they made no difference — market conditions were such that neither businessmen nor labor leaders could have remained competitive if they had tried to get more than the controls would permit for their product.

The Morgan Guaranty Survey predicts a "spectacular rise" of $65 to $75 billion in personal after-tax income for 1973, which could result in a "colossal buying binge." As a curbstone economist, I would contend that any spending splurge under conditions of selective price controls must result in the strangest distortions. On the one hand, there must be a quick depletion of the stocks of superior goods in the controlled sector as the public, with money burning holes in its pockets, takes advantage of the enforced bargain prices.

On the other hand, food prices, which are uncontrolled, would hardly dip in a splurging market.

These are the prices that have mocked the inflation fighters all through Phase I and Phase II of controls; the housewife at the supermarket, paying 82 cents for a jar of mayonnaise that used to cost 77 cents, has never known what controls meant.

ONE BIG TROUBLE with "controlling" an economy is that nobody can trust government figures. The official Consumer Price Index, for example, indicates that a person with "take-home pay" of $100 a week spends $22 on food. Assuming he has to feed a family of four, this means that he must subsist on fish, stew meat and canned vegetables. The market for delicacies and steaks, however, would seem to indicate that the CPI estimate of $22 is highly misleading. Rent, in the Consumer Price Index, comes to 5.05 per cent of "100 for all items."

Well, University of Chicago Prof. Arnold Weber, who once served as director of the Nixon Cost of Living Council, has been quoted as saying "to the guy who's renting a house, it's a hell of a lot more" than any mere 5.05 per cent.

IN GENERAL, one suspects there has been a qualitative decline in a whole broad spectrum of goods. More than two years ago the "disagreeable" Bill Pardridge predicted that a wage-price freeze would "aggravate" inflationary wage demands by "causing a severe reduction in the quality of both goods and needed services." Since Pardridge's analyses of the relationship of dept (including mass credit) to production have yielded accurate estimates of inflation, it is good to know that he is putting together a non-profit corporation, Economic Equities, Inc., to complete the book he has undertaken with fifty co-authors, many from prestigious universities, in an effort to enlist the best brains in a revitalization of economic science.

Pardridge's projected board includes Richard Selden, David Davies and Dudley Dillard, who are, respectively, the chairmen of the economics departments of the University of Virginia, Duke University and the University of Maryland, along with Anna Schwartz of the National Bureau of Economic Research and Paul Van Riper, a former secretary of Beta Theta Pi who is head of the political science department of Texas A. and M.

A stated objective of this group would be to hold national conference on the inter-relationships of inflation, debt and production, with the hope of providing the formula that would combine zero inflation with full employment. Since nobody in the government Establishment yet has come up with such a formula, it will be good to get the non-government dissidents thinking about this. We couldn't do worse than we have done, and we might do a lot better.

Unwanted smoke aloft

The air traveler who lights up the moment the no smoking sign blinks out endangers his own health by indulging a habit which the medical profession brands as hazardous. This is deplorable, but pretty much the traveler's own business.

The smoker may also be creating a considerable nuisance for fellow travelers who do not relish having smoke wafted into their faces. Additionally he may be imposing at least a minor health hazard upon others in nearby seats; the U.S. surgeon general's office warns that tabacco smoke in confined areas may be harmful to non-smokers as well as smokers. This sort of imposition is not entirely the smoker's own business.

On many air lines flights a section of the plane is nominally set aside for non-smokers. This restriction is not rigorously enforced, and some travelers ignore it. Unless an affronted passenger is willing to complain, and push his complaint until he gets results, chances are he'll have to live with offensive cigarette smoke throughout the flight.

The Civil Aeronautics Board proposes a remedy. For the present voluntary system it would substitute a requirement that airlines separate smokers from other passengers on all flights. Such a regulation would be desirable as a means of implementing a sound view, namely, that non-smokers should not be forced to suffer the irritation and health hazard in being subjected to clouds of unwanted smoke.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

The volunteers from your community who serve here under the auspices of the Fayette County Chapter, American Red Cross, have told us of the help you have given them again this Christmas Season in securing articles for our patients' Christmas Store. They were pleased, as we were, with the fine response shown by the citizens of your area.

Our hospitalized veterans were able to remember their loved ones at home with Christmas gifts because of the generosity and kindness of many people of Washington C.H. and Fayette County.

It was good of you to donate space in your newspaper to advertise the need for articles for our Christmas Store. We feel your help was instrumental in making the Store a success and in making it a Merry Christmas for the veterans and their families. Please accept our thanks for your assistance.

NEW YORK (AP) — The start of the new year is always rough. Common sense tells you that each year is getting more demanding than the one before. That is the way the world is going.

Therefore, now is the best of all times to check up on yourself to see that you are fit for the ordeal.

You need a mental as well as a physical exam.

A glance into the mirror will tell you what needs to be done to tone your body up. But how about your mind — that whetstone of decision, that buzzsaw of performance? Is it ready to face the ordeal and challenges of 1973?

We've prepared a simple, easy-to-do home test that will help you solve that problem. Simply answer the following questions:

If someone suddenly played "Jingle Bells" in your ear right now, would you either scream silently or start denouncing Santa Claus?

Do you think modern school children get too many vacations and ought to spend more time studying and less time frittering the year away?

Have you decided that this is probably the year you'll finally go bankrupt before April?

Are you tempted now and then to sell your house and become a hermit on a desert isle?

Do you tell yourself that you and your whole family would probably be better off if you just threw in the sponge and went on relief?

Aren't taxes about twice what you think you should pay?

Isn't it true you feel you wouldn't need Social Security when you retire — if Uncle Sam would just quit digging in your pocketbook so much you don't have enough to do any real saving yourself?

Don't you just wish the government would let you have a raise to pay commensurate with the way you feel prices have gone up?

For some reason inflation has hit your family harder than it has any other family in the block, hasn't it?

You did get a little tired of the football season toward the end, didn't you?

Nothing seems to last very long anymore, and they simply don't make things as well nowadays as they used to — isn't that so?

Those are the questions. Now to your score.

If you answered no to more than three of them, you are out of your mind and living in a fool's paradise.

But if you answered yes to all the questions, you're in the pink of condition. You simply have a normal case of "winter blues." You should weather 1973 in great shape. The more desperate you are in January, the more likely you are to be healthy in June.

McCarthy appointed political professor

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Sen. Eugene McCarthy has been appointed Adlai E. Stevenson professor of political science at the New School for Social Research, effective with the start of the spring semester late this month.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, Jan. 10, the 10th day of 1973. There are 355 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1946, the first general assembly of the United Nations convened in London.

On this date:

In 1776, the American revolutionist, Thomas Paine, published his pamphlet "Common Sense."

In 1861, Florida seceded from the Union.

In 1889, France established a protectorate over the Ivory Coast in Africa.

In 1928, one of the chief architects of the Soviet Union, Leon Trotsky, was ordered into exile.

In 1920, the League of Nations was established as the Treaty of Versailles went into effect.

In 1942, the Japanese invaded the Dutch East Indies in World War II.

Ten years ago: Ceylon's prime minister arrived in Peking on a mission of conciliation in a border dispute between India and China.

One year ago: A crowd of 500,000 turned out in Dacca to welcome the Bengali leader, Sheik Mujib Rahman, after his release in Pakistan and return to Bangladesh.

Today's birthdays: Opera baritone Sherrill Milnes is 38. Actor and dancer Ray Bolger is 69.

Thought for today: Animals are such agreeable friends — they ask no questions, they pass no criticisms — George Eliot, pseudonym for Mary Ann Evans, English novelist, 1819-1880.

Clipped comment

Congress seems to be serious about halting the war by cutting off funds. One suspects, however, that the Pentagon has a few bucks tucked away somewhere.

Western Union gets government permission to install new communications satellites. We can hardly wait for the first singing telegram from outer space.

Many Italian factory workers must wear anti-pollutiion masks. It'll be fun to see what Italy's famed fashion designers do with this wave-of-the-future look.

A majority of the House say they favor open committee meetings. It now remains to be seen how much of a gap there is between say and do.

Dear Abby:

Forced at four A.M.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband falls into bed dead tired without even kissing me goodnight. Then about 4 o'clock in the morning he wakes me up and forces himself on me without saying a word. After he has satisfied himself he turns over and goes to sleep. All the while I am lying there like a statue.

Would you call this statutory rape?

CURIOUS IN FRISCO

DEAR CURIOUS: No. It's more like STATIONARY rape.

DEAR ABBY: In one of your columns you told a girl it was all right for her to smile and wave at truck drivers. Thanks a lot! My husband is a truck driver and all he needs is good looking girls waving and smiling at him all day. He's a good-looking guy, and it doesn't take much to turn him on, and I'd just as soon he didn't take any new friends on his job. Not all truck drivers are alike, but I know my husband better than you do, so watch it, will you, Abby?

THELMA IN PASSAIC

DEAR THELMA: I'll watch it, Thelma.

DEAR ABBY: Never thought I'd be writing to Dear Abby, but after reading the letter from that young girl who asked if it was okay to smile and wave at truck drivers, I had to put in my 2 cents worth.

I've been married to a truck driver for 19 years. There's not a better husband and father. It's an honorable position and I'm proud of him. Maybe most people aren't aware of this, but 70 per cent of the food they eat and the clothes they were are delivered by trucks.

If a lady is stranded on the highway, a truck driver will be the first to stop and help her. And speaking of being a lady, my husband stopped to help a couple of so-called "ladies," and they robbed him of all his money.

So tell that gal to keep smiling. I hope she smiles at my truck driver someday, for it's a lonely job and he can use a smile along the way.

KANSAS WIFE

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow, 67, living along in a one-bedroom apartment. The only living relative I have is a sister. Gertrude is 73, married and very well-to-do. She has been fighting with her husband, Sam who is 75, for as long as I can remember.

For the past year, Gertrude has been coming here in a taxi at all hours of the night asking if she can sleep in the other twin bed because she and Sam had another fight. Naturally, I let her stay. Sometimes she spent two nights with me until she's sure Sam has cooled off.

Now Sam calls accusing me of "breaking up his home." He says if I didn't let his wife come here to sleep she would stay home where she belongs. The old fool should know that if I didn't let her sleep here she could go to a hotel. She has plenty of money.

Sam says if I let Gertrude sleep here one more night he will cut me out of his will, and his wife's will, too. Can he do that? Please advaise me.

LAUDERDALE LADY

DEAR LADY: Tell Sam that when your sister shows up at your door to spend the night with you, you will not refuse to let her in. He can cut you out of his will if he wants to, but he can't cut you out of his wife's.

Woman deputy port warden owes job to women's lib

By DAN PITTMAN
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — With a pistol on her hip, Joellen Natow walks gangplanks and climbs ship ladders in Los Angeles harbor, getting big smiles from craggy-faced longshoremen.

"It's really nice to see something pretty around here instead of the same old cops," observed a veteran welder as Mrs. Natow passed by.

Harbor officials here say Mrs. Natow is the first female deputy port warden to serve at any major port in the United States.

"Along the wharfs and aboard the ships the longshoremen grin and wave at me," said Mrs. Natow, 29. "Some even shake my hand."

As deputy port warden, Mrs. Natow boards foreign and American vessels in the 3,000-acre harbor to inspect flammable cargos for proper handling and to check fueling operations as a guard against pollution.

Mrs. Natow also handles theft complaints from women working at a harbor cannery and teaches classes in female self-defense.

Since the Harbor Patrol works with the Coast Guard and other government agencies against illegal transportation of aliens and the smuggling of dangerous drugs, she is armed with a .38-caliber revolver.

A city policewoman for four years prior to joining the Harbor Patrol, Mrs. Natow is married to a motorcycle policeman and is the mother of two sons, Scott, 8, and Todd, 10.

Along with the 41 male deputies on duty in Los Angeles harbor, Mrs. Natow patrols by boat, car, helicopter, and motorcycle.

Pat Grutsch, chief deputy port warden, says Mrs. Natow owes her job to the woman's liberation movement.

"The people downtown said I'd have to take a woman on the force, and I thought it would be great," he said.

Sex wasn't the only obstacle Mrs. Natow had to overcome. She also had to learn the language of the port, such as, "There's a camel loose in the channel. Get a seagull to pick it up."

And Mrs. Natow now says confidently that that translates to, "A wharf pile is afloat, and we need a refuse boat to pick it up."

Jagger denied visa for Japanese show

TOKYO (AP) — Rock musician Mick Jagger has been denied a visa by the Justice Ministry to lead his Rolling Stones in a series of five concerts scheduled to start here Jan. 28.

The ministry said today its denial was based on a past conviction of the British musician on a drug charge. It said it had no objections to a Japanese visit by the other 19 persons in Jagger's group.

MRS. ROBERT C. KNECHT

Personal blessing sent to newlyweds by Pope

Wedding vows were exchanged by Miss Kendra Sue West, daughter of Mrs. Birma G. West, of Jeffersonville, and Robert Carl Knecht, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence A. Knecht Jr. of Rt. 1, Jeffersonville, on December 16 at 4:30 p.m. in St. Colman's Church, Washington C. H.

The Rev. Fr. Richard J. Connelly officiated at the ceremony. The alter vases held arrangements of ruby daisy chrysanthemums, white spider mums and pink gladiolus interspered with holly. The same flowers were used on the alter table and the family pews were marked by pink and ruby bows and holly.

Mrs. Kenneth Spahr, organist, of Jeffersonville, presented a musical prelude. At the close of the ceremony Father Connelly presented to the couple a personal blessing from Pope Paul VI which had been obtained by the groom's uncle Father Joseph E. Knecht S.J. of Patna, India. This came as a surprise to the young couple and their families.

The bride, escorted to the altar by Mr. Ralph Davidson, a family friend, was beautiful in her bridal gown of sparkle organza which featured a wide scalloped panel of re-embroidered Venice lace down the slightly flared skirt front. The empire waistline was accented with double rows of narrow satin ribbon. The puffed sleeves had a wide band of lace, with a wide ruffled flounce. The gown's hemline and the chapel-length trumpet train was outlined with Venice lace and elaborate appliqued medallions of English net and Venice lace. The lace bodice had a stand-up collar with pearl trim and self-covered buttons. Her elbow length, bouffant veil of bridal illusion was caught to a fitted petal-edged Juliet cap trimmed with organza bows studded with pearls. She carried a white bridal bouquet of rosebuds, spider mums and feathered carnations with holly and white ribbons tied in lovers' knots.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was her only sister, Mrs. Doug Grubb. She was attired in a floor-length gown of petal pink and ruby. The gown featured a wide full-length panel of petal pink velvet with a slightly gathered skirt of ruby georgette. The gowns hemline was a wide band of the pink velvet. The elbow length sleeves were of the ruby georgette with a flounce of the pink velvet. A narrow row of gold metallic ribbon outlined the velvet panel. She wore a matching velvet bow in her hair and carried a Polynesian wicker woven Christmas bell laced with dubonnet satin ribbon and petal pink velvet tubing. White spider mums centered with gold angels, cascades of holly and streamers of pink velvet and gold roping loops completed the arrangement.

Bridesmaids were Miss Kathy Knecht, sister of the groom, Miss Carol Justice of Washington C.H., Miss Rene Sachtell of New Holland and Mrs. Don Merriman Jr. of Columbus. They all wore gowns styled identically to that of the honor attendant with a ruby velvet panel and pink georgette skirts and wore matching velvet bows in their hair. They carried matching Christmas bells. They wore gold cross necklaces, gifts of the bride.

The flower girl was Melissa Morrow, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David C. Morrow. She was attired identically to that of the matron of honor and carried a small wicker basket filled with an arrangement similar to that of the other attendants. She, too, wore a gold cross necklace, a gift of the bride.

John Knecht, of Toledo, served as best man for his brother. The ushers were Craig Beam and Michael Lanman, of Sabina, John Wood, of Columbus, and Doug Grubb, brother-in-law of the bride, of Washington C.H.

The ring bearer was Errick Warnock, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Warnock Jr. of Jeffersonville.

The mother of the bride wore a pink organza dress with long full sleeves and a sleeveless vest of rose brocade with silver gray accessories. She wore a corsage of pink sweetheart roses. The groom's mother wore a tan long sleeved dress with a rust checked skirt and matching sleeveless checked vest with black accessories. She wore a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses. The grandmothers wore white carnation corsages.

Miss Bonnie Spears, of Westerville, president at the guest book.

The reception was held following the ceremony in the Jeffersonville United Methodist Church with Joyce Ellis, of Sabina, Billie Ann Woods, of New Holland, Cathy Swift, of Dayton, and Mary Ann Knecht, of Bellfontaine, sister of the groom, as hostesses.

A four-tiered wedding cake decorated with pink rosebuds, sugar bells tipped with ruby, sprigs of holly and topped with a cluster of wedding bells was served from a table covered with an antique linen and lace cloth with silver candelabra. The punch fountain was surrounded with garlands of holly and topped with pink and white carnation and ruby red roses.

The windows were decorated with arrangements of pink, white, and red poinsettias, evergreens and holly, and pink goblets holding candles. The guest were seated at white covered tables centered with silver compote arrangements of ruby roses, pink and white carnations and holly.

When the couple left on a short wedding trip, the bride was wearing a camel wool long sleeve dress with a brown and camel plaid cape with brown suede accessories. She was wearing the white rose corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Knecht are both graduates of Miami Trace High School. She is employed at the Fayette County Bank at Jeffersonville, and he is engaged in farming. They now reside on Pleasant View Road, Route 1, Jeffersonville.

Guest attending the wedding and reception were from Springfield, South Charleston, Dayton, Cincinnati, Chillicothe, Columbus, Bellfontaine, Williamsport, Clarksburg, New Holland, Sabina, Leesburg, Jamestown, South Solon, Westerville, Toledo, Washington C.H. and Jeffersonville.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence A. Knecht Jr. were hosts at the Terrace Lounge for dinner following rehearsal on Friday evening.

Mary Guild studies 'Michael'

Hostesses Mrs. Walter Elliott, Mrs. Eunice Draper and Mrs. Orpha Willis greeted 14 members of the Mary Guild of First Christian Church when they met in the social room at the church Monday evening.

Mrs. Charles Sheridan, president, read Scripture from the Book of Luke and told the story of Mary, the sister of Lazarus.

The lesson study presented by Mrs. Milbourne Flee, "Michael," was taken from the book, "Women Who Lived in the Times of the Kings."

New yearbooks were distributed to members and reports were made by Mrs. Esther Edwards and Mrs. Zoe Follis. Cards were signed for ill members and various projects discussed.

Marguerite class meets

The Marguerite Class met in the parlor of First Presbyterian Church with Mrs. Orville Jenkins, the teacher, and 12 members answering roll call.

Mrs. John Sagar Sr., president, conducted the business session and Mrs. Fulton Alkire gave the devotions. Mrs. Alkire read several sonnets pertaining to the Covenants and closed with "An Evening Prayer," by Peter Marshall.

Mrs. Kenneth Craig read minutes of the last meeting and Mrs. George Campbell made the treasurer's report, noting the pecans have all been sold.

The class voted to give $25 to the Church Women United to purchase clothing needs for the local clothing center, as its philanthropic project for the month.

Mrs. Frank Dellinger gave a report on the Christmas baskets which she and Mrs. Sagar delivered.

Forest Shade plans supper

NEW MARTINSBURG — Tentative plans for the annual sausage and pancake supper March 3 were made at a Forest Shade Grange meeting Tuesday night.

During the business session, conducted by Master Winfred Morgan, Mrs. Otties Smith, chairman of the women's activities committee, announced the sewing and baking competition will be judged at the March meeting. A card from Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Eckle, thanking the Grange for the golden wedding anniversary gift, was read by the secretary.

Readings were given by Mrs. Florence Bethard, lecturer; Mrs. Maurice Sollars and Miss Louise Ritter. Miss Norma Dodd was unable to show and narrate a series of pictures she made on her recent trip abroad because of illness.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Max Carson, Miss Irene Binegar and Keith Binegar.

'Open house' planned for golden anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dellinger, 136 W. Oak St., will observe their golden wedding anniversary Sunday with open house from 2 to 4:30 p.m. in Persinger Hall, First Presbyterian Church. Arrangements for the event are being made by their children.

Frank Dellinger and Lillian Johnson were married Jan. 9, 1923, in the Methodist parsonage in Washington C. H., by the Rev. Karl B. Alexander. Mr. Dellinger is a retired employe of the City Board of Education.

They have two children, Mrs. Virgil (Evelyn) Rice, Mark Rd., and a son, James Dellinger, of Columbus, and five grandchildren.

They request no gifts.

Reichel moves to Ohio senate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Rep. Richard G. Reichel of Massillon moved from the lower to the upper chamber of the legislature Tuesday when sworn in to take the 29th District Senate seat vacated by Ralph Regula of Navarre, who was elected to Congress.

The State County Republican Executive Committee had recommended Reichel for the seat. It now must recommend who will represent Reichel's 49th House District.

The 40-year-old Reichel, an attorney, has been a state representative since 1967 and was one of the lawmakers involved last year in a movement to repeal the income tax.

Bake steak barbecue sauce

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Here's a main course that's blissfully easy to make and is good enough to serve to company. Thick chuck steak is baked in a generous amount of olive barbecue sauce and served with hot cooked rice. A green vegetable and a salad, or just one of these, can complete the menu plus dessert.

One tip: be careful when you remove the baked steak from the oven so the sauce doesn't run over. And we found that if there is steak and sauce leftover, the meat (cut away from any bone) reheats beautifully in the sauce.

BAKED STEAK WITH OLIVE BARBECUE SAUCE

1-3 cup fresh lemon juice
3 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
1½ cups catchup
⅛ teaspoon tabasco sauce
1 bay leaf
¾ teaspoon coarsely ground black pepper
1 to 2 tablespoons sugar
1 medium onion, chopped
1 cup sliced pimiento-stuffed green olives
¼ pound fresh mushrooms, sliced
Water
1 chuck steak (about 5 pounds) cut about 1½ inches thick
3 tablespoons cornstarch

In a small mixing bowl stir together the lemon juice, Worcestershire, catchup, tabasco, bay leaf, pepper, sugar, onion, olives, mushrooms and ¼ cup water. Pour about one-half the sauce into an oblong 3-quart glass baking dish (13½ by 8¾ by 1¾ inches) or similar utensil. Place steak on top; pour remainder of sauce over steak. Chill several hours or overnight, turning steak occasionally and spooning sauce over top.

Cover tightly with foil or lid and bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until tender — about 2 hours. Remove meat to serving platter and keep warm. Tip baking dish and skim fat from sauce; discard bay leaf; pour sauce into a saucepan. Mix cornstarch with ¼ cup cold water until smooth; stir into sauce; cook over moderate heat, stirring constantly, until thickened, clear and boiling. Carve steak in slices and serve with sauce and hot cooked rice.

Community Mission reports heard

"Community Mission" was the theme of the meeting of the Staunton United Methodist Women at Anderson's Restaurant Tuesday afternoon. Hostesses were Mrs. Walter Parrett and Mrs. Addie Barger. Mrs. Lois Harper read Scripture from the Book of Matthew, and the group sang the hymn, "Kingdom of God."

Mission reports were made by Mrs. Henry Simmons, Methodist; Mrs. William Cook, Baptist; Mrs. Gene Carman, Catholic; Mrs. Kenneth Bryan, Jamestown Church of Christ; Mrs. Martin O'Cull and Mrs. Edgar Richardson of McNair Presbyterian Church. Each had a prepared report of the various missions of the denomination on the local, state and national level.

The purpose of the meeting was to describe the mission priorities of the church in the various areas, to encourage broadening views of the Christian responsibilities to human needs and to help women find their place in the extension of the church. Their reports also took in the mission in housing among the aged and for minority groups.

Mrs. Clarabel Reynolds, of Lancaster, sister of Mrs. Walter Parrett, who is employed by the state, Division of the Aged, Senior Citizen's Department, spoke on "Community and State Resources on Aged."

Members and guests were seated at tables centered with winter arrangements. Favors were at each place setting along with a new program booklet for the year, made by the hostesses.

Mrs. Alice Bush conducted a brief business session at which reports were made by Mrs. Donald Pemberton and Mrs. J.O. Wilson. Mrs. Pemberton and Mrs. Parrett were appointed to the visitation committee from now until Feb. 13.

Mrs. Elza Smith will entertain the group in her home Feb. 13. Members present were Mrs. Harry Bell, Mrs. Pemberton, Mrs. Harper, Mrs. Harper, Mrs. Lelan Allen, Mrs. Florence Bethards, Mrs. Maude Shubert, Mrs. Simmons, Mrs. Wanita Wikle, Mrs. Bush, Miss Oma Waddle, Mrs. J.O. Wilson, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Parrett and Mrs. Barger.

Guests were Mrs. Margaret Emrick, Mrs. William Cook, Mrs. Carman, Mrs. Bryan, Mrs. Reynolds, Mrs. Willard Parrett, Mrs. Ethel Neiswonder, Mrs. Nona Stevens, Mrs. Martin O'Cull, Mrs. Hilbert Meyer and Mrs. Edgar Richardson.

Mrs. Pennington entertains

Mrs. Paul Pennington welcomed 19 members of the associate chapter of Phi Beta Psi to her home Monday evening.

Assisting hostesses for the dessert course which preceded the brief business meeting were Mrs. Robert Wilson, Mrs. Helen VanZant, Mrs. Alice Campbell and Mrs. Robert Sanderson Jr.

Mrs. Edmond Woodmansee, a member of the active Phi Beta Psi chapter, announced the annual Founder's Day Dance and buffet will be Feb. 17 in the Country Club and extended an invitation to members of the associate chapter.

Bridge was played during the remainder of the evening, with winners being Mrs. Robert Jefferson, Mrs. Ira Barchet and Mrs. Robert Craig.

Anniversary is observed

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mongold, Robinson Rd., were honored on their 64th wedding anniversary in the home of Mrs. Alice Brown. Mr. and Mrs. Mongold were married at Fruitdale Jan. 9, 1909.

Silver and gold prevailed in the decorations for the occasion, and a wedding cake trimmed in pink centered the table.

Family and friends present for the celebration were Harold Mongold, Bloomingburg; Mr. and Mrs. James Mongold and family, Jeffersonville; Mrs. Isabel Evans, Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Williamson and family, Washington C.H.; Mr. and Mrs. Lunday Travis and family, of South Charleston; Mrs. Dean Merritt and son, Allen, of Middletown; Mr. and Mrs. Everett Park, Columbus; Miss Cora Scott, Don Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. John Blouse and family, Harle McKeever Jr., Mary, David, Floyd and Randy Brown, all of Washington C.H., and Elmer Leach, of Dayton.

Music was enjoyed and pictures were taken during the remainder of the day.

Mrs. Wheat circle hostess

Circle 3 of First Presbyterian Church met in the home of Mrs. Gerald Wheat, when Miss Kathleen Stookey, the new leader, opened the meeting with devotions centered on the blessings and opportunities of the New Year. She also read from the Mission Yearbook of Prayer concerning the work of the church in remote areas of Alaska. Mrs. Luke Musser presented the Mission Interpretation article on the work of the Rev. and Mrs. David Kidd in Cawood, Ky.

Mrs. Homer Bireley read minutes of the previous meeting and coming events were announced.

Mrs. Stanley Scott, Bible Study leader, led the first section of the new study, "Wonder and be Astounded." She led the group in a comparison of the world situation as seen by the prophet Habakkuk and the situation at the present time.

Following the meeting, a dessert course was served by the hostess to Mrs. Bireley, Mrs. Fred Cluff, Mrs. Yohann Dallmayer, Mrs. Ed Ford, Mrs. Musser, Mrs. Scott and Miss Stookey.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Myers and daughter, Heather Missy, have returned to their home in Boca Raton, Fla., after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ellis, 436 E. Market St.

War claims 2 more aircraft

SAIGON (AP) — The U. S. Command announced today the loss of another fighter-bomber over North Vietnam and a helicopter in South Vietnam just below the demilitarized zone. It said all eight Americans aboard the two aircraft were missing.

This raised to 35 the number of U.S. aircraft the Command has reported lost in Indochina since Dec. 18, when the two week aerial blitz on Hanoi and Haiphong was launched. The U.S. Command in daily communiques has reported a total of 107 Americans killed, captured or missing in these crashes, the costliest air losses of the war.

While the bombing halt above the 20th parallel continued, the U.S. Command reported continuing heavy B52 and fighterbomber strikes in the four provinces of the North Vietnamese panhandle.

A total of 45 B52 strikes that dropped about 1,200 tons of bombs and 140 fighter-bomber strikes were reported flown against North Vietnam during the 24 hours ending at 8 a.m. today.

An A6 fighter-bomber was shot down early today about 35 miles northwest of Vinh and the two crewmen are missing, the Command reported.

The second aircraft loss was an Army UH1 helicopter that disappeared Monday evening over enemy territory in eastern Quang Tri province just below the DMZ. Four crewmen and two U.S. advisers to the South Vietnamese paratrooper division were aboard.

The South Vietnamese military command reported another round of Communist terrorist attacks had raised civilian casualties to more than 100 in South Vietnam in the past four days.

The Saigon command said a provincial capital and three district towns in the Mekong Delta and a village northwest of Saigon were shelled during the night, with a total of nine civilians killed and 35 wounded. And in Saigon, an explosive device ripped through a coffee shop near the Tan Son Nhut air base just before dawn, wounding three civilians, spokesmen said.

This brought civilians casualties from shelling and land mines reported since Sunday to 23 killed and 86 wounded.

Hanoi, meanwhile, broadcast new charges of "extermination bombing" by U.S. B52s in the southern third of North Vietnam below the 20th parallel. Radio Hanoi said B52 raids Monday on several residential areas "caused heavy losses to civilian life and property."

Hanoi also claimed that two B52s were shot down before dawn today in Nghe An province but made no mention of the crews.

The U.S. Command said it had no B52 losses to report.

Another Hanoi broadcast asserted that pro-Communist Cambodian forces have "liberated" nearly 85 per cent of Cambodia, including the most densely populated region west of Phnom Penh.

There was no comment from the government in Phnom Penh.

Blame ice for fatal bus crash

GREENSBURG, Pa. (AP) — State police say ice apparently caused a bus accident which claimed the life of one person and injured 10 others near this western Pennsylvania town.

Sixteen persons, including the driver, were on the Greyhound bus Tuesday night when it skidded off an icy, snow-covered bridge and plunged over a 35-foot embankment.

The accident occurred at the intersection of U.S. 22 and Pennsylvania 119, about 10 miles north of here.

"We swerved then spun around about three times before we went over the hill," said William Goshorn, 75, of Akron, Ohio, one of the uninjured passengers.

Goshorn, who was traveling to Altoona to visit relatives, said he crawled out the back window of the bus.

The dead man, whose identity remained unknown today, was pinned underneath the vehicle when it flipped over at the bottom of the embankment. He was dead on arrival at Westmoreland Hospital here.

The bus driver — Patrick Holzer, 45, of Pittsburgh — was taken to Westmoreland Hospital, where he was reported in fair condition. Six other persons were treated for minor injuries and released.

Four other passengers, all women, were taken to Latrobe Hospital, where their conditions were reported as serious. They were identified as Anne Meritt, 62, of Revloc; Clementine Glashaufer, 70, of Altoona; Betty Billett, 48, of State College; and Marion Claycomb, 73, also of Altoona.

Lift restriction on electrical use

FAIRMONT, W.Va. (AP) — Monongahela Power Co. officials say they have purchased enough power from other firms to enable them to cope with a temporary shortage without asking customers to cut back electrical power use.

The company Tuesday canceled a 36-hour request of one million users in a five-state area to use only necessary electrical appliances and lights.

A spokesman said the shortage was caused by continued sub-freezing temperatures and a boiler leak at a 500,000-kilowatt unit at Fort Martin near Morgantown.

To flambe means to sprinkle with brandy or a liqueur and ignite.

State Patrol awards dinner Thursday

COLUMBUS — The Ohio State Highway Patrol's first annual "Blue Max" awards dinner, honoring patrolmen earning "Ace" certificates in the Patrol's massive stolen auto recovery and theft apprehension campaign will be held at the Neil House, Thursday.

Col. Robert M. Chairamonte said the program, established early last year, has resulted in the recovery of 1,584 stolen vehicles worth $2,984,985. Patrolman also made 1,138 arrests stemming from the recovery of the stolen vehicles, an increased of 83.5 per cent over 1971.

Col. Chiaramonte said the program was established in an attempt to halt the auto theft problem which is costing Ohioans more than 90 million dollars per year in stolen property and increased insurance rates.

Under the program, each time an officer recovers a stolen auto and makes an arrest, a red lightning bolt is attached to the door of his cruiser. After earning five lightning bolts the officer is awarded an "Ace" certificate and a special license plate for his cruiser.

At the awards dinner the officer earning the most lightning bolts will receive the special "Blue Max" award, consisting of a medal, a certificate and a ribbon to be worn on his uniform.

The only officer at the Wilmington Post to win an "Ace" Certificate was Patrolman Gary Brackney. Brackney made five apprehensions during the past year.

Lottery is held for 103 apartments

TOKYO (AP) — The Tokyo government offered 103 apartments for sale Monday and got 38,298 applications. It decided the buyers by a lottery.

The prices of the apartments in a 14-story building ranged from $23,940 to $26,457, about 30 per cent cheaper than comparable apartments sold by private companies. Most consisted of three rooms and a kitchen.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

THURSDAY, JAN. 11

ARIES
(March 21 to April 20)

Mars favorable. Allocate energies as necessary. A diversionary tactic could be practical. In new ventures, try a "dry run" or you may waste time and energy.

TAURUS
(April 21 to May 21)

Poise and perseverance are two requirements now. Choose the most appropriate goal and plan for its achievement carefully. Romance continues favorable.

GEMINI
(May 22 to June 21)

Practical issues will demand your complete attention now. There's a temptation to skip details, but this could be costly. Heed the voice of experience.

CANCER
(June 22 to July 23)

A day for playing the waiting game. Don't let anyone pin you down to a commitment until all factors are clear in your own mind. Some rosy reports could be premature.

LEO
(July 24 to Aug. 23)

A financial matter can now be satisfactorily settled, but don't let optimism lead you into extravagance. Rather, consolidate gains, with a view to the future.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

Competition is on the move. Gear yourself to the demands which are appropriate. Cooperate where you should, but express your own opinions, too. Maintain high principles.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Mixed planetary influences. Not all you undertake will turn out as your hope, but the diligent, consistent try will eventually produce results.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

Muster your best efforts for the "trying" moments — even though they may be few — and you can breeze through most of the day. Put your weight back of solid undertakings.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

You will have much to do, but rewards will gratify if you handle obligations astutely — and yourself with discipline.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Continuing good influences govern new projects as well as everyday routine. Cooperate with those who have both know-how and integrity.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

A new light thrown upon certain situations should prime you for fine advantages in the offing. Rouse yourself to work for the attainment which requires more than the usual vigor.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 to March 20)

If you want to give a first-rate performance now, you will have to be even more dexterous than usual. Good planetary influences, but your cooperation needed.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with outstanding perception and diplomacy. You are inclined to be scholarly and never cease in your quest for knowledge — knowledge which you can impart to others with surprising facility. This, of course, makes you an excellent candidate for the profession of teaching. You are practical and methodical, too; have a liking for figures and statistics, an asset in many lines. Other fields in which you could carve a successful career; Science, statesmanship, literature and — since you are more outgoing than most Capricornians — the theater. Traits to curb: Too much introspection, moodiness and occasional streaks of jealousy.

Pork chops found in baptismal font

HUDDERSFIELD, England (AP) — The Rev. Peter Spivey dipped his fingers into the font to baptize little Graeme Charles Heppenstall and exclaimed, "Good Lord! Three pork chops."

When the 52-year-old vicar of Meltham village held up the three chops, the congregation roared. He said he assumed the meat had been dropped in the font by a drunk he found passed out in front of it on Saturday night.

Songfest Saturday at Samantha church

SAMANTHA — A special songfest will be held at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in the Free Will Baptist Church at the junction of U.S. 62 and Ohio 72.

Participating will be the Bridges Quartet, of Cincinnati, the Dixieland Gospel Singers, of Hillsboro, and members of the congregation, according to the pastor, the Rev. Wiley B. Perkins.

City pay boosts held by auditor

FAIRFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Mayor William Harbin says he plans legal action to force auditor George Schiering to pay salary increases to city employes ordered by city council.

Schiering balked saying some of the raises were higher than the 5.5 per cent permitted by federal wage-price regulations. Harbin said the total amount for all employes' was within guidelines.

Schiering said he wanted Internal Revenue Service approval first.

The 4,860-mile-long Trans-Canada Highway is one of the longest in the world.

Purebred puppy match scheduled here Jan. 28

The Paint Valley Kennel Club is proceeding with preparations for its next purebred puppy match, scheduled to begin at noon Sunday, Jan. 28, at the Fayette County Fairground.

At the club's last meeting, flyers regarding the match were addressed t out-of-town exhibitors. A special meeting will be held Jan. 25 to assign club personnel to their posts for the match.

The upcoming match, expected to draw about 500 dogs, will make use of more facilities at the Fairground than in the past. There will be three rings in the show arena, with additional rings in the Fine Arts and Mahan buildings.

Puppies as young as two months old may be entered, and there will be separate competition for dogs more than a year old.

The club will award more trophies at this match than at any other it has held in the past, including trophies for the best puppy in each breed, and four ribbons in each class.

Purebred puppies may be entered the day of the show, beginning at about 10 a.m. The entry fee is $2. Entry fee for dogs entered prior to the day of the show is $1.50.

The puppy match is open to the public, and food will be served there.

Eternal flame is extinguished

BELLEFONTAINE, Ohio (AP)—An eternal flame that has burned in front of the veterans' memorial on the courthouse lawn here since Memorial Day of 1971 may have brightened its last night.

Dayton Power and Light Company district manager Firman Knipp told Logan County commissioners that the company will have to extinguish the flame because of a natural gas shortage.

Knipp said he did not know how long it would be before the flame could be relit. The flame was to be extinguished today.

4 youths held in bomb threat

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Four juveniles were in their parents custody pending juvenile court action today after they were charged with telephoning a false bomb threat to their school here Monday.

Police said the youths were apprehended within half an hour after the incident, thanks to an anonymous tipster.

Stamps In The News

AP Newsfeatures

By SYD KRONISH

Tucked away in the South Pacific is the beautiful island of Western Samoa where tropical fish and animals abound aplenty.

In the latest set of stamps from Western Samoa, collectors have an opportunity to see some of the wildlife of the area.

Depicted are the following: In the fish field — skipjack (or oceanic bonito), butterfly fish; the mollusk or shell section — bull conch, triton shell; the crustacean family — spiny lobster, painted crab; beetles — rhinoceros beetle, jewel beetle; butterfly beauties — Samoan monarch and the hawk moth.

There are 11 values in this set of new definitives and each stamp bears the kava bowl watermark. The items are available at your local stamp dealer.

PAKISTAN'S first atomic power station is hailed on a new stamp issued by that country. The station is located on the Buleji Coast about 15 miles west of Karachi.

The stamp features a view of the nuclear power plant. Blue patches on either side of the plant represent "heavy water" used in its operation. The red and orange sky indicate the tremendous heat evolved in splitting the atom.

At the left side of the stamp is the name "Pakistan" in both Urdu and Bangla. The value, 20 paisa, is also at the lower left.

INTERESTED in collecting United Nations stamps the easy way?

Well, the United Nations Postal Administration is now offering a direct method of purchasing its stamps and postal items at FACE VALUE through its Customer Deposit Service. Service.

Subscribers to this service get priority delivery of their orders during the week following the date of issue.

You automatically receive your stamps whenever there is a new issue, without having to write for them. Deliveries are guaranteed even if stocks run out earlier than expected.

All you have to do to open a Customer Deposit Account is to send your despsit of $20 to the United Nations Postal Administration, P.O. Box 5900, Grand Central Station, New York, N. Y. 10017.

The Postal Administration says it will send the forms for your own standing order and instructions to keep the account in good order. If you do not wish to send the money but would like to know more about it, you can write them for specifics.

A NEW White Ace Album for U. S. Postal Service Souvenir Pages is now available. The jumbo album provides collectors with a distinctive home for the first-day cancelled pages that the U. S. Postal Service prepares and sells.

Each of the pages includes an oversize photo of the new stamp plus background information. The pages sell for $3 a package and the jumbo binder for $6.95.

They can be obtained directly from the printers, Washington Press, Maplewood, N. H. 07040.

Ohio ASCS appointments still pending

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A federal agricultural official said Tuesday the selection of three Ohioans to oversee state operations of the U.S. Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service is still pending.

E. J. Person, deputy administrator of the service in Washington, said an announcement naming Ohio's three committee members and members for the other states will be made soon.

Dwight Harris, Ohio executive director of the service, said the appointments are normally made in December for the upcoming year. He said he has received no reason for the delay.

But he added, "I think it is just part of the current review that has started from President Nixon down to the various departments. And they have gotten to this level."

The job of the three committee members is to oversee operation of agricultural service programs involving crop production, price supports and conservation.

Harris said the committee vacancies have not caused any major problems in the operation of the office.

Rhodesia 'Liberation Army' in action with Red arms

By ARTHUR L. GAVSHON
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — Under a moonless sky on the night of Dec. 21 ragged-trousered raiders opened fire with rockets and bullets on Marc De Borchgrave's lonely farm house in the Zambezi Valley of Rhodesia.

Two nights later the black guerrillas struck again, against neighbor Archie Dagleish's place, where the De Borchgraves had taken refuge.

Within a few hours, a Jeepload of four Rhodesian soldiers taking part in a big sweep ran over a land mine.

The world's newest "liberation army" was in action. It even has its own Ho Chi Minh Trail, meandering from base camps in neighboring Mozambique to the sunbaked bushlands of northeast Rhodesia, 120 miles north of Salisbury, the capital.

Equipped also, the Rhodesians say, with a modern armory of weapons from the Soviet Union or China.

The Zimbabwe African National Liberation Army, or Zanla, has vowed to wrest Rhodesia — which it calls Zimbabwe — from the grip of Premier Ian Smith's white minority government.

Since they still hope to play a role in Rhodesia, the British are following with great interest these developments in the African territory that declared its independence in 1965.

British experts think the black guerrillas have a long way to go and a lot to learn before they can pose any real threat to Smith's forces. In eight years of sporadic campaigning, they have achieved little.

Yet authorities here acknowledge the danger to the white regime is certain to increase as Zanla improves its techniques and its links with rebel movements in neighboring countries. The nearest and strongest of these is the Front for the Liberation of Mozambique, or Frelimo. By ambushes, night raids, mining of roads and railroads, Frelimo for years has pinned down thousands of Portuguese troops.

New fighting in northeast Rhodesia also creates yet another front for Smith's limited forces. Already he has 1,000 miles of frontier to defend eastward against incursions from Frelimo units in Mozambique, to the northwest against Zanla raids from Zambia, and on the southwest where Rhodesia meets Botswana. He is being helped by South African police units, and he is pressing for ever fiercer action by Portuguese forces.

This week Smith called up army, police and air force reservists to meet the developing emergency.

The British are hoping that time and experience will yet convince Smith's regime that its ultimate salvation lies in a constitutional settlement with Britain.

Duchess of Windsor suffers broken bone

PARIS (AP) — The Duchess of Windsor is "coming along fine" after an operation for a broken hip bone, her secretary reported today.

The secretary, John Utter, said the 76-year-old duchess had fallen several times and complained last week that she had difficulty in walking. X-rays showed a break in the bone at the top of the thigh.

An operation was performed last Thursday.

Barbara Beal wins speech contest

Junior Barbara Beal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Beal of U.S. 22-E, was the MTHS winner in the Voice of Democracy 26th annual broadcast scriptwriting scholarship program.

The program is sponsored by The Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States and the Ladies Auxiliary of the

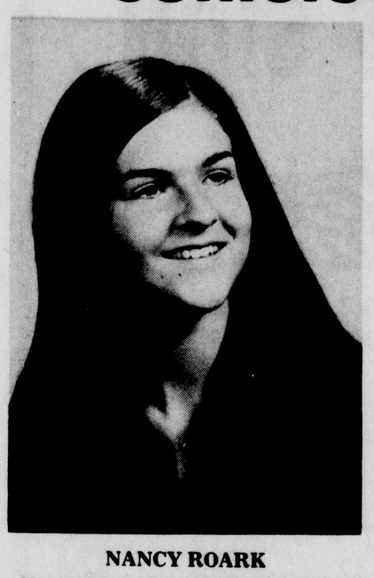
BARBARA BEAL

VFW, with the cooperation of the National Association of Broadcasters State Associations of Broadcasters.

Barbara had to write a 3-5 minute recorded speech on the topic: "My Responsibility to Freedom." Her taped speech will now go to district competition.

She will be sponsored by the Burnett-Ducey Post No. 4964 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, who will present her a $25 U.S. Savings Bond for winning the Miami Trace competition.

Seniors of week



NANCY ROARK

Nancy Lynn Roark's favorite senior subject is art, which goes right along with her hobby of drawing.

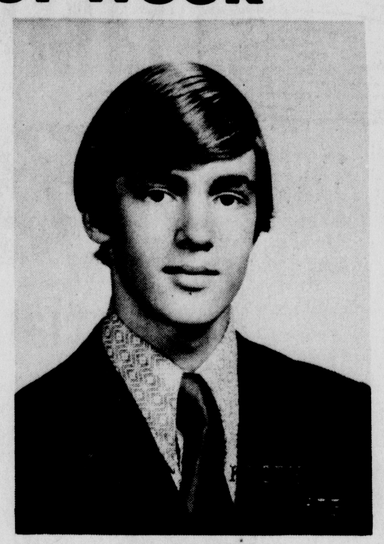
Nancy also likes to sew, play tennis, and listen to music. She is a member of the Future Teachers Club and Y-Teens.

Majoring either in education or in some field of art is in Nancy's future plans, but she is not yet sure which college she will attend.

Her advice to underclassmen is, "In order to make the most of your high school years, study hard and take advantages of the opportunities that are offered."

NANCY IS the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roark of Rt. 2, Knollwood Circle, Washington C.H.

Keith Earley's favorite subjects are physics and sociology. His senior year is also filled with many activities.



KEITH EARLEY

He is a member of the National Honor Society. He is president of the Miami Trace Pep Club, a member of the senior choir, and president of the Folksingers. He plays bass guitar in a rock-blues band with Kathy Woodfork, Scott Crissinger, and Bob Ford. He is also vice president of manufacturing in a Junior Achievement company and a member of the varsity wrestling team.

Repairing TVs and radios is the hobby that leads Keith to a career in electronics engineering. He plans to attend Ohio University at Athens.

When asked how it felt to be a senior, Keith replied, "It feels great. I've had a great time in the last four years. I only wish I could have four more years just as good."

Keith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Earley of Rt. 3, Washington C.H.

Teacher feature

By DAWN SCHLICHTER

One of the student teachers who chose Miami Trace in which to gain her teaching experience is Miss Gail Buchy.

A native of Greenville, Ohio, Miss Buchy is a student at Ohio State University, where she is majoring in Home Economics Education. While at Miami Trace she is teaching a freshman class and a senior food class and is helping with the Future Homemakers of America.

MISS GAIL BUCHY

At the university Miss Buchy is active in the Saddle and Sirloin Club and the Campus Girl Scouts. She has served on committees in her college and is also active in her home church. Her outside interests include OSU football, crafts, collecting coins from foreign countries, and collecting and trying new recipes.

Miss Buchy chose Miami Trace at which to do her student teaching because she likes the rural area and comes from a community similar to this one. When asked her impression of Miami Trace, she said, "I really like it." She also commented that she feels accepted here and likes the students and teachers.

Urge bottled water rules

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration is recommending that bottled drinking water be covered by the same quality standards that apply to public drinking water supplies.

The agency noted that bottled water is increasingly being used as a source of drinking water, partly because of consumer affluence and partly because of concern over reports of pollution of some public water supplies.

It said, however, that a 1971 survey of 85 bottled water samples disclosed that eight contained coliform bacteria from human waste.

If the FDA recommendations are finally adopted, the criteria that covers bacteriological, physical, chemical and radioactive limits of public water supplies will also apply to bottled water.

Bottled water has not previously been subject to federal quality standards.

Most tax rates for '73 show slight increases

The complete list of property tax rates for 1973 has been released by Fayette County Auditor Mrs. Mary Morris. Most rates reflect slight increases over those of last year.

The highest overall rate of taxation in the county is 39.90 mills, in Washington C.H.

Rates include millage for townships and corporations, as well as school district taxes. School taxes make up most of the various districts' total rates.

The county expects to realize $435,815.96 from property taxes in 1973, according to the county's official certificate of estimated resources.

THE LIST of rates for 1973, including school districts within the various townships (with 1972 rates in parentheses):

Concord Township, Miami Trace — 28.00 (27.80); Green Township, Miami Trace — 28.80 (27.60); Jasper Township, Miami Trace — 27.60 (27.40); Jefferson Township, Miami Trace — 29.50 (29.30); Jefferson Township, Greeneview — 33.45 (34.45); Madison Township, Miami Trace — 27.90 (27.70); Madison Township, Madison-Plains — 31.05 (29.55);

Marion Township, Miami Trace — 29.30 (29.90); Paint Township, Miami Trace — 27.60 (27.40); Paint Township, Madison-Plains — 30.75 (29.25); Perry Township, Miami Trace — 28.10 (27.90); Perry Township, Greenfield Exempted — 36.35 (30.95); Union Township, Miami Trace — 28.70 (28.50); Union Township, Washington City — 36.00 (35.80); Wayne Township, Miami Trace — 28.40 (28.20).

Corporations: Milledgeville — 28.80 (28.60); Octa (Jasper Township) — 28.80 (28.60); Octa (Jefferson Township) — 29.60 (29.40); Jeffersonville — 32.40 (32.20); New Holland — 32.30 (32.90); Bloomingburg — 32.00 (31.80); Washington C.H. — 39.90 (39.70).

Youth program explained to Kiwanis Club

The "Youth in Government" program, which has become one of the major interests of the Washington Senior High School Hi-Y Club, was explained at the Kiwanis Club meeting Tuesday night by four of the members, Mike Domenico, Mark Allen, John Tatman and Steve Hill.

Domenico pointed out that the "Youth in Government" program was initiated by C. William O'Neill, now chief justice of the Ohio Supreme Court, more than 20 years ago. The purpose, he said, was and still is, to give high school students an opportunity to participate in the procedures of the judicial branch of government by conducting mock trials before juries. Local attorneys serve as advisers, and Judge Evelyn W. Coffman, of the Common Pleas Court, presided at one trial. One case was appealed to the Supreme Court and heard by that court in its chambers.

Hill reported on participation in the legislative branch by the Hi-Y students. He explained that four committee members made a study to determine what legislation is needed and then prepared a bill suitable for submission to the legislature. This years, the bill deals with the use of vending machines by youth under 18 years old.

The Hi-Y representatives at the meeting said the "Youth in Government" program needs public support and said it will cost approximately $600 to send 12 members of the WSHS club to Columbus to participate in the program at the state level this year. Austin Crusie is the club adviser.

The program was presented following dinner in the Lafayette Inn. The short business session was conducted by the president, the Rev. Gerald Wheat.

Larry Lloyd, Avoset Co. plant engineer here, was the guest of Gerald Begin.

Hughes heads Bloomingburg affairs board

BLOOMINGBURG — The Board of Public Affairs, which administers the village's water system, has elected Robert F. Hughes chairman to succeed Gilbert E. Biddle, who has served for the past three years, and has approved an appropriation of $20,000 for the water system.

Of the appropriation, $8,000 is applied annually for retirement of bonds issued for construction of the $120,000 water system in 1951. The remaining $12,000 is for overall operations, including salaries, maintenance and electric power (approximately $1,600 a year) to operate the pumps.

The board also authorized the superintendent to make a thorough survey of the water lines to and in Hunt's Trailer Court.

The word "monk" first meant a solitary, or one who lives alone. In the course of time, monk came to mean a member of a religious community.

Savings Bank reviews 1972 growth

When the annual stockholders' meeting of the Washington Savings Bank was held Tuesday, directors re-elected to the board were: A. H. Finley, chairman; R. E. Whiteside, president; Herbert C. Hoppes, farm owner, Ralph K. Child, farm owner; Ralph Theobald, farm owner; Ronald K. Cornwell, president, Jackson Glove Co. and farm owner; Howard G. Wright, president, Pennington Bread Inc.; Paul F. Rodenfels, publisher, Record-Herald; and Rollo M. Marchant, attorney-at-law and farm owner.

In his report summarizing the bank's progress, Whiteside pointed out that total assets had increased over $3½ million. Total loans stood at more than $12 million. The bank believes that the money should be working in the community, so as deposits increase, more money is made available to the farmers, businesses and individuals.

The record year was made possible by the dedication of the employes to always make serving the customers of the bank their primary objective, Whiteside said.

Some "fresh" and "different" ideas were presented to the area during 1972 in the bank's efforts to bring to the people things they need or want, the president observed. Among these were the purchase of license plates for all new car loans; the Pass-a-Payment loan plan to help borrowers over a time when they are short on funds; the "Time for New Wheels" theme used in the early part of the year and the immediate processing of all loan applications.

Bringing Zsa Zsa Gabor to the Savings Bank in June ranked as a highlight for the entire community, Whiteside said.

"International Services were introduced, and again the people of our area have taken advantage of a service which had only been available through the city banks," he continued.

"Trust counseling has continued and proves to be a useful service to many of our friends.

"The affiliation with Huntington Bancshares Inc. helps provide services which a small bank, such as ours, would be unable to furnish. We feel our people deserve this kind of service and are happy to be in a position to provide it."

Looking at the economy, Whiteside pointed out deposits in the three banks of Fayette County have increased approximately $8 million. This indicates the economy was favorable in the area in 1972, he said. "Agricultural income certainly was the big factor in this increase. Although the crop harvest was late in most cases, it had little effect on the 1972 economy. Only time will tell us how it will effect the economy of 1973.

"We are concerned with the 'plight of the farmer.' However, we have seen them overcome so many obstacles in the past. We are confident it will be done this time, also. Our pledge is to work closely with the farmer, as we always have, and do everything possible to ease his financial burden."

At the reorganization meeting following the stockholders' meeting, Finley was elected chairman; Whiteside, president; V. Leroy Barton and Kenneth A. Payton, vice presidents, and Bruce Ream and Ronald Warner, assistant vice presidents.

ACTIONS DISMISSED

Two divorce actions have been dismissed from Common Pleas Court on the motions by the plaintiffs.

A petition filed by Charles H. Curtin, Rt. 4, against Betty Lou Curtin, Rt. 4, has been dismissed along with a cross-petition filed by the defendant.

Also dismissed was a petition filed by James Larry Cook, 311 S. Main St., against Rosa Martella Cook, Jeffersonville.

Appliance theft case bound over to grand jury

Two felony cases were heard by Acting Judge John Bryan in Municipal Court Tuesday. One defendant was bound over to the grand jury and the other charge was reduced to a misdemeanor and heard by the court.

Bound over to the grand jury under $5,000 bond was William J. Suiter, 31, Staunton, charged with grand larceny in connection with a massive theft of appliances, carpeting and building materials from Redman Industries, 2000 Kenskill Ave., during the past several years.

Suiter was arrested by police Nov. 18, after they uncovered a hoard of stolen goods in his Hillsboro apartment house.

Suiter, who earlier had pleaded not guilty to the charge, waived preliminary hearing.

BOBBY HAITHCOCK, 36, Bloomingburg, was fined $150 and costs and given a suspended 60-day jail term after he pleaded guilty to a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

The charge was filed by Ted Baker, Bloomingburg Elementary School gymnasium Jan. 2.

The charge was reduced from a felony to a misdemeanor at the request of County Prosecutor Otis Hess.

In the only other case before the court Tuesday morning, Clemen E. Edwards, 50, of 1221 E. Temple St., forfeited $25 bond when he failed to appear on a charge of failure to yield right of way. Clemens was cited by police Friday following a car-truck collision at the intersection of Washington Avenue and Old Chillicothe Road.

Property damage crashes reported

Only two minor traffic accidents were reported in the Fayette County area by city police and sheriff's departments Tuesday. There were no injuries or citations in the mishaps.

A car driven by Joycelyn D. Welsh, 35, Bloomingburg, collided with the rear of another automobile driven by Joan B. Walker, 38, Greenfield, on CCC Highway, two miles northeast of Washington C.H. Tuesday evening.

Sheriff's deputies said the Walker car had stopped for a school bus discharging passengers and was struck in the rear by the Welsh vehicle. Damage was moderate.

Police investigated a minor accident on the J & J Restaurant lot involving a car driven by Sue R. Smith, 69, Rt. 3, Sabina, and a parked car owned by Jack W. Matthews, of 1335 N. North St. Only minor damage was listed in the 4:42 p.m. mishap.

Cincy bank reports record high earnings

CINCINNATI (AP) — The First National Bank of Cincinnati, enjoying its highest earnings in its 110-year history, has declared a regular quarterly dividend of 30 cents per share on capital stock.

Income before securities gains and extraordinary items totaled $9.27 million, or $2.58 per share, a spokesman said.

Rotarians briefed on area study

Paul Baldridge, of Columbus, consultant for the Mid-Ohio Regional Planning Commission, explained to Rotarians Tuesday that the purpose of a feasibility study being made in this eight-county area is to determine how these counties could establish cooperatively a workable strategy and mechanism for solving areawide problems and take advantage of areawide opportunities.

Counties in the area are Delaware, Franklin, Fayette, Fairfield, Licking, Madison, Pickaway and Union.

The study, he said, is being conducted in cooperation with local units of government and citizens of the region and the Ohio Department of Economic Development.

THE REGION is characterized by a large, rapidly growing metropolitan center and many changes, he said. He pointed out that many problems and opportunities in the region do not respect local government boundaries and that federal, state and local resources are limited. There has been little coordination of planning, program administration and delivery of services, he emphasized. The federal government recently has undertaken a study of this problem.

Local governments and citizens of Central Ohio should have an opportunity to determine that best future for the region and how best to achieve it, he declared.

THE FEASIBILITY study will include (1) the kind of problem-solving and planning activities that can be most effectively undertaken on an areawide basis; (2) relationship of these proposed activities to those of the federal, state and local governments in the region: (3) services that are needed and could be provided most effectively on an areawide basis; (4) most effective mechanism for review of federal grant applications on an areawide basis; (5) type of organization that would best serve the needs of the region and accomplish areawide functions; and (6) alternatives for structure, membership, powers, staff, financing, legislation, etc. for the type of areawide agency recommended.

A final report of the feasibility study will be prepared for distribution in June, Baldridge said, and added all work will be completed by July 1.

The Rotary Club program, arranged by Clarence Cooper, was presented Tuesday following luncheon in the Country Club.

President Fred Domenico conducted the business session at which Jack Brennan, manager of Pennington Bread, Inc., here and City Manger Dan Wolford were welcomed into membership in the club. Brennan was sponsored by Jack Alkire and Wolford by Domenico.

J. Herbert Perrill was the guest of Cooper and Vic Luneborg was the guest of Bill Pool.

Student guests were Gary Huff, of WSHS, and Jeff Spear, of MTHS.

Visiting Rotarians were Len Palmer, of Fairborn, Mike Myers, of Hillsboro, Art Dick, of Mount Sterling, Darrell French, of Wilmington, and Merrill Kaufman, of Delaware. Richard Edwards, who came with Meyers, also was a guest.

TA WA KI CAMP FIRE

The Ta Wa Ki Camp Fire Girls met at the CF office Saturday to tie papers and load them for their paper drive. A meeting followed, and new officers were elected. Becky Annon called the roll and Nancy Binzel led the Pledge of Allegiance. The Camp Fire Law was led by Miss Sandy Fackler, the leader. Amy Boyer led the Trail Seeker's Desire.

Officers elected were Teresa Hopsob, president; Amy Boyer, vice president; Maurica Milstead, news reporter; Crystal Bell, secretary; Gladys McClendon, sergeant-at-arms; Nancy Binzel, treasurer; Becky Annon, roll caller; and Jana Hanawalt, Pledge of Allegiance leader; and Trail Seeker's Desire leader, Kristi Upthegrove.

Refreshments were cupcakes and punch brought by Crystal Bell and Nancy Binzel. We talked about the ceremonial jackets, on which we are putting our awards and beads we have earned.

Those present were Maurica Milstead, Amy Boyer, Kristi Upthegrove, Jana Hanawalt, Becky Annon, Gladys McClendon, Nancy Binzel, Crystal Bell, Teresa Hopson and Miss Fackler.

Shocknessy nixes turnpike honor

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — James W. Shocknessy, chairman of the Ohio Turnpike Commission, says he's "honored" by a proposal that would name the Ohio Turnpike after him but that he feels the road already "is aptly-named.

"The Ohio Turnpike ... embodies in its name all the history and glory of our beloved state," said Shocknessy, "and gives recognition" to the "people of Ohio, whose reputation for integrity undergirded its financing ... and have sustained and supported it."

Shocknessy was responding to a bill introduced by the Ohio House of Representatives.

Sides taken in national market concept

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — As Paul Kolton spoke, you would never guess that the media was discussing what it termed a basic disagreement between him, president of the American Stock Exchange, and James Needham, New York Stock Exchange chairman.

"I really admire him," he said. Areas of agreement with Needham are far more numerous than conflicts, he said. He cited instances of "significant progress" in joint efforts to resolve mutual challenges.

In a new year message dated Jan. 3, Kolton had reiterated his position that the now-evolving central marketplace should be governed by an authority to be called a national board of exchanges.

Such a mechanism, he said, "should be a self-regulatory organization with authority to resolve quickly and equitably those problems that are not within the power of any one industry authority."

It would represent the various exchanges, member firms and the public, "an organization that can get its arms around all aspects of the industry."

It would mean, he said, that each of the exchanges—NYSE, Amex, Midwest, Pacific Coast and others—would have to "yield a portion of its authority to the governing body for the general good."

Needham immediately dismissed the suggestion as "an exercise in futility." It had been discussed before and dismissed, he said. He indicated that his preference remained for a corporate-type merger of the exchanges.

Some securities people thought Needham's dismissal of an important suggestion by the head of the second largest exchange to be unusually abrupt and authoritarian.

The diplomatic Kolton, didn't think so. "I saw him on television and I didn't think so. I've discussed it with him before and since." No disagreement, was the suggestion. An interpretation: You don't challenge the biggest head on.

In fact, he continued, "until the press viewed it as a disagreement I didn't see it as a disagreement but as a different approach in governing a national system." The emphasis, he said, should be that Needham and Kolton agree that a system of government must be devised for a new national market.

Taft named assistant whip in Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert Taft Jr. of Ohio is one of six Republican senators named Tuesday to serve as assistant whips in the 93rd Congress.

Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott and Assistant GOP Leader Robert Griffin said the six will assist them as part of what they called "our shared leadership approach."

The other assistant whips are Sens. J. Glenn Beall Jr. of Maryland, James L. Buckley of New York, Robert T. Stafford of Vermont, Ted Stevens of Alaska, and Lowell P. Weicker of Connecticut.

U.S. to resume bombing 'if necessary'

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — U.S. Sen. William Saxbe says a member of the Nixon Administration told him resumption of full-scale bombing over North Vietnam was one of the alternatives if the Paris peace talks failed.

William M. Hoiles, an aide to the Republican senator from Ohio, said Tuesday that Saxbe obtained the information at a Monday luncheon with Gen. Alexander Haig, a former aide to Vietnam negotiator Henry Kissinger.

Hoiles, reached by telephone in Washington, quoted Saxbe as saying that renewed bombing "was one of the alternatives mentioned."

Saxbe could not be reached for comment, but Hoiles said the senator had told him an earlier, published report on his conversation with Gen.

Haig was accurate except that the bombing resumption was only one of several alternatives mentioned.

Saxbe quoted Haig as saying the 12 days of saturation bombing between Dec. 18 and Dec. 30 would help shorten the war by damaging Hanoi's will and ability to fight.

But Saxbe, who was critical of the December bombing raids, said he did not agree with Haig's assessment of the effectiveness of the raids. Saxbe charged that the Administration's position was wrong because "there are no real strategic targets left in North Vietnam, and intensive bombing could not possibly serve any other purpose than to punish the North."

Saxbe was quoted as saying such "punitive bombing will go down as a blot in history-like Rotterdam and Dresden," two cities without military value which were firebombing targets during World War II.

Redman reports gains

DALLAS, Tex. — Redman Industries continued to make significant gains in market penetration in all its businesses last month. December revenues were $26.4 million, compared with $15.9 million in the prior year, an increase of 66 per cent.

Redman Mobile Homes' sales were $13.4 million for the month, compared with $8.4 million in December of last year, a 60 per cent gain. The other major subsidiaries showed significant revenue gains. Redman Properties' revenues increased 72 per cent, up to $10.1 million. Redman Building Products was up 71 per cent, with sales of $2.8 million.

The company also announced that it had agreed to acquire a mobile home manufacturing facility in Meridian, Miss., as part of an overall plan to capitalize on the need for low cost housing in the South. Lee Posey, president of Redman, said, "This year 66 per cent of all mobile homes sold were retailed south of the Mason-Dixon line, compared fo 64 per cent last year. The southern half of the United States continues to be the fastest growing market for low-cost housing."

Redman expects the sectional home, or double-wide mobile home, to represent almost 20 per cent of the mobile home market in the key Southern states in 1973 and is gearing marketing plans to catpure a major portion of this market.

Redman will complete calendar 1972 with mobile home shipments of approximately 38,000 homes. "This represents a significant gain in market penetration. Redman now has approximately 6.7 per cent of the total mobile home market, compared to under 5 per cent for calendar '71," Posey said. He indicated that he expects earnings for the quarter ended in December to be up approximately $.19 per share for the quarter.

Posey projected industry sales for calendar 1973 would be near 625-630,000 homes, compared to about 570,000 in calendar 1972, with sectional homes and 14'-wide gaining about 36 per cent of total 1973 market.

Panel discussion at TOPS meeting

Mrs. Joyce Cox was named "best loser of the week" at a meeting of the OH TOPS chapter 669 at Eastside School Monday evening. Mrs. Beryl Smith conducted the meeting, and a panel of 10 members discussed "Problems of dieting and how to solve them."

Participating in the program were Mrs. Dale Dunn, Mrs. Marjorie Looker, Mrs. Barbara Palmer, Mrs. Clarissa Black, Mrs. Russell Smith, Mrs. Robert Alkire, Mrs. Allen O. McClung, Mrs. Cox, Mrs. Forest Williams, and Mrs. Smith.

It was announced that two members, Mrs. Emmett Campbell and Mrs. Russell Miller, were patients in Memorial Hospital.

Miss Kay Riley was winner of the Christmas tree award for having lost the most weight and Mrs. Dunn, for the best decorated tree. Both won cash awards.

Winners for the month of December were Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Dunn, Mrs. Bernard Huffman and Mrs. Looker.

Johns unopposed in USW election

WASHINGTON (AP) — John S. Johns, director of United Steelworkers District 27 in Canton, Ohio, will be unopposed in the Union's elections next month to succeed retiring international vice president Joseph Malony.

The union's executive board said Tuesday two other nominees had withdrawn and a third, Samuel Stokes of Columbus, Ohio, had been declared ineligible because he was behind in dues.

MT, WCH brace for intra-county rivalry

LIONS MAP STRATEGY — Five of Washington C. H.'s top performers gather around head coach Gary Shaffer and go over plans for Friday night's intra-county rivalry at Miami Trace. Panthers tote 20-4 series margin into crucial SCOL shooting match

By MIKE FLYNN
Record-Herald Sports Editor

A bugaboo, more than a decade old, lurks for Washington C. H.'s perplexing Blue Lions as they prepare for a pivotal appointment with intra-county rival Miami Trace Friday night.

Fayette County's two title-hungry toughies will collide in the 25th renewal of the lopsided series in an 8 p.m. showdown at the MTHS gym in a contest which is billed as the South Central Ohio League's feature attraction.

After last Friday night's startling development — a six-point upset victory by rascally Washington C. H. over visiting and previously unbeaten Circleville — the field of SCOL teams became tightly bunched with three tied for supremacy and another waiting in the wings, one game out of first place.

BUT THE crowded SCOL standings will become more juggled when the Fayette County sports rivalry is epitomized since the winner will remain lodged for the top perch with Circleville and Wilmington, while a loss will jeopardize the other team's chances of winning the 45th SCOL championship.

Washington C. H., which has been on a yo yo of sorts since a loss at Wilmington in the SCOL debut, and Miami Trace, which has absorbed two straight setbacks, will match identical 5-5 all-games records in the SCOL's headliner.

Head coach Gary Shaffer's Blue Lions will be hoping to better their 3-1 SCOL chart and keep pace with Wilmington and Circleville, while Miami Trace will carry a balanced 2-2 league record into the crucial meeting.

The old hoodoo staring Washington C. H. in the face is the fact that Miami Trace has stacked up a bulging 20-4 lead since the series was inaugurated Dec. 16, 1960.

Another bugaboo facing the Lions is Miami Trace's two-game winning spree in the 13-year-old arch-rivalry. The last Blue Lion win was a thrilling 62-61 decision in the second meeting of the 1970-71 season.

BALANCED SCORING has been featured by both teams throughout the first 10 games. Both Miami Trace and Washington C. H. have three players who rank among the SCOL's top 17 point producers.

Muff Jones, Miami Trace's lanky senior cornerman, is the top pointmaker in Fayette County with a nifty 17.0 point per game average on the basis of 170 points.

Pete Jones, a sharpshooting senior who was involved in the controversial climax of Miami Trace's 67-65 loss to Circleville a couple of weeks ago, will be Muff's partner at the other forward spot.

The 6-foot-2 shotsmith is creasing the nets at a 15.6 point per game rate on the basis of 156 points in 10 games and owns a 15.5 mark against SCOL opponents.

Slender junior Dave Persinger will probably rate third-year head coach Jan Stauffer's nod for the pivot duties. The 6-foot-5 Persinger holds 11.9 all-games scoring credentials, but has hit for a 16.8 clip against league teams.

Both Persinger and Muff Jones were fighting the fly bug and missed Monday's practice, but Stauffer has husky senior Rick Cottrill to employ on the front line. Cottrill, a 6-foot-1 inside ace, has bounced off the bench to provide some key scoring for the Panthers recently.

Glenn Gifford and Jeff Spears, a pair of 5-foot-9 seniors, are Miami Trace's backcourt playmakers.

Other Panthers available include 6-foot-2 junior Randy Reiber, Steve Mowery, Jeff King, Dave Steinhauser and Doug Baker.

CHUCK BATH, a 6-foot-1 senior, has been Washington C. H.'s most consistent pointmaker this year. Bath, who was the leading Blue Lion scorer a year ago, owns a neat 12.0 all-games mark and has netted 13.8 in the Lions' four SCOL engagements. Bath will team with smooth-shooting Dick Witherspoon or rugged senior Mike Domenico at the forward positions.

Witherspoon, a 6-foot-2 senior who can also be employed at the pivot spot, is a more prolific scorer than Domenico, averaging 11.2 points a game. Domenico has been a regular for the last three games.

Lanky 6-foot-4 junior Jeff Wallace is bidding for the starting pivot chores. Wallace has been hitting the cords at an even 10.0 rate against loop members.

Chris Shaper, a 5-foot-10 senior, is Washington C. H.'s playmaker and he will be joined by 5-foot-11 senior Albert Donahue in the Blue Lion backcourt.

Shaffer also has senior sparkplug Joe Downs, who owns an 11.6 mark, and his twin brother, Jeff, bouncing back after suffering a hand fracture in a preseason scrimmage game.

Others at Shaffer's disposal include steady junior Kenny Knisley, Doug Rudduck, Billy Shaw, Alan Coppock and Tom Allen.

The preliminary game, scheduled at 6:30 p.m., also promises to be thrilling as Washington C. H., the SCOL leader, will risk its perfect 4-0 loop mark in the contest against Miami Trace reserves, who have won their last four outings.

Queen of Hearts contest to open at MT-WCH game

Fayette County will have a Queen of Hearts again this year. She will be either Sandy Cardiff, the WSHS homecoming queen, or Kathy Woodfork, the MTHS homecoming queen. They are the only candidates.

They will be chosen by a "cash vote" of the basketball fans who will drop contributions to the Fayette County Heart Fund into nail kegs placed in the lobbies of the school gymnasiums. Each keg will have the name of the candidate on it.

The voting will start Friday night when the Washington C.H. Blue Lions meet Miami Trace's Panthers on the MTHS court.

The kegs will be left at the two gymnasiums and after the Washington C.H.-Miami Trace game at WSHS Feb. 16, the contributions will be counted.

The candidate whose keg contains the most money will be crowned the 1972-73 Queen of Hearts. The queen will receive the honor, but the heart association will be the real winner, for all the "votes" will go to it for research and treatment of heart disease.

Indians down Leesburg for second win in row

LEESBURG — Hillsboro's Indians registered their second straight win of the season Tuesday night by downing a determined Leesburg Fairfield team 62-54 at the Leesburg gym.

The win was the third in eight starts for head coach Robert Ream's Hillsboro boys who were playing without the services of sophomore prize Kevin Bailey.

Don Jewett, the slick-shooting 6-foot-2 senior, popped in 28 points on the basis of 11 field goals and six free throws to spark the win over the Highland County rivals. Forward Dave Larimer provided ample backing in the attack with 16 points, all on baskets.

Hillsboro erupted for 22 points in the fourth period to erase Leesburg's 46-40 third quarter advantage and post the win.

Kevin Greer topped the scorebook for head coach Jim Cook's Leesburg team with 23 points on the basis of 11 field goals and a free throw.

Score by Quarters:

Kunnert Big Ten's top player

CHICAGO (AP) — Kevin Kunnert, Iowa's 7-foot-1 pivotman, has been selected the Big Ten Player of the Week by The Associated Press.

Kunnert, a senior from DuBuque, Iowa, was instrumental in leading the Hawkeyes to a 65-62 upset victory over previously undefeated Minnesota last Saturday.

Kunnert scored 26 points and picked off 16 rebounds to get off to a fast start in defending the Big Ten rebounding title he won a year ago.

"Kevin dominated the game for us against some pretty stiff competition," said Iowa Coach Dick Schultz. And Minnesota Coach Bill Musselman added "They (Iowa) showed me a lot out there. . .that was the first team in my two years at Minnesota that has outrebounded us."

Kunnert kept up his brilliant play at Michigan Monday night but was unable to lift the Hawkeyes past the Wolverines as Michigan whipped Iowa 71-59 to take sole possession of first place in the conference race. Kunnert scored 23 points.

Sophomore Campy Russell, who finished second to Kunnert in the Player of the Week poll, led the Wolverines with 17 points. Russell also was the leading scorer in Michigan's 68-62 conference opening triumph at Ohio State Saturday when he banged in 23 points.

Hoosiers bop Miami, 80-68

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"We can't give up 50 points in the first half and win," Miami of Ohio basketball Coach Darrell Hedric said after his Redskins were an 80-68 victim of Indiana Tuesday night.

Indiana jumped off to an early lead and pulled up a 50-39 lead by halftime. Miami played the 16th-ranked Hoosiers on nearly even terms after intermission, but couldn't make up the difference.

Actually, Indiana claimed the triumph at the free throw line. Both teams had 30 field goals, but the Hoosiers converted 20 of 28 charity tosses to just 8 of 18 for Miami.

Sophomores Steve Green and John Laskowski paced the Hoosiers with 20 and 19 points, respectively. Freshman guard Quinn Buckner, netted 13 points, led both teams in assists with five and had a game-high 13 rebounds.

"He rebounded well, moved the ball well, stole passes, knocked passes down and played good defense," said Indiana Coach Bob Knight of Buckner's performance.

Steve Fields led Miami, now 8-3, with 17 points. Temmate Rich Hampton added 12.

In other Ohio college basketball action Tuesday night, Ohio University, who meets Miami in a Mid-American Conference game Saturday, trounced nonleague foe Marietta 87-31.

The Bobcats, now 8-4, handed the Pioneers their ninth loss in 11 starts by piling up a 36-19 advantage by halftime and stretching the margin while holding Marietta scoreless for the first seven minutes of the second period.

Scott Love paced Ohio with 17 points. Arthur Clark topped Marietta shooters with 8 points.

Nationally ranked Capital got an early score but came back to defeat Point Park of Pittsburgh 82-69 and improve its record to 10-1. Paced by Joe Jacobus with 27 points, Capital overcame a 46-38 halftime deficit in handing Point Park its first loss in seven games.

Muskingum remained unbeaten in four Ohio Conference games by downing Oberlin 70-48 behind the 20-point performance of junior Gary Ferber.

In other OC games, Ohio Wesleyan upset Denison 71-68 as Dan Penrod pumped in 26 points, and Heidelberg beat Baldwin-Wallace 70-56 to even both teams' league marks at 2-2.

Undefeated Hiram thrashed Allegheny, Pa., 84-63 in a President Athletics Conference game for its eighth win of the season and third in league play.

Malone, paced by junior center Phil Hodge with 27 points, defeated Kenyon 81-73.

Lion eighth graders drop fourth fray

Washington C. H.'s eighth grade basketball team absorbed its fourth setback in five games Tuesday night as Chillicothe Mt. Logan nipped the Lion Cubs 41-38 at the junior high gym.

Coach Ken Hays' Lions jumped to a 13-8 first period lead and held a 21-16 advantage at halftime. Washington C. H. scored 11 more points in the third period to grab a slim 32-30 margin, but the Ross Countians took advantage of several Lion errors in the fourth quarter too post the win.

Doug Cousins topped the scoring attack for Mt. Logan with 18 points, while Ted Mercer and Jim Crabtree scored 12 and 11 respectively for the Lion eighth graders, now 1-4 on the season.

Score by Quarters:

WASHINGTON C. H. — Mercer (5-2-12); Crabtree (5-1-11); Upthegrove (3-0-6); Johnson (1-2-4); Heiny (1-1-3); McClenden (1-0-2); Totals (16-6-38).

Wilson Lumber cops fifth cage triumph

Always-tough Wilson Lumber notched its fifth win of the season in Tuesday night's action in the Washington C. H. Independent basketball league at the junior high gym.

The Lumbermen, behind a sparkling 33-point scoring performance from Larry Mowery, surpassed the century mark by thumping winless Carter Feed and Grain 107-65.

In the nightcap, Weegie's Town Tavern posted its second win of the campaign by downing Culligan Soft Water in a 64-59 struggle.

MOWERY'S 33-point splurge paced Wilson Lumber, but he received ample support from Rick Smith who hooped 25 points and a 17-point effort from G. K. Harris.

Don Curtin canned 23 points for Carter Feed and Grain, which absorbed its sixth consecutive setback.

Tom Kelly's 21 points led Weegie's Town Tavern to its second win in six outings and Peanut Smith netted 15. Steve Smallwood scored 16 points for Culligan, now 1-5 on the year.

Well-known cage coach succumbs

URBANA, Ohio (AP)—Donald E. Schertzer, a well-known high school basketball coach, who had worked for several Champaign County schools, died here Tuesday of cancer.

A West Liberty-Salem team coached by the 37-year-old coach won the 1966 Southwestern Ohio Class "A" district championship. At the time of his death Schertzer was a guidance counselor for the Urbana city school system.

Seek successor to UD grid coach

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The University of Dayton is still looking for a new football coach following the elevation of John McVay to athletic director.

McVay, meanwhile, has been authorized to advise the athletic committee in its attempt to recruit. McVay also has been assigned to continue recruiting players.

McVay was promoted Monday to succeed Thomas Frericks who was named director of university relations.

Mr. Athlete, owned by Eddie Braden, Braden Rd., placed third in Ohio in the 1969 stallion division.

Medary and Braden were accompanied to the banquet by their wives.

Issel, Colonels turn back Virginia, win 113-106

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Kentucky Colonel guard Louie Dampier has said that Dan Issel has a great touch and that his strength is his offense.

Issel proved that Tuesday night with an awesome display of shooting and rebounding to lead the Colonels to a 113-106 victory over the Virginia Squires in an American Basketball Association game.

Issel, hitting consistently with his medium-range jump shot and muscling his 240-pound frame under the boards, scored 44 points and grabbed 18 rebounds. His efforts helped Kentucky break open a tight game in the fourth quarter.

In other ABA games, Carolina thumped the New York Nets 110-97, Utah rallied to beat Memphis 115-111 and San Diego defeated Denver 113-109.

Coach Joe Mullaney said of Issel's performance, "Dan did a fine job, but it really wasn't because we overemphasized him."

Issel and Virginia high scorer Julius Erving traded baskets throughout the game until Issel took control late in the third quarter.

Erving finished with 34 points, four above his league-leading average, and 17 rebounds.

Steve Jones poured in 30 points to lead the Carolina Cougars to a 110-97 trouncing of the New York Nets. Carolina's victory, its 11th straight, is the league's longest winning streak this season.

The Utah Stars, with their regular guards out of the starting line-up, scored 14 straight points in the final quarter to come from behind and defeat Memphis.

Two free throws by Larry Miller with 11 seconds left and two more by Simmie Hill at the buzzer helped the San Diego Conquistadors turn back the Denver Rockets. Charlie Williams and Gene Moore had 21 and 20 points, respectively, for the Qs, who had dropped 21 of their previous 25 starts.

Bulls rout 76ers, 126-110; Chet Walker tops 15,000

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The plight of the Philadelphia 76ers, according to Chet Walker, is just more proof that nice guys finish last.

Walker, an ex-76er who now plies his trade in Chicago, pumped in 20 points in the Bulls' 126-110 rout of hapless Philadelphia Tuesday night, becoming the 18th player in National Basketball Association history to score 15,000 points.

"After I got the basket to pass the 15,000-point mark," Walker said, "I looked over sadly at the press table and saw Philadelphia owner Irv Kosloff. I guess he tried to smile.

"He's just too nice a guy. He tries to be so fair with everybody, but he probably has a tendency to be influenced by persons not equipped to make the right decisions. Philadelphia is in a sad way, and no matter what Mr. Kosloff tries, it doesn't succeed."

The loss gave the 76ers a horrid 4-39 record and left them 30 games behind Atlantic Division-leading Boston. The Bulls, meanwhile, pulled within two games of pace-setting Milwaukee in the Midwest Division.

Elsewhere, the New York Knicks nipped the Kansas City-Omaha Kings 116-115 in overtime, the Baltimore Bullets defeated the Portland Trail Blazers 105-93, the Atlanta Hawks downed the Houston Rockets 120-114, the Golden State Warriors whipped the Detroit Pistons 105-98 and the Buffalo Braves beat the Cleveland Cavaliers 106-102.

Chicago's Garfield Heard and Philly's Fred Carter shared scoring honors with 27 points. Bob Love matched Walker's 20 for the Bulls, including 16 in the third period when they broke it open.

New York's Dave DeBusschere, named as an All-Star Game starter for the first time earlier in the day, celebrated by hitting a layup with 10 seconds left in overtime to nudge the Knicks past the Kings despite a career high 52 points by KC-Omaha's Nate Archibald, the NBA's scoring leader.

Elvin Hayes scored 23 points and grabbed 22 rebounds to lead Baltimore past Portland, enabling the Bullets to remain 1½ games in front of Atlanta in the Central Division.

TV Viewing

NEW YORK (AP) — Jack Paar, the shy, retiring lord of the late hour, beat his old NBC "Tonight" show in the ratings here, but lost in Los Angeles during his debut on the ABC Television network.

The Angelenos apparently preferred Johnny Carson by a wide margin Monday night, despite the big publicity buildup ABC gave Paar's new one-week-a-month "Tonite" show.

However, the statistical tale of the two cities, compiled by the A.C. Nielsen ratings people, aren't the last word. They don't necessarily indicate the way things will go from here on in.

The real corporate sweats will begin when NBC and ABC executives sift throught he national ratings and share-of-audience samples for all this week to see how the Paar-Carson battle is shaping up.

But here is how the New York and Los Angeles ratings, supplied by NBC sources, looked after Paar's return to the tube Monday night:

—In New York, Paar and his cohost, Peggy Cass, logged an over-all rating of 9.8, which meant their efforts were seen in an estimated 600,000 homes; Carson got a 6.4 rating, which meant he was seen in an estimated 390,000 homes.

—In less-densely populated Los Angeles, Carson logged a 10.3 rating — 350,000 homes — and Paar a 5.2 rating, which put him in an estimated 175,000 homes.

Paar was visibly nervous when he walked on the stage of ABC's 58th Street studio here to pick up where he left off after departing NBC's "Tonight" show in 1962.

"Well, you're very kind," he told the audience as it applauded his opening gags enthusiastically. "I'm so scared. But I'll get over that quick. But here we all are on the great ship Titanic."

He noted that "there's a lot of talk in the industry about competition with NBC, which is pretty foolish. You'd think that in a country of 210 million people, surely there's room for two of us — me and Ed McMahon."

For younger viewers who may know him only vaguely, he explained: "I'm the guy who used to entertain your fathers and mothers and keep them up at night — obviously, not too well, or you wouldn't be here."

But he wasn't the Paar of old. His timing was off and his fans undoubtedly bled for the guy as his opening monologue fell down and died. Carson fans tuning in out of curiousity may have cheered.

It wasn't an auspicious start. But it takes time to get used to new surroundings and the rhythm of a new regular show. It'll get better. It has to.

Midwife service operates despite California law

SANTA CRUZ, Calif. (AP) — Despite a California law barring the practice, seven local women operate a midwife service for expectant mothers who want to give birth at home "no matter what."

"We want to help people who want to have babies at home like me," Dor Gruver said in an interview Monday. "It used to be that people were scared to do it because there was no one to help them. Now they realize they can have what they want."

Mrs. Gruver, 22, said she "doesn't feel like a criminal" although she knows midwifery is illegal in California.

"The authorities have left us alone and the doctors hate us but leave us alone," she said. "We're not hiring anyone. It's a satisfying experience for me and for the people I'm doing it for."

Santa Cruz County Dist. Atty. Peter Chang said officials are concerned about the practice but it is hard to prove a case since most people who use midwives will not take them to court.

The midwives educate the woman and her husband about pregnancy and give training in natural childbirth, Mrs. Gruver said.

TREAD WEAR EXPECTANCY
Because of variable driving habits and road conditions under which tires are used, it is impractical for Montgomery Ward, and conceivably misleading to our customers, to guarantee any specific number of months or miles of tread wear. We can, however, indicate the wear potential we have built into our tires in terms of service in normal family use. If a Riverside tire wears down to the tread wear indicators during the Tread Wear Expectancy, Montgomery Ward will upon presentation of the tire and evidence of date of purchase replace the tire for the then current price less the following dollar allowance:

Tread Wear Expectancy	Tread Wearout Allowance
	Prorated on
40,000 miles	Miles Driven
45 month	$13.00
40 month	10.00
39 month	8.00
36 month	6.00
33 month	5.00
30 month	4.00
24 month	3.00
18 month	2.00

Tread Wear Expectancy offer does not apply to tires used commercially.

$15 TO $20 OFF
IN PAIRS! GLASS TRACK BELTED ROAD GUARD...
- 2 body plies of polyester cord for a smooth, comfortable ride
- 2 strong fiber glass belts help resist impact, puncture damage
- Belts also reduce tread squirm
- Road Guard is backed with Wards 36-month tread wear expectancy

Tobacco Ads Reappearing

Have you noticed that, in a subtle way, tobacco advertisements and commercials are beginning to reappear on the television screen?

How do these differ from the old commercials for cigarettes that were banned because they represented a health hazard?

I teach at a college and am impressed by the fact that many students are passing around small cigars as well as cigarettes. They seem to think these little cigars are not dangerous. Is that true?

Mr. H. F., Conn

Dear Mr. F.:

The slow but persistent invasion on the television screen by tobacco manufacturers is clearly apparent.

Once again, through the selling of these little cigars, smoking is glamorized, romanticized, and given the aura of love, masculinity, femininity and limitless happiness.

I assume that it won't be long now before FCC rulings exert pressure on manufacturers to cease and desist from a practice that clearly attempts to curcumnavigate the existing laws about cigarette advertising.

Pressure is being made by the American Cancer Society and by legislators to close the loophole that permits manufacturers to continue to sidestep their responsibility to the nation's health.

Scientific tests show that smoking little cigars and inhaling them as if they are cigarettes is distinctly injurious to health. The concentration of tars may be even higher than in some cigarettes.

Pressure by responsible citizen groups can be a persuasive influence in again clearing the television screens of this threat to good health.

Every few weeks I get a painful lump in my armpit. Sometimes they are so painful that I can't get dressed. Could sharing or using a deodorant be responsible?

Mrs. C. D., Ga

Dear Mrs. D.:

It is not uncommon, with people who shave too closely under the arms for germs to be introduced into the abrasions of the skin.

Some deodorants and antiperspirants can also be irritating, especially if one has a particular sensitivity to them.

Small abscesses can form and when these open, they may infect adjacent areas. Then scar tissue forms and resistance to infection may thus be diminished.

It might be wise to avoid shaving too closely, perhaps discontinuing all antiperspirants for a while.

Your doctor will probably culture the material that is expressed from these small abscesses.

Sometimes, a vaccine made from one's own germs can be effective.

Local use of antibiotic ointment, and rigid hygienic care may prevent the recurrences of these infections.

You should use nonallergic products for this area of your body.

Can toy turtles be dangerous to children who play with them?

Mrs. J. R., Ohio

Dear Mrs. R.:

Many Public Health bulletins have warned that turtles infected with the salmonella bacteria can transmit the germs to children who handle them. Pet turtles should NOT be brought into the home.

Opening lead - king of diamonds.

Dear Mr. Becker: I have read your column for many, many years and must say I have learned a great deal from it. I'm not saying I always play well, but once in a while I manage to do something exceptionally good.

Take this hand, where I was South. You probably won't agree with my bidding, but I am by nature an optimist and could not resist the temptation to try to make four hearts despite West's notrump bid.

West doubled, of course, and teed off with the K-A and another diamond, at the same time setting back comfortably in his chair, confident of beating the contract with his two trump tricks.

I pitched a spade from dummy — this was a very important play — and successfully finessed the ten of spades. After cashing the ace of clubs and A-K of spades, on which I discarded my club loser, I ruffed a club.

Next I trumped the queen of diamonds with dummy's eight and ruffed the last club. By this time ten tricks had been played and I had only the A-J-10 of trumps left, while West had the K-Q-7.

I'm sure you can see what happened next. I led the jack of trumps and West took it with the queen. I can't say exactly what now took place, because just at that moment my wife woke me up and said it was time to get out of bed and go to work.

This was extremely frustrating, because I never did complete the endplay, but all the same I'm proud of having discarded a spade from dummy at trick three, even though I did it only in my sleep. Cordially yours, Constant Reader.

Family short 5 bedrooms, but Dad glad it's quints

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — James Baer says his house is "short five bedrooms" but he still calls the birth of quintuplets to his wife a "miracle and a blessing."

"I don't know what one baby costs, let alone five," Baer told newsmen Monday at Evanston Hospital, where the five-day-old quints were rushed shortly after their birth Friday in Highland Park Hospital.

The three girls and two boys born to his wife, Lynn, 26, were the Baers' first children. The 30-year-old Northbrook stockbroker confirmed reports that his wife had taken fertility drugs and added, "If we had it to do over again, we would have repeated everything we've done. My wife and I wanted a family more than anything in the world and God knows we finally succeeded...."

The infants, ranging in weight from 1 pound, 11 ounces to 2 pounds, 14 ounces, are "beyond the most difficult period" said Dr. Thomas Gardner, the neonatology specialist caring for them.

Gardner guessed the infants would spend two months in Evanston Hospital, a referral center for premature and high risk babies.

He said all five children were receiving milk via nasal and gastric tubes and their color was good.

"Their chances for survival are quite good," he said.

Mrs. Baer was reported in excellent condition in Highland Park Hospital.

Baer said he has had one "commercial offer" involving the infants and that he has not had the time to think about the added financial responsibilities.

Planned cut in Amtrak funds ripped

WASHINGTON (AP) — A fight is expected in Congress over administration proposals to sharply curtail federal funding for Amtrak, the national passenger train service.

Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., said proposed cuts, if approved by Congress, "would dismantle passenger service." Hartke is chairman of the Senate surface transit subcommittee.

"The American People," Hartke said, "are determined to have rail service, and not more cars. We need more — not fewer — dollars" for passenger train service.

Sources in the government said the Nixon administration is freezing $9.1 million in current appropriations for Amtrak and will propose sharp cuts in national intercity passenger-train service.
